A BEAUTIFUL BRIDE

CARRIED OFF BY GROOM FROM CARLETON PLACE.

The Bride and Her Maids Made a Lovely Picture—Mrs. McCann's Home Brilliant With Lights and Flowers For Wedding.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. R. McCann, Queen street, was very brilliant on Tuesday night, the occasion being the wedding of their only daughter, Miss Jessie McCann, to Austin Leslie Gillies, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. Gillies, Carleton Place. Archdeacon Macmorine, rector of St. James' church, performed the ceremony, assisted by Rev. James Rollins, of London. The marriage was performed under an arch of green, thickly studded with yellow and white flowers, and the hall, drawing-room, and dining-room were lavishly adorned with greenery and blooms.

The tall and lovely bride, who was given away by her father, wore a princess gown of ivory satin duchesse, with court train. The corsage was a mass of pearl, seed pearls being sewn into a beautiful and intricate pattern. There was also a quantity of old rose point used in the garniture, and pearls were hung and sewn upon the soft satin sleeves. The bridal bouquet was of white roses and the tulle veil was caught to the wealth of dark, fluffy hair with orange blossoms. A picture and a beautiful picture indeed she was.

Of maize satin, en princess, with sweeping train, and trimmed with gold and chenille braid and chiffon, and gold buckles catching the light of the sleeves; were the bridesmaid's gowns, and in them the bride's attendant, Miss Elsie Gillies, looked charming. The cousin, tall and graceful, with wavy, dusky hair, and the sister-in-law-to-be, a fair little maid with a shining golden head, made a contrast which was most effective. The bridesmaid's gifts, from the groom, were heavy bracelets of gold, delicate and richly chased, and their bouquets yellow roses, tied with streamers of chiffon and yellow satin ribbon.

The groom was supported by Richard S. Smith, of La Pique, Que. At the wedding supper those entitled to sit at the bride's table found their places by dainty little place cards, Cupid sitting upon two united hearts and looking very happy and pleased with his work, and the floral decorations were lavish and artistic.

Mr. and Mrs. Gillies have left for the south, the length of their honeymoon depending entirely on how soon they get the honeymoon for a night of the home faces and the home land.

AT THE POLICE COURT

DRUNK IS ACCUSED OF STEALING BICYCLE.

Wheel Disappeared From in Front of King Street Store, Was Recovered By Constable Craig—A Boy Was Fined For Disorderly Conduct.

Although William Harrison was only charged with drunkenness, in the police court, this morning, he will have a more serious charge to face, that of theft, when he appears on Saturday, the magistrate having remanded him to jail until that time. He is accused of stealing a bicycle from a young man named "Harry" Fleming, who is employed as a clerk in Leahy's grocery store, on King street.

About six o'clock on Tuesday Fleming left his wheel out in front of the store and when he went to get it a short time afterwards found that it had disappeared. He was at first of the opinion that someone had been playing a joke on him, but as the wheel did not show up he decided to notify the police.

Constable Craig got busy on the case, and was not very long finding trace of the missing wheel. He heard about a party who had bought a wheel during the evening and the purchaser was identified by Fleming. The man who purchased the wheel said that he had secured it from a man for the sum of one dollar. Upon being questioned he said that the man was under the influence of liquor.

During the evening Harrison was placed under arrest by Constable Naylor on a charge of being drunk, and upon information given the police the charge of theft was lodged against Harrison. The bicycle was taken to the police station and this morning was handed over to Fleming.

Harrison appears to be a stranger in the city. He was not asked to plead to the charge of drunkenness, but at the request of the chief of police was remanded until Saturday. Considerable time was taken up by the court in the hearing of another case. The proprietor of a shop on Wellington street had a lad up for being disorderly, and annoying him, on Sunday morning last. The shopkeeper was also charged with ill-treating another boy, in having struck him on the legs with a whip. The lad was fined $5 and costs, and the shop keeper was taxed $1 and costs, but the magistrate pointed out that a great many people, had they been in his position, would have perhaps been more severe on the lad. The youngster claimed that he was struck on the legs and suffered severe bruises. This was not true, as occurred on Sunday, but the magistrate examined the boy's leg but could find nothing but a mere scratch, and stated that had he been severely injured the marks would not have disappeared in so short a time.

WIND BLEW HARD

And Carried Off Gas Buoys—Vessel Tied Up By Snow Storm.

It was very rough, last night, both on land and on the water. The wind blew so hard that it carried away the gas buoy at the Myles' shoal, and also carried off the penitentiary light. The latter came in near the waterworks wharf, but the other went down the river, or as one marine man stated, "cleared for river ports, without a pilot." It is some time since the wind has been so strong that it carried off the lights. The waves were mountain high, as a result of the high wind, and all vessels in port did not venture out.

The steamer Mapleton, which cleared from Richardson's elevator, is now in shelter at Four Mile Point.

The steamer Rosemount and barge Hamilton, grain laders, from Fort William, for the Montreal Transportation company, were held up at Port Dalhousie, yesterday, by a heavy gale, and snow storm.

The steamer Regina passed down. The tug Wood and barge Columbian arrived from Bedford Mills, with a cargo of wood, for R. Crawford.

Swift's Steamer City of Ottawa, from Montreal to Fort William; steamer Bickerdike, due to-night, from Fort William to Montreal; steamer Aletha, from bay points.

M.T. Co.: Tug Bronson, from Montreal, three light barges, cleared for Montreal, with three grain barges; steamer Stormont due to-night, from Sydney, loaded with rails, for Fort William; steamer Glenmount is at Sydney, loading rails for Fort William, on her last trip of the season.

The barge St. Louis is at the government dry dock, and the steamer Bothnia will go on next.

The schooner Katie Eccles went into Davis' dry dock for further repairs. The steamer Bothnia is in the government dry dock.

The schooner Kate Eccles is in Davis' dry dock. A vessel has been windbound at Nine Mile Point for two days. The steamer Lloyd S. Porter, from Erie, with coal, is at the waterworks wharf.

It is said that Messrs. Collier and Parks, of Picton, will put the steamer Salabury on the Cove-Napanee route next season.

Redskins and Smugglers.

A redskin drama and a smuggling drama are the top-liners at the Bijou theatre to-day and to-morrow, and each is at the top of its class. "Comate, of the Black Hills," is the story of the beautiful daughter of Chief Thundercloud, of the Sioux nation, who left the wigwams of her tribe to follow the fortunes of a cowboy. It is done by the same actors, and is produced "The Mended Lute," a play which made a sensation at the Bijou a few weeks ago. The acting and scenery are especially fine. The second is "The Smugglers of New York," or "The Mystery of the Sleeper Trunk." This exciting drama is produced by the Kalem company, the same which was recently engaged in making pictures in Fort Henry in Kingston. The harbor and wharves of New York are used as a background, which lends an especial interest to this production. Both are fine pictures and should not be missed. J. D. Bankier sings.

It Felt The Same.

J. L. Whiting, K.C., was examining a small boy, in police court, this morning. The boy claimed that the accused struck him on the legs with a raw-hide whip.

"How do you know it was a raw-hide whip?" asked Mr. Whiting. "Because it felt just like a raw-hide," was the youngster's reply.

"But how did you know?" again asked Mr. Whiting. "Because I have been whipped with a raw-hide whip at school, and it felt just the same," replied the lad, with a broad smile.

CLEAR OF THE OFFICERS.

The Police Have Been Called to Ottawa.

Ottawa, Oct. 13.—The Dominion police, searching for the Pickanock safe crackers, were recalled this afternoon. There are rumors galore from Arnprior, Almonte, Pakenham, etc., but so far the celebrated trio have kept clear of the officers of the law. S. McLellan, Ottawa, was hit by the street car twice within twenty-four hours. The first struck him on Monday and he went out too soon and was struck with one again, yesterday. Now he lies in the Water Street hospital with a fib and his cheek bone broken, but he will recover.

May Kill The Grapes.

St. Catharines, Ont., Oct. 13.—Fruit growers in this district state that little damage has been done as yet by the cold snap and the snow fall which, in some parts of the peninsula, amounted to two inches. The cold was not severe enough to injure the grapes, but it is feared that to-night, if the cold continues, heavy frost might ruin the heavy crop still on the vines.

Will Not Play.

Ottawa, Oct. 13.—Word reached here, at noon, that Westminster, B.C., will not accept the Montreal challenge for the Minto cup, as it is too late in the season to play. Montreal asked for games between October 25th and November 1st.

CITY FATHER SUMMONED.

Must Answer to Charge of Violation of By-Law.

The presence of Ald. Graham will be required at to-morrow's session of the police court. The chairman of the board of works, has been summoned to answer to a charge of violating one of the city by-laws.

Ald. Graham recently tore down some old buildings on Barris street, near Brock, and has erected a row of fine houses. It is claimed that he has violated a by-law in that he has obstructed the sidewalk, by having steps erected which project on to the sidewalk. A. B. Cunningham will appear as counsel for Ald. Graham, when the case is called in police court.

Mr. Cunningham, when asked by the Whig, to-day, about the case, said that there were many cases of a similar character all over the city, and that it was rather a hardship. In Toronto, just this week, he had noticed that in different parts of the city there were similar cases, but that there had been no prosecution. In the case of these new houses, Ald. Graham had taken down buildings which were an eyesore, and placed good buildings in their place, and it did not appear fair that a citizen should be haled to court for so small a matter.

The case promises to be an interesting one.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Movements Of The People—What They Are Saying And Doing.

John Stansbury, Jr., is holidaying in Detroit. He was present at the big game there on Tuesday. J. Copeland, of Bowmanville, organizer for the Woodmen of the World, is in the city.

Miss Ada Ressever, Kingston, is visiting Mrs. James Warham, Holloway street, Belleville.

Edward Froberger, business manager, is in the city, to-day, making arrangements for the appearance at the Grand, on Wednesday, October 20th, of Mme. Blanche Marchesi, interpreter of song.

Rev. Dr. McFavish's address was a rare treat and another opportunity will likely be afforded of hearing him again early in the New Year," said the Brockville Times, in referring to his address in the First Presbyterian church there on Monday night.

NINE ADDITIONAL BOXES

For Letters and Parcels to Be Erected.

Postmaster Stewart has secured four additional letter boxes and five parcel boxes to be placed at the following street corners:

New letter boxes—Corner of Rideau and Bay streets; corner Princess and Concession streets; corner Princess and Regent streets; corner Princess and Macdonnell streets.

New parcel boxes—Corner University and Stuart streets; corner Princess and University; corner Division and Pine; corner Charles and Montreal; corner Rideau and Catarqui.

When these boxes are in place, there will be a total of sixty-one letter and twenty parcel boxes throughout the city. Postmaster Stewart is looking well after the needs of the citizens.

Street Collection Tenders.

Tenders are being asked for the collection of Kingston's mail from the corner boxes for a period of four years. Charles Quinn holds the contract at present, for a period of three months. Tenders are to be in by November 26th.
