MAN STRUCK BY CAR
JOSEPH COUPER SEVERELY INJURED.

Struck in the Face and Knocked Senseless—Removed to General Hospital—A Broken Nose Was the Result.

Joseph Couper, a well-known character around town, had a very narrow escape from death, on Thursday evening, about 6:45 o'clock, and owes his life to an act of Providence. He was down around the corner of Clarence and Ontario streets, and in some manner, no one knows just how, he got foul of street car No. 7, in charge of Motorman Alexander and Conductor Velney. The car was coming along at a good rate of speed, and the man walked or stumbled in front of it. The only blow he received was on the face, fair and square on the nose, but it was sufficient to knock him to the ground senseless. He was picked up and carried into the nearby cab stand, and a doctor summoned.

W. F. Nickle and H. C. Nickle were also notified and were soon down at the stand. They summoned Corbett's ambulance, and the injured man was removed to the general hospital, where Dr. Gardiner awaited him. Upon examination it was found that no very serious damage was done, other than a broken nasal organ, which for some days will be about three times its normal size.

People who were around say that it was certainly a miracle that the man escaped with his life.

END OF ENCROACHMENTS.
Amended By-Law Will Prevent Further Trouble.

Ald. C. J. Graham's concrete terrace steps above the corner of Brock and Barrie streets, will likely be the last encroachments that will be made on the street lines, for the additions to the by-law by the city solicitor will block any further utilizing of city property for private building purposes. Whether Ald. Graham's step encroachments will be removed will depend upon the civic officials, who do not wish being accused by some people of persecuting the board of works chairman.

In Ottawa, some years ago, the city council passed a resolution ordering all encroachments on city property to be removed. In Kingston, such an order would affect fully 500 property owners. Some whole building fronts would have to come down. On Princess street, for instance, a number of stores encroach on the street line, and some encroach most glaringly. These, it is held, would have to be treated just the same as encroaching steps. The amended by-law, requiring a permit to be first secured from the city engineer, before any walk or steps from a building to the street line are constructed, will end all chances of further encroachments.

INJURED IN PRACTICE.
Frank O'Connor Broke His Collar Bone.

On Thursday afternoon, while practicing for Queen's III against the seniors, Frank O'Connor, one of the half-backs, received very serious injuries. He went to tackle Elliott, and missing, came down heavily on his shoulder, fracturing his left collar bone, badly. He was at once removed to the general hospital, where the wounded shoulder was looked after. Frank will be out of the game for the season, now, and his loss will be keenly felt on the college team, as he was one of the mainstays and has played half for some years. His friends were very sorry to hear of his accident and hope for a speedy recovery.

Sprained His Ankle.
S. Rutledge, a student at Queen's, met with a painful accident, on Wednesday night, when he fell and sprained his ankle. With a number of others from the university, he was out for a practice run, when he stumbled and fell. He will be laid up for a couple of weeks.

Staley and his fine orchestra took charge of things and soon the crowd were in the whirls of the dance, which was kept up until an early hour. Dainty refreshments were served during the evening. The guests voted the affair one of the best in the history of the club.

NO NEED TO EXPEND MUCH MONEY ON STREET CAR TRACK

When Paving is Done—Present Rails Will Suffice—Egress By-Law Improved By Adding a Clause Regarding Aisles.

At the board of works meeting, yesterday afternoon, Ald. Tove raised a few questions as to road paving. He said that at a meeting of the special committee appointed by the board to consider paving, his object in moving that the first streets to be paved be along the line of the street railway from the corner of Princess and Barrie to the G.T.R. station at the corner of Ontario and Johnson, was so that Princess street and those other important business blocks should be blocked only once. He considered it better to complete the most difficult of the work first. Then he had moved at the same meeting that the cement bed to be placed under the street railway tracks be paid for out of the general taxes, and not be charged to the property owners along the streets. On Wednesday he was surprised to see in the newspaper that the street railway company expected to have to expend $8,000 to $10,000 in new rails. He hadn't understood this at the road paving committee's meeting when that matter was taken up, and asked the city engineer for a statement on the matter.

Ald. Graham said that he understood the engineer to say that the present rails would suffice on the paved streets by cutting off the ends and rebreasting them, the whole expense to be between $2,000 and $3,000.

The city engineer said that it certainly wouldn't be necessary to lay new rails with Kingston's traffic.

Ald. Kent—"Who'll pay for the new ties?"

The city engineer—"The company would do that."

Continuing, the engineer said that the chairman and himself had interviewed H. W. Richardson, president of the street railway company, on Wednesday. He was not prepared to make any proposition to the city regarding paving until the railway proposition was settled.

Ald. Graham stated that the paving committee was not prepared to report yet. It was waiting on a report from the canvasser who was in vacation property owners.

The city engineer said that the canvasser had been well received. The majority of the non-resident property owners were in favor of paving.

In reply to Ald. Kent the engineer said that the $2,000 or $3,000 that would need to be spent by the street railway company would be for the rails and for rebreasting the joints of the rails. The company's representatives stated a year ago that they would pay for needed improvements to the rails. They would not pay for the shifting of the tracks, however.

The paving committee, Ald. Graham said, would meet next week. If necessary a special meeting of the board of works would be called to consider the paving question.

The city engineer recommended that the egress by-law be amended with respect to the location of aisles, which the present by-law does not properly provide for. A theatre could be built with one wide aisle and twenty seats on either side of it, and no side aisle. Some other cities would not allow more than six or seven seats on either side of an aisle.

Ald. Hoag wanted to know if such a change as suggested by the engineer would be operative. Would the company, for instance, comply with it as they were now seated?

The engineer said that the changes could be made to apply only to new buildings or to old ones that might be re-seated.

On motion of Ald. Given's the following addition to the by-law suggested by the engineer was adopted:

"All seats on the main floor of the auditorium shall not be less than thirty-two inches from back to back, measured in a horizontal direction, and no seat shall have more than six chairs intervening between it and an aisle on either side. All seats excepting those contained in the boxes shall be firmly secured to the floor."

The board of health recommended the construction of a sewer on Upper Pine street. Ald. Kent asked if this sewer would empty into the Division street sewer. The city engineer said it would. Then Ald. Kent declared that this matter should be further inquired into. The Division street sewer enters into the Matthews street sewer already a regular cess pool was formed. The addition of new sewage would not help matters.

The city engineer stated that in order to properly drain Russell and Division streets it would cost from $20,000 to $25,000 to build a sewer to the harbor.

Ald. Kent said the matter should be looked into anyway, and his motion to refer the Pine street sewer question back to the board of health with the request that it first consider the Division and Russell streets drain age outlets was carried.

On the recommendation of the board of health it was decided to ask council to authorize the construction of a sewer on Wellington street, near Gore street.

The question was raised as to employing cheaper labor on sewer excavation, but the engineer said that it was cheaper to engage men of the walk gangs at $1.60 a day that to hire inferior laborers at $1.25 a day.

In attendance at the meeting were Ald. Graham (chairman), Given, Hoag, Kent, Hartly and Tove.

COMING TO THE GRAND.
A Good Travesty on Thanksgiving Day.

Laugh hunters need look no further than the Grand on Thanksgiving day, matinee and night, according to Joe Weber's company in the burlesque on "The Merry Widow and the Devil." There is never any let-up to the energy and good-natured enthusiasm of the Weber players, and on this, their first visit, they have material which matches their skill and talent. These Weber burlesques are constructed with the sole desire to entertain theatre-goers. All the original music of "The Merry Widow," by Franz Lehár, has been retained in this satire.

"The Wishing Ring."
For years, while playing in musical comedy, Miss Marguerite Clark nursed the desire to appear in the legitimate drama. Last summer, while a co-star in "The Beauty Spot," at the Herald Square Theatre, New York, she suddenly left this production to play Maude Adams' part in a big revival of "Peter Pan" in a stock company in St. Louis. Miss Clark more than made good. They followed a number of dramatic bills, produced by the same stock company, in which Miss Clark played the leading roles. This fact, doubtless, more than any other, induced the management to star her in "The Wishing Ring," a new farce-comedy by Owen Davis, which, with Miss Clark in the leading role, will be seen here at the Grand on Wednesday, October 27th.
