CELEBRATING A WEDDING,
But Were Very Noisy and Police Came on Scene.

About ten o'clock, on Sunday night, people who happened to be passing along in front of a Chinese laundry in the west end of the city, were very much surprised to hear singing and laughter from within. The police got word of the affair, and in a very short time a couple of bluecoats were on the scene. All sorts of rumors were afloat, one that the Celestials were making merry in an opium "joint."

The police investigated, however, and found that people living in apartments over the laundry, were responsible for all the noise. A young English couple, who were recently married, rented the rooms from the Chinaman, and they were celebrating their marriage, with a few of their friends.

AWAY GOES DYSPEPSIA, HEARTBURN, STOMACH GAS AND OTHER MISERY.

Relief in five minutes with a little Diapepsin.

As there is often some one in your family who suffers an attack of Indigestion, or some form of Stomach trouble, why don't you keep some Diapepsin in the house handy?

This harmless blessing will digest anything you eat without the slightest discomfort, and overcome a sour, gassy Stomach five minutes after.

Tell your pharmacist to let you read the formula plainly printed on these 50-cent cases of Pape's Diapepsin, then you will readily see why it makes Indigestion, Sour Stomach, Heartburn and other distress go in five minutes and relieves at once such miseries as Belching of Gas, Eructations of sour undigested food, Nausea, Headaches, Dizziness, Constipation and other Stomach disorders.

Some folks have tried so long to find relief from Indigestion and Dyspepsia or an out-of-order stomach with the common every-day cures advertised that they have about made up their minds that they have something else wrong, or believe there is a case of Nervousness, Gastritis, Catarrh of the Stomach or Cancer.

This, no doubt, is a serious mistake. Your real trouble is, what you eat does not digest; instead, it ferments and sours, turns to acid, Gas and Stomach poison, which putrefy in the digestive tract, and intestines, and, besides, poison the breath with nauseous odors.

A hearty appetite, with thorough digestion, and without the slightest discomfort or misery of the Stomach, is waiting for you as soon as you decide to try Pape's Diapepsin.

Considerable indignation is felt, to-day, throughout college halls concerning the actions of a number of students whose conception of a Halloween celebration is obviously infantile. They are evidently a class whose supreme object, in coming to college is "to paint the town," and as a result a number of city pavements and some of the college buildings were on Saturday night, to say the least, artistically decorated. Such vandalism is a case with which the court should deal strenuously.

At Chicago, James A. Patten won some $1,000,000 richer through a wild rise in American and English cotton markets. He is long several hundred thousand bales.

OUT IN SYMPATHY.

Over the Cut in One of Employee's Contract.

At nine o'clock on Monday morning the employees of Wormwith's piano factory, numbering about one hundred, laid down their tools and instruments and walked out on strike. The disagreement arose over a cut in wages in one of the departments.

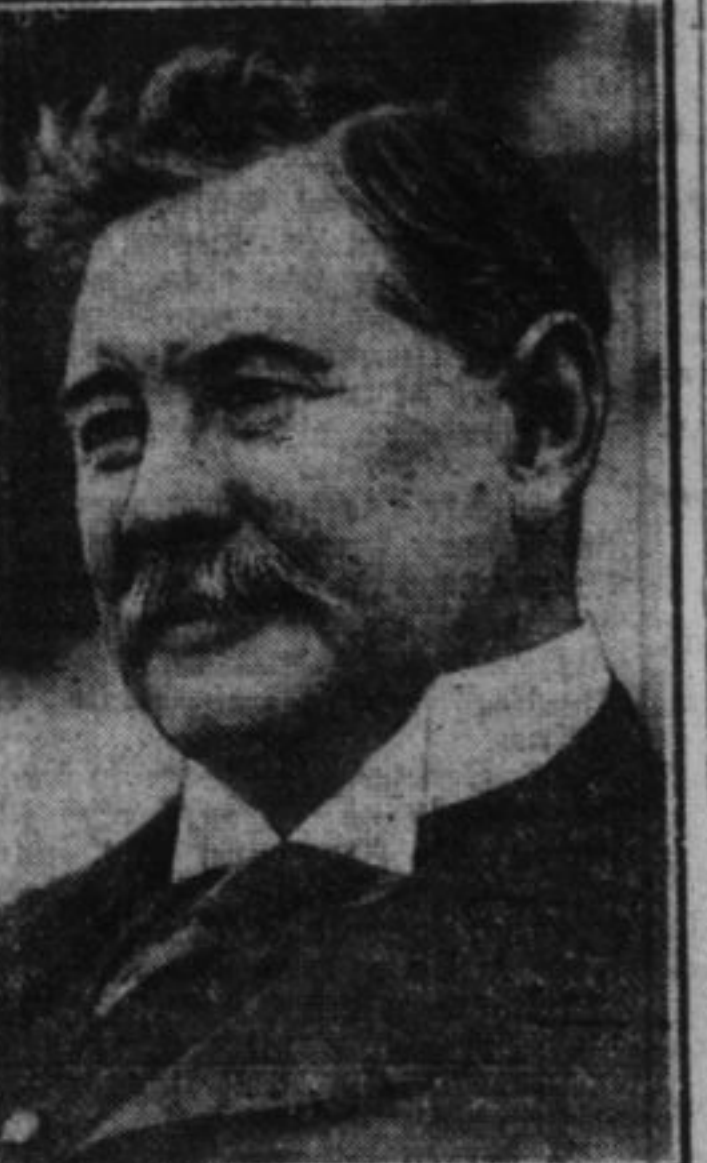

Mr. Wormwith was seen by the Whig shortly after the men left, and refused an interview, saying he had nothing to give out.

At the factory everything is done by piecework, and different men have contracts for different parts. Charles Crozier has the contract for making the sounding boards, and employs about ten men. This morning when the men went to work, the contractor was notified that his wages had been cut.

This news was not received very kindly, as Mr. Crozier had been receiving the same price for some time, and did not consider the cut just. He refused to accept it, and left, and in a few moments the entire factory was deserted, as the other employees went out in sympathy with the contractor. None of the men would say anything about the occurrence, merely saying that they were taking a holiday, and it would come out all right.

The strike caused quite a stir around the lower part of the town, as the men gathered on the corner to discuss the occurrence, and quite a crowd gathered to find out what the trouble was. The men said it was not a strike, as they were demanding nothing from their employers, and they were up for their rights and wanted nothing more than what was coming to them.

No meeting has been called to consider the matter, but one will likely be held before to-morrow, when the contractors will meet the directors of the company.

The Late Mrs. Attwood.

The funeral of the late Mrs. H. Attwood, wife of H. Attwood, city buildings, took place at 2:30 o'clock, Monday afternoon. Deceased was a native of Wadhurst, Sussex, England, and came to this country in 1859, and resided in Kingston ever since. She leaves a husband, five sons and five daughters to mourn her loss: Frederick, of Toronto; William, of Winnipeg; Charles, of Kingston; Harry and Rowland, at home; Mrs. George Lewis, of Millhaven; Mrs. W. H. Emms and Dora, Montreal; Mrs. Floyd Miller, Bigelow, N.Y., and Hattie, at home. She also left two sisters in England. Deceased was a patient sufferer for months. She was highly respected by all who knew her, as shown by the large number of floral tributes which were sent to the bereaved home.

Great Cowboy Play.

Cowboys riding, bucking broncos, roping steers and doing all kinds of horseback stunts, are features of the play, "A Cowboy Millionaire," at the Bijou to-day and to-morrow. The foreman of the Bar X ranch falls heir to seven million dollars, and goes to New York to marry and settle down. Becoming tired of society, he wires the "outfit" at the Bar X to come to New York and sends a special train to bring them. They arrive with horses and cowboy dress, and with a cowboy band, and began to "shoot up" New York—finally ending in a theatre, where they side with the heroine and proceed to shoot up the villain. There are two other comedies, both of which are first class. Illustrated song by J. Douglas Bankier.

CORE OF CHRISTIANITY IS WHAT THE PEOPLE SHOULD SEEK.

Sermon in Cooke's Church By Rev. J. Bruce Wallace—The Same Preacher in Queen Street Methodist Church Last Evening.

It was a deeply interested audience that listened to Rev. J. Bruce Wallace, of Litchworth, England, on Sunday morning in Cooke's church. In introducing him to the congregation, Dr. MacTavish said: "The world honors the men who accomplish great things, who dream great dreams and then succeed in making their dreams realities. We have with us this morning a man of that type, and we are pleased that his first public appearance in this dominion should be in this pulpit."

Mr. Wallace did not speak on his work in Litchworth, but delivered instead a most helpful and illuminating sermon on Acts x, 38: "God anointed Jesus of Nazareth with the Holy Ghost and with power."

The preacher asked the audience to try to get at the core of Christianity. In order to do that it would be necessary to consider how the Christian movement originated. How did it originate? It was preceded by a great ethical revival under the preaching of John the Baptist. As a boy, John was probably greatly impressed with the temple and the services therein, and he said that when he became a man he would be a priest, as his father, Zecharias, had been. But when he became a man he had not the priestly temperament therefore he left the temple, and took up his abode as a hermit in the wilderness. Those who knew him as a boy shook their heads and declared that his conduct was enough to make his father's hair turn grey. But John came forth eventually with a great conviction. He saw that values had to be re-estimated. At his suggestion people went into the Jordan and pledged themselves to seek and find a new heart and life. But John had a premonition that another and greater one would come, and in due time Jesus came. He identified Himself with the last and least. But the thought of assuming their trials and sins did not crush Him, for he felt that God was saving them through Him. This is the core of the Christian movement, which originated in that hour when God anointed Jesus at the river Jordan and declared Him to be His own Son in whom He was well pleased.

Mr. Wallace spoke to a large audience in Queen street Methodist church and vigorously proclaimed the Christian "socialism and communistic ideals. He pointed out the growth in knowledge of God through the ages until now the conception is widespread that business, pleasure society, must glorify God, that everything must be done in His name and as His guests. Then mankind would be brotherly in character and helpful and selfless, being wholly unknown. He set up standards of Christian ethics that have not yet been attained by many. The church choir in good force sang well. Miss Hinckley's solos were gems.

Spoke At Opera House.

Three hundred men attended the mass meeting, held by the Y.M.C.A. on Sunday afternoon, in the opera house, and listened to an interesting address, delivered by Rev. J. Bruce Wallace, formerly pastor of Mansfield House Congregational Mission, in East London. The speaker gave an account of his work carried on there, and another special feature of the meeting was the singing by the Y.M.C.A. male quartette and chorus. This was the second of a series of meetings to be held by the Y.M.C.A. in the opera house during the winter season. The secretary, R. B. Nelles, presided at the meeting. The members of the Y.M.C.A. are looking forward to a final series of meetings during the winter, and some able speakers have been secured.
