THE SPORT REVIEW

THREE RUGBY GAMES ON SATURDAY.

Cadets Have a Lead of One Point Over Varsity II—Can Queen's III Overcome the Lead of Varsity III?—Ottawa College Determined.

Queen's senior rugby team had a good workout on Wednesday afternoon, for their game with Ottawa College on Saturday. The Ottawa are now tail enders, but are going to try to put it over Queen's again and pull up a little. This, Queen's say, cannot possibly happen, and promise the easterners the greatest trimming of the season. With the exception of Elliott, Queen's are in fine condition, every man being fine and fit.

Cadets vs. Varsity II.
Cadets I will play their final game with Varsity II, on Saturday, at the R.M.C. grounds. The soldiers have a lead of one point, secured in Toronto on Saturday last, and hope to maintain it, although they will have a very hard struggle to do so. Varsity are a strong fourteen and have been doing some great work this season. Last year Cadets were defeated by Varsity II for the intermediate championship, and do not want the same thing to happen again, especially on their own grounds. Cadets will probably play the same team as they did in Toronto last Saturday.

Queen's III and Varsity III.
Queen's III and Varsity III are also scheduled to play on Saturday, and will probably meet at the athletic grounds before the big game. Varsity have a lead of ten points, winning in Toronto last Saturday, 16 to 6. Queen's have been working hard and hope to overcome this lead, but will have to play pretty good rugby to do it.

Queen's Harriers Out.
On Wednesday evening, a number of Queen's harriers ran over the Y.M.C.A. five-mile course, and made a good showing. Cadet Watts' time is thirty minutes twenty-five seconds, and Lennox, the leader, in the "bunch" out last night, made it in thirty-one minutes fifteen seconds. This run was made as a trial to see what kind of a showing the team could make, and it was considered to be very good.

Sporting Notes.
Ottawa is willing to consider Cornwall as the place for playing off with Hamilton.

Dr. Sherriff will play left scrimmage on the Ottawa football team in its remaining games.

Winnipeg Victorias will challenge for the Sir Montague Allan cup for the amateur hockey championship, now held by Queen's.

Waterloo has a rink with a seating capacity of 2,400. There is great rivalry between Waterloo and Berlin in the Ontario Professional League.

Cornell has joined the Intercollegiate Hockey League of the United States. Harvard, Princeton, Yale, Dartmouth and Columbia are the other members.

Toronto Telegram: Williams, the great Ottawa half-back, had "Ben" Simpson somewhat faded during the first half. He out-punted "Ben," and was always right there at the psychological moment. The way he backed up his team mates and saved the situation time and again was really a wonderful exhibition.

Toronto Telegram: Those Williams are a great football family, and the fact that each generation carries a limp shows they are recognized as such in the innermost football circles. "Get the dangerous man" is still the secret of correct football, and it is more dangerous to be a star half-back than a captain in Canada's coming navy.

Cornwall is hot-foot after the probable saw-off between Hamilton and Ottawa in the Interprovincial Rugby Union. The new athletic grounds, with its magnificent covered grandstand, capable of seating 3,500 people, would be an ideal place for such a game, and the owners, the Cornwall A.A.A., are quite willing that their grounds should be used.

Kennedy, the half-back, who was injured in the game with Queen's in Montreal, a couple of weeks ago, was out with the McGill squad, yesterday afternoon and will probably fill a position in the back-field against Toronto Varsity on Saturday. Despite the fact that the team has defeated only Ottawa College this year, McGill is hopeful of taking a fall out of the college champions in the last game of the series.

Hugh Ritchie, the Toronto University scrummager, is not only a great defensive player, but is probably the best goal kicker in Canadian football. Last season he converted eighty-five per cent. of the touch-downs made by Varsity and this year he has already converted sixteen out of twenty-three, an exceptionally good record. Ritchie was a member of Casey Baldwin's famous 1905 team, Canadian champions.

Toronto Star: In the R.M.C.-Varsity II game a Varsity half-back about to be tackled while making an end run tried to pass the ball to the full-back over the head of the R.M.C. outside wing, who was between them. The throw was not quite high enough, and the wing player, in partially intercepting the pass, knocked the ball right back into the hands of the man who threw the ball, and he kept right on running for a good gain, probably the luckiest play he had ever participated in.

It is expected before the week is out arrangements will practically be completed for the amalgamation of the Cliffs and Ottawa II Hockey Clubs, two of the strongest amateur hockey organizations in the country, and that they will play in the Interprovincial Hockey Union this winter under the colors and name of the Ottawa Amateur Athletic Association. The meeting to complete the amalgamation has been called for Saturday night. This combination could place a team on the ice that would be quite close to Stanley cup calibre.

Havana. A friend who spent last winter in that island and who knows the game, assured me that the best Cuban teams equalled, if they did not surpass, the best teams in the United States, and he named two pitchers whom he considered superior to any in the National or the American Leagues. When I asked why some of these "phenoms" were not imported to the States he explained that it was because their color would not fade. There is a distinct proportion of negro blood in most of the good players, and though one never hears of the color line in the big leagues, it exists to such a degree that no manager even thinks of taking one back to the States. No man of the negro race can play in the National or American Leagues. You will not find that stated in the rules, but perhaps the case is all the stronger because of the unwritten policy that the players in the big leagues must be either all white or all black.

AT THE GRAND.

To-Night George Arliss in "Septimus."

George Arliss in "Septimus" will appear at the Grand to-night. "Septimus" is comedy, in the true use of the term, with a gentle, but powerful pull on heartstrings. Mr. Fiske has staged the play with the utmost fidelity to the Locke atmosphere, and has chosen his cast with the greatest care. The leading part in Mr. Arliss' support is taken by Emily Stevens, a cousin of Mrs. Fiske, and for several years a member of her company. Others in the company are Dorothy E. Rosmore, a great favorite on the Pacific coast; Florence Edney, late of the John Drew company; Cyril Young, who was with Hawtray in "The Message from Mars"; Jane Lothian and Henry Wenman, for many years in the support of Mr. Mansfield.

"Peck's Bad Boy."

"Peck's Bad Boy," a comedy on a high pinnacle of success, is the offering at the Grand on Saturday, November 13th, matinee and night. The comedy is under the personal direction of James F. Marron, who has spared neither pains nor expense to make this production eclipse all former efforts. He has secured a capable company of players. The comedy is combed by both the press and public to be without a rival. It is full of comedy situations and musical specialties, and the scenic embellishments and mechanical effects are of the best.
