How About the Future?

Too many persons disregard it by neglecting present opportunities. Because they have plenty for to-day, and possibly for a few years to come, they miss chances they have to become independent. Do you realize that there is an opportunity to secure future independence in good investments in Kingston real estate?

Others are getting themselves "well fixed" every year in this way. Many who started with very few dollars have kept turning their capital over until now they are rated among the wealthy men of the community. These ought to interest
