BUY THAT HOME NOW

Do you realize that property values are advancing all over the country, and that every year you put off buying a home it is going to cost you that much more?

It's a fact, and that is why statistics show that one-third fewer working men own their homes now than did 10 years ago.

The big advance has not struck Kingston yet but it will soon. The man who puts it off for even a year will reduce his chances of ever owning a home.

Here's where YOU can get in. We have some good properties to offer.

WITH THE MARINERS

LAXITY ON THE PART OF INSPECTORS

In Not Making More Careful Examination of Steering Gear—Movements of Vessels Along the Harbor Front.

Local marine men cannot understand why a captain would have taken a steamer into the St. Lawrence rapids with a temporary repaired rudder, as was done in the case of the steamer Rapids Queen last week.

Toront. Bicyclist Sues Dr. Clarke. Dr. C. K. Clarke, superintendent of Toronto asylum, formerly of Kingston, is defendant in an action brought by A. E. Freeman, of Toronto, who wants $50 for a bicycle which Dr. Clarke's automobile demolished three weeks ago, on Queen street.

Judge Morson decided that both parties were negligent, but he would have to reserve judgment to ponder over a point of law. It seems that Dr. Clarke was travelling on the wrong side of the street, and going in the same direction.

When Dr. Clarke attempted to cross ahead of the bicycle on to University avenue, the collision occurred. The bicyclist was not hurt.

The Perils Of Kidney Disease. Experience proves that kidney troubles creep on unsuspected, little symptoms neglected, little pains overlooked. Headaches assigned to other causes in time bring on acute inflammation, lumbago, diabetes, Bright's disease. Peck's Kidney Pills cure all these troubles, but they prevent them much more easily. Be wise. Try them now. In boxes, 25c, at J. B. McLeod's drug store, corner King and Brock streets (Wade's old stand), and corner Princess and Montreal streets, money back if not satisfactory.

JEWELLED BADGE GIVEN

Mrs. E. T. Taylor By Daughter's of Empire.

The Daughters of the Empire, on Wednesday afternoon, presented their present, Mrs. E. T. Taylor, who is leaving for England, with a jewelled gold badge of the order, and expressed their great regret at losing so valuable a leader in their work.

The address was read by the secretary, and was as follows: "Madam Regent: I have been advised by the Kingston chapter of the Daughters of the Empire to ask your acceptance of this little pin. Though small, it is very heavily weighted. It voices our regret at parting with you, our regard for you, our admiration of your untiring efforts to forward the work to which our chapters are pledged, our warmest wishes for your welfare, and our hope that you will often wear the little token, and that it may always bring to your remembrance the many friends who are leaving behind in old Kingston. I wish to thank the members of the different chapters giving me the privilege of presenting you with this pin, which, I know, you will value, not for its worth, but for what it represents."

"On behalf of the Kingston chapters. (Signed) Amy E. Duff, first vice-regent; Jessie W. Hughes, secretary."

HOSPITAL TAG DAY.

The People Asked to Be Generous To-Morrow.

To-morrow is general hospital tag day, and when the people are met by hospital workers, they are to permit themselves to be tagged and to contribute whatever amount they wish to the hospital fund.

If there is any good work for which a tag day is to be permitted, it is for hospital work, which must appeal to every person, young and old, and when the little red tag in the form of a cross is tendered and contribution made, the contributor will have the satisfaction of knowing that he or she is not contributing merely to a church fair or in aid of a church raffle, but giving something that will be used in alleviating the pains and ills of the sick poor for whom hospitals are largely maintained.

The Kingston General Hospital is a credit to the city, but it has to struggle to maintain its efficiency. It has no wealthy patrons, but depends for its existence upon the generosity of the common people.

Tag day to-morrow should receive the most liberal response.

MUST KEEP THE PEACE.

Sharbot Lake Man Bound Over By Magistrate.

A Sharbot Lake man has been bound over to keep the peace, towards his wife and family. It appears that for some time he has been acting very unkindly, and his love for her has been the cause of all the trouble.

Matters came to a head the other day, in this little "House of Too Much Trouble," when the accused came home very drunk, and grabbing a hold of an axe, flourished it, and threatened to kill everyone in the place. He was placed under arrest, and now, if he does not behave as he should, a good stiff term is awaiting him.

His wife has been living in fear of him. When not drinking, the accused is a fine fellow, a good worker, and well able to take care of his family, but the old saying, "when the liquor is in, the wit is out," applies to him.

WHEAT TOOK A JUMP.

Went Up Thirteen Cents at Chicago.

Reports received at the office of James Richardson & Sons, on Thursday night, showed that in the last hour, on the wheat pit, the price of September wheat took a jump of thirteen cents, from $1.07 to $1.20. The report states that there was great excitement on the market. The advance resulted from the efforts of shorts to cover.

At Winnipeg, there was no change in price, the market closing at 94c. The price of wheat in Kingston has not yet taken a jump, although there is a chance that it will.

Methodist Appointments. The new pastor of the Portsmouth Methodist church, Jordan, Crowe, begins his work there next Sunday, conducting the services morning and evening. Mr. Crowe was a public school teacher before taking up the work of the ministry, and comes with a fine record of successful pastoral work in two former fields of labor. He will continue his studies at Queen's University, along with his duties at Portsmouth. A. W. Stewart, Lanark, Ont., entering upon his duties there about the middle of October.

THE HALLS OF QUEEN'S

STUDENTS TO ENTER RIFLE COMPETITION.

More Written Examinations to Be Held Before Christmas Vacation—Professor in Elocution and Oratory Introduced.

By Our Queen's Correspondent. At the rifle competition to be conducted at the Barricaded ranges by the City Rifle Association on Thanksgiving day, Queen's will be represented. The science men who have taken the initiative in this direction have experienced a three weeks' thorough drill at both long and short range shooting while encamped at Godfrey.

All who have had the privilege of catching a glimpse at the frontispiece, which will adorn Queen's Journal during the coming session pronounce it to be a splendid work of art and much credit is reflected on the two student designers, Messrs. Bow and Kennedy, who have performed their work admirably. No student can afford to be without the Journal this year; it will undoubtedly be far in advance of anything that has yet been produced. Then, too, each one should realize the responsibility assumed that is his in university life and should lend his loyal support to an institution which focuses such an important factor in the development of the Queen's spirit, as does the Journal. The first issue will be circulated in the course of a few weeks. Subscribe early and advance the good cause.

On Thursday afternoon, Principal Gordon introduced to the English classes, Prof. McNeil, M.A., a graduate of Harvard University, with an enviable reputation. He will conduct lectures in honor English, oratory and elocution.

The students' orchestra held its first practice this afternoon. The old arts familiar figure round the corridors of Queen's, will, for the present, discontinue his work here. He intends taking up educational work in Toronto.

A group of misguided science fresh-coming students about the old arts mathematics lecture room were made the object of some decidedly cruel comment. "How green and fresh they look in this old world." "Alas and alack! Strayed from their homes a melancholy train."

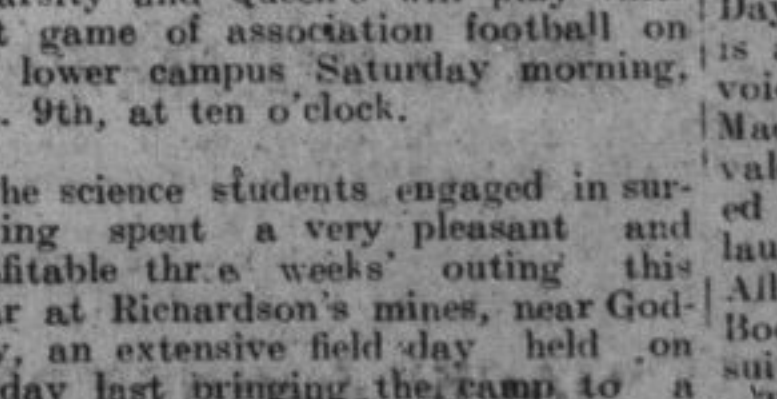

Varsity and Queen's will play their first game of association football on the lower campus Saturday morning, Oct. 9th, at ten o'clock.

The science students engaged in surveying spent a very pleasant and profitable three weeks' outing this year at Richardson's mines, near Godfrey, an extensive field day held on Friday last bringing the camp to a happy termination. L. Wright was the winner of the silver trophy in the rifle competition.

It is understood that it is the intention of the university authorities to conduct as far as possible a series of Christmas examinations, which will have a decided influence on the spring results. This scheme has been conducted with much satisfaction in several of the departments. Twenty-five marks are allowed for this examination and if one hundred per cent. is obtained by the student he is only required to secure fifteen marks "out of seventy-five in the spring in order to secure pass standing."

GRAND OPERA HOUSE.

DeWolf Hopper Greeted By a Full House.

On Thursday evening, Kingston the-atre-goers went to the Grand in great numbers to welcome the return of an old favorite, DeWolf Hopper, in "A Matinee Idol," a song comedy in three acts. The large audience was given a performance that made it laugh long and loud. "A Matinee Idol" is a very tuneful moral, excellently staged and the characters exquisitely costumed. There is just enough plot to keep things coming fast, with songs and laughter interspersed. The play hinges on Alfred Grimes, a former actor and matinee idol, a role played as only Mr. Hopper can play it.

"Mrs. Burton" was played by Miss Harriet Burt, who delighted local audiences in "The Time, the Place and the Girl." These two were once in love with one another, and happen to meet near a judge's seminary, where the three acts take place, all on the outside of a large ladies' college.

Mr. Hopper needs no notice, to those who have seen him once—they know because they always go to see him again. Suffice it to say that on the many different occasions on which he has played here, he never had a part so well suited, or out of which he made so much. As he himself said in a little speech, he appears with white man's clothing, and not in the tights of some bum king.

He is ably supported by Miss Ethel Dayly, as "Lucy Gray," Miss Dayly is a dainty little actress, with perfect voice and stage presence. George Mack, as "Jimmy Grant," Griffin's valet, was very fine indeed and helped materially in the bringing out of laughter. George F. Moore, as "Dick Allen," Lucy's sweetheart, and George Bockers, as "Dr. Allen," were all well suited to their parts.

The music was all of the finest, composed by Silvio Hein. The choruses were superb, well costumed, composed of pretty girls, who could sing, dance, and who possessed a good stage appearance. The different numbers were heartily enjoyed, some receiving three and four calls. After the second act, Mr. Hopper was forced to come before the curtain and make a little speech. He said he was very glad to be back here again, as he always liked to play in Kingston.

Among the best musical numbers were, "Wouldn't It Make You Laugh?" "I Am Looking for a Husband," "Nonsense," by Mr. Hopper; "Little Lady in the Moon," Miss Davey, and "One and One Make Two," sung by Mr. Hopper and school girls.

"Havana," Matinee and Night. George Edwards' Gaiety theatre, London, new musical play, "Havana," will be the feature here on Saturday, October 2nd, matinee and night, when this tuneful opera will be presented for the first time out of New York. All of the scenes—there are three acts in the comedy—take place in Havana, Cuba. At the rise of the curtain a rebellion is just ripening with the result that the yacht of J. DePoyester Jackson, an American millionaire, is mistaken for a filibustering vessel, and the boatman, Samuel Nix, who is the chief comedian of the play, is mistaken for a sympathizer and immediately pressed into the dangerous undertaking. Nix is very anxious to escape the vigilant eye of his wife, whom he does not love, but luckily for him, however, the woman turns up at the moment when his life hangs in the balance for he is arrested as a conspirator against the government and sentenced to be shot. The law declares that a widow may pronounce her husband dead if at the end of seven years' desertion he does not return. The last minute of the seven years is up a few minutes before the execution of death is to be carried out, and in this way the exile saves the life of the man the law has already pronounced dead. They are an unusually large number of players used to interpret the most interesting story. The production was staged by "Ned" Wayburn and James T. Powers, the comedian, adapted the book from the English, which is sufficient proof that "Havana" is one of the most amusing musical plays seen in this country for many seasons.
