

Tips For The Farmers

BY UNCLE JOSH.

One thing the farmer may make up his mind to is the fact that it never pays to conceal disease, either on his own farm or that of some one else. It is true that there is a very decided disinclination—amounting in cases practically to an obsession—to "snitch" on a neighbor who is in trouble. Here, however, the farmer makes the gravest sort of a mistake. If hog cholera or some other deadly infectious disease, such as anthrax, for instance, breaks out on his neighbor's acres, the kindest thing he can do for that neighbor is to wire or telephone the inspector at once. Not only is this the kindest and best and most neighborly act he can perform for his neighbor, but it is a measure of self-protection which he owes himself and his family. No man can, within his own resources, combat an outbreak of virulent disease like hog cholera. When foot-and-mouth broke out in the United States, the entire resources of the nation were concentrated on stamping it out in the shortest possible time. In Britain, it was the same. Nothing was left undone that money or men could accomplish to rid the affected districts of the scourge as quickly as might be. We want no infectious diseases of animals in Canada. The veterinary department of the dominion, under Dr. J. G. Ruthford, is admirably equipped to proceed to measures of eradication that eradicate. Concomitant of such an outbreak is really a felony.—Canadian Farm.

Considerable excitement has been caused in London township by the work of sheep raisers. Cecil Langford, of the 15th concession, has lost ten in the last week, and four others are sick. It was found that someone had mixed Paris green with salt and sprinkled it in the field where the sheep were kept. Mr. Langford recently had a valuable coat docked just as he was ready to take it to the fair for exhibition. The police are investigating.

The Trade Bulletin reports that 4,511 cattle were exported from Montreal for the week ending the 18th, as compared with 3,313 for the same week a year ago.

Value Of Skim Milk.

A well-known breeder of Guernseys in Wisconsin, when asked how he reckoned the value of skim milk, answered as follows:

If fed to young pigs less than 200 pounds weight when live pork is worth $3 per hundred, 1 count skim milk worth 30c, a hundred pounds. If fed to grade Guernsey heifer calves 1 count, it worth from 50c. to 60c. a hundred. That is, I can sell the heifers at ten months of age and make the milk net me that per hundred. If fed to registered calves it is certainly worth from one to two dollars per hundred pounds for 1, know of no other feed that will make up for a lack of skim milk in securing a profitable growth on a calf. The only trouble I ever had with skim milk was a lack of it. But the way farmers usually feed it and handle it convinces me that they really know but little of its value.—Hoard's Dairyman.

Orchard And Garden.

A bruised apple is a spoiled apple. Fruit that goes to waste is money dropped through a knothole.

'Tis too late to set strawberry plants in the north, but currants, gooseberries and blackberries may be planted now if you match them well.

If the strawberry bed isn't "clean as a whistle" when it goes into winter quarters this fall, you won't whistle very loudly over your berries next June.

Pickling apples: It is best not to pick winter fruit during very warm days. Do the work before 10 o'clock in the morning, or wait until a cooler day. More hints: Never pick fruit while it is wet, nor pack it while it is warm. Some careful growers pick their orchards more than once, gathering the fruit as soon as it is well colored, leaving the poorly colored and immature fruits until they have become well-colored. Pick apples with the stems on. Keep the sun

A Dying Woman Rescued Through the Timely Use of DR. HAMILTON'S PILLS.

"My doctor told me I had only six weeks to live—that nothing human could help me, but to-day I am hearty and well, because I took a long treatment with Dr. Hamilton's Pills—they saved my life."

Confirming her declaration, Mrs. Jamieson says: "I had from childhood been a sufferer from biliousness and liver complaint. I suffered excessively from wind and could not eat my food without feeling ill afterwards. Sometimes I was so bad I couldn't stand up straight for the pain. The wind settled in my stomach, chest and sides, and always caused blinding headaches. At times I seemed one mass of aches and pains—I became rheumatic because my blood was so poor. The benefit I received from the first box of Dr. Hamilton's Pills encouraged me and I continued their use, three to five pills a week, for several months and was brought to the most perfect condition of health."

LOOKS 'TIL TION VOTE IS TO BE TAKEN IN VILLAGE OF NEWBORO.

Three Young Men Nearly Drowned—Foolishly Removed the Plug of the Boat—One Swam to Shore For Help.

Newboro, Oct. 7.—A meeting of the village council was held on Monday evening. Rev. G. E. Wood, pastor of the Methodist church was present and presented a petition signed by forty-eight persons asking that a vote on the local option by-law be presented in January. As only thirty-five names were necessary, a vote will be taken on the liquor traffic for a livelihood, there is little hope of the by-law passing. The tax rate for the current year was placed at twenty mills and Edward Wright was appointed tax collector.

J. R. Carnwith of the Union Bank staff, attending the funeral of his mother at Easton's Corner, returned on Monday.

Three young men of this place, Messrs. Michael, Murray, Harold Bawden and Irvin Lyons, while boating on Newboro lake on Friday afternoon, nearly figured as star actors in a triple drowning accident. Removing the plug in the bottom of the boat, they were unable to replace it and were obliged to up anchor and cling to it. Lyons pluckily swam through the cold waters to shore and ran to the village for help. Jno. Hazlette rushed to the rescue with a launch and none too soon conveyed the nearly perished young men back to the village. The wise guy that rocks the boat is not in it with the man that tries to bail out the boat in the middle of the lake by pulling out the plug.

The entire community was shocked on Friday morning to learn of the death of Norman Ripley, which occurred, at the home of his uncle, Stephen Ripley, about two miles from here, early Friday morning at the early age of thirty-three years. Deceased had been in failing health for a long time, and it was feared that he would never recover, yet his death was unexpected by his large number of friends. Mr. Ripley received his education in the schools here and at Gananoque. Receiving his teacher's certificate, he taught school for a number of years and was very successful in his chosen vocation. He was well read, highly intelligent, deeply moral and of a kind affable disposition. He made close friends easily and a large circle of friends deeply mourn his untimely death. In religion he was a Catholic, and received the last rites of his church at the hands of Rev. Fr. McKiernan, Elgin. His funeral to Elgin on Monday, was attended by over seventy-five carriages.

Roy K. Hillie left this morning for Chicago, where he will complete his studies in dentistry at the Northwestern university.

No one knows better than those who have used Carter's Little Liver Pills what relief they have given when taken for dyspepsia, dizziness, pain in the side, constipation and disordered stomach.

A middle-aged woman once told us that her husband had never spoken a cross word to her. Later we discovered that she'd never had a husband. The snob is never the creation of good culture.

Hot Water On A Fire.

Washington Herald.

"Queer things nappen at fires," said Louis K. Jordan, of Cleveland. "The other day the lace curtains caught on fire on the East Side home and there was some panic while the fire lasted. Everybody called for the cook out in the kitchen to hustle in with a dishpan or two of water. But she didn't arrive on the scene until somebody had pulled down the curtains and trampled out the flames.

"Why didn't you hurry?" they asked her reproachfully.

"Hurry," she repeated. "Wasn't I hurryin' as fast as I could. I had hot water in the dish pan when you hollered at me and I had to throw out two and get some cold water. You didn't want me to come in and throw hot water on the fire and make it worse, did you?"

A Force For Economy.

It was an ingenious husband who, according to a writer in the New York Sun, sent his wife shopping in a taxicab. A friend who happened to see him say good-bye to her from the curb remarked on his apparent extravagance.

"It's economy, really," said the husband. "Whenever she is in a store, she'll be worried to death because the taxicab is eating up money all the time, and so she won't stay long enough to spend half as much as she would if she went on foot or on a street car."
