

AID NATIONALISTS

TWO IRISH PARTIES UNITE THEIR FORCES.

Imperial Home Rule Association and Reform Association to Act Together.

Dublin, Oct. 16.—A new development may shortly be expected in Irish politics, marking another step towards the definite establishment of that Center party which is a cherished project of Lord MacDonnell's. This is the fusion of the Imperial Home Rule Association with the Irish Reform Association.

The latter body, it will be remembered, grew out of the association of moderate landlords which resulted possible the 1903 land conference and the Wyndham land act. Its leading spirits were Lord Dunsany and other landed gentry, who, the land question once out of the way, would be glad to play that prominent part in Irish politics hitherto reserved for the Unionists. This body coined the word "devolution," and proposed, as a solution of the Irish question, the grant of administrative, without legislative, home rule. The Irish Council bill of 1907 represented the outcome of its labors.

The Imperial Home Rule Association, on the other hand, was mainly composed of business men, who logically went the whole length of legislative as well as administrative autonomy for Ireland, but who had a strong objection to being compromised by the separatist association which clung to the orthodox Irish party.

There have been several conferences between the two parties, in some of which Lord MacDonnell took an active part. The approaching fusion will take place under his auspices. A new name will be chosen for the joint body, which will avoid some of the unpopular connotations which the two existing titles have managed to acquire. The programme of the new body will be based on that of the Imperial Home Rule Association rather than that of the Irish Reform Association—the latter being discredited since the failure of the bill of 1907.

Co-operation, if not actual alliance, with the Irish party will thus, it is anticipated, become easy. Even should this prove impossible, the next liberal government, with the house of lords muzzled, will be greatly strengthened in attempting a solution of the Irish problem by the existence of this Center party.

Neither of the two bodies which are about to be merged was at any time large, but they have attracted attention and flourished and attracted attention in a quiet way of proportion to their numbers, perhaps because the public suspected something behind them, some concealed force directing or at least facilitating their movements. Their educative propaganda among Irish Unionists has been highly valuable. Though they have gained but few actual converts their existence has shaken Unionist self-confidence and has diminished the solidity of the Irish Unionist party.

On the other side they have made more decisive steps towards the permeation of the official Nationalist

FOOD FOR DOGS IN POLAR SEAS--THE WALRUS

This episode represents an incident of Dr. Cook's expedition in an early stage, when he was with the associate who financed the expedition, John R. Bradley, who gave his name to the ship. They were here only half way through the polar seas. Mr. Bradley and Dr. Cook may be seen on the right. The walrus is evidently a young one as no tusks appear in the earlier stages of its life. The flesh is eaten by Eskimos as well as by their dogs. It is too tough for the European or American explorer.

party. William O'Brien failed to win toleration for the Irish Reform Association, but since his retirement the adoption of the treasurer of the Imperial Home Rule Association, with the public approval and support of John Dillon, as the official Nationalist candidate for county Dublin (south), marks a new orientation in Nationalist politics, and a distinct step towards an alliance between the Irish party and the new moderate elements.

ACCIDENTS GALORE.

Prima-Donna Injures Leg—Sings on Litter.

Milan, Oct. 16.—An exciting chapter of accidents marked the concluding performance at the opera house here. Miss Eliza Bland, a prima donna, was hurrying to the theatre, when she fell down and severely sprained her ankle. Throughout the evening she had to be wheeled about the stage on a litter in such fashion that only the upper half of her figure was visible to the public as she sang her part. Meanwhile attendants crowded below the screen were busy bathing and massaging the foot to ease the atrocious pain.

Signor Barren, the tenor, hobbled about groaning with pain, and the first bass, Signor Birino, while taking air in the afternoon, had the misfortune to slip into a ditch and strain the muscles of his knee. He seized every opportunity of retiring to the wing to give vent to his feelings. A fire threatened to destroy the scenery, while a thunderstorm raging outside extinguished the electric light.

CONSIDERED THAT POINT.

Jury Knew Better Than Judge Himself.

Chicago, Record-Herald.—In Illinois there is an old law on the statute books to the effect that in criminal cases the jury is "judge of the law as well as of the facts." Though not often quoted, since the advent of a lawyer with a desperate case makes use of it. In one case the judge instructed the jury that it was to judge of the law as well as the facts, but added that it was not to judge of the law unless it was fully satisfied that it knew more law than the judge. An outrageous verdict was brought in, contrary to all instructions of the court, who felt called upon to rebuke the jury. At last one old farmer arose. "Judge," said he, "would you judge the law as well as the facts?" "Certainly," was the response; "but I told you not to judge the law unless you were clearly satisfied that you knew the law better than I did." "Well, judge," answered the farmer, as he shifted his quid, "we considered that point."

CABINET MINISTER ROBBED.

Valuables and Even Furniture Stolen From Car.

Rome, Oct. 16.—Not even cabinet ministers are exempt from the exasperating robberies on the Italian railways, which are now most frequent than ever. Signor Orlando, minister of justice, was just about to start on his return journey to the capital from Desenzano, on Lake Garda, when it was discovered that his state saloon car had been ransacked by thieves, besides carrying off all the detachable furniture of the car, had gone through the minister's baggage, making a careful selection of his valuables.

Another eminent victim is Cardinal Satolli, whose magnificent episcopal ring, valued at $7,500, has been stolen from a railway carriage. "Catspaw" rubber heels will shorten distances for you by making the step safe, sure and springy. Try a pair. Any shoe dealer or repairer.

AUSTRIAN GOVERNMENT HAS RADIUM FOR SALE.

Precious Mineral to Be Put on Market and Realize About $2,400,000 Per Ounce.

Vienna, Oct. 16.—A certain amount of the 154 grains of radium chloride (equivalent to fifteen and one-half grains of pure radium), which represents the output of eighteen months from the works at St. Joachimsthal, in Bohemia, is to be put on the market by the Austrian government. The Viennese hospitals and scientific institutions will first be supplied free of cost, and the rest will be offered for sale at the price of $75,000 a gramme (fifteen and two-fifths grains).

The precious store, the largest quantity of radium that exists in one mass in the world, is at present in a burglar-proof safe at St. Joachimsthal, guarded day and night by armed watchmen. For conveyance to Vienna the radium will be packed in a lead capsule, and a number of responsible officials will have charge of the tiny parcel.

Dr. Jungman, the Viennese specialist for skin diseases, tells me that many marvelous cures have been effected in the hospitals here by means of radium. At the lupus hospital certain forms of cancer have, it is declared, been cured. The most disgusting marks on the skin are removed, leaving not the slightest trace.

A lesson in the great care that must be exercised when dealing with radium was recently given a Vienna doctor. He was carrying a sixty-fifth part of a grain of radium in his waistcoat pocket. Before very long he found that the rays given off by it had dug a hole in his skin.
