The services, yesterday, were full of ubilance and enthusiasm. The day was glorious, the audiences large and generous, the music bright and inspiring. Very Rev. D. M. Gordon, D.D., principal of Queen's University, preached at eleven o'clock and from Psalm xevii, 1: "The Lord Reigneth, Let the Earth Rejoice." He gave a message of strength upon the abiding cause of all thanksgiving and rejoicing, whether as an individual, a church or a nation. The sovereignty of God was delightfully presented. In His keeping mankind found security and joy. He urged men to listen to His teaching and His leading.

In the evening the church was not large enough to hold the crowds that flocked to it. Rev. Dr. Cleaver, of Trinity church, Toronto, was the speaker and he delivered a vigorous and intensely interesting sermon from Zachariah iv, 6: "Not By Might, Nor By Power, But By My Spirit, Saith the Lord of Hosts." He vividly showed from the old and new testament that when the church trusted in armies, wealth, power, government, it sank and fell, but when the spirit of God was sought and obtained the mightiest forces fell before the smallest number of God's people.
