MAGNIFICENT PARADE OF QUEEN'S STUDENTS ON SATURDAY EVENING.

It was the Best Ever Held—Dr. Mandell's Address to Medical Students—Sermon in Convocation Hall.

By Our Queen's Correspondent.

The students' parade, on Saturday evening, was one of the biggest and best in the history of Queen's university. Principal Gordon, in his address to the students, when passing through the college grounds, stated that without doubt it was the most successful parade that had been conducted during his regime, and he heartily congratulated the young men associated with the splendid organization responsible for such brilliant results.

The faculty of medicine headed the procession and their realistic representation of the various phases of their profession indeed entitled them to a primary position, the hospital float conducted by year '11 being particularly good. The final year men, both of arts and medicine, drove in carriages.

The novel characters following in the van of year '11 arts and medicine created much merriment for the many spectators along the entire route of the parade. Year '12, medicine, drove in state. '12 arts were well organized and their various novelties characterized them as one of the features of the evening.

The float of education, representing the village school, evoked much applause. But perhaps it was a case where the best was reserved until the last, for science certainly spared no energy nor finances in an elaborate preparation. Among their various realistic floats perhaps that of the blacksmith shop, conducted by year '13, was pronounced as "the big nose." The freshmen year in both sciences and medicine were well organized and their costumes were decidedly becoming.

The parade from beginning to end was an incessant blaze of light and it was in the vicinity of Earl and Clergy streets, that an exceptionally brilliant display was made. A lattice of one of the houses in this neighborhood became ignited and a splendid opportunity was presented to add to the parade by the ringing in of an alarm of fire; several reels were soon on the scene, but already the blaze had been extinguished.

Other than this the parade was conducted without any special exciting incident and it will go down in history as one of the most brilliant and successful events in the history of the institution.

Rev. S. Cleaver, D.D., of Metropolitan church, Toronto, preached to a large audience in Convocation hall on Sunday afternoon. He chose his text from the gospel of St. John chapter i, verse 4: "I am the light of life."

The members of year '10, arts, after the parade on Saturday evening, spent a very enjoyable hour at the banqueting table. A. G. Dorland acted as toast-master.

Dr. D. E. Mandell delivered a very interesting address before the Aesculapian Society on Friday evening. He spoke on the importance of a careful and conscientious examination in the case of applicants for insurance.

DIED ON THE WAY HOME.

Very Sudden Call to Mrs. Alexander Robinson.

Mrs. Sophia Robinson, wife of Alexander Robinson, 414 Johnson street, died very suddenly on Mack street, Saturday night, about nine o'clock. Mrs. Robinson and her daughter were crossing Victoria Park, on their way home after buying the week's groceries, when Mrs. Robinson felt a weak spell coming on. She went with her daughter to the residence of J. H. Jennings, Mack street, and by the time she arrived there was very weak. Dr. Bergart was summoned, but before he arrived life had fled, death being due to a sudden attack of heart failure. James Reid's ambulance was summoned, and the remains were removed to the family residence, Johnson street.

The late Mrs. Robinson, whose maiden name was Sophia Juniac, was born in Portsmouth, fifty years ago, a daughter of the late Alexander Juniac. She had lived all her life in the city. Her death came as a great shock to her many friends. Besides her sorrowing husband, she is survived by seven sons, Archibald, Amos, Kenneth and Norman, at home in Sandford, in Rome, N.Y.; George, in Toronto; John, in Montreal, and three daughters, Miss Bertha, Miss Annie and Miss Gertrude, at home.

The deceased was a member of St. George's cathedral, and the funeral service will be conducted by Canon Starr, on Tuesday afternoon, at the family residence.

Y.M.C.A. BOYS CAPTURED.

Scouts Had a Fine Outing on Saturday.

Early on Saturday morning, a party, composed of R. Goodard, A. McBroome and E. Fleming, under Physical Director J. J. Thompson, left the Y.M.C.A. for Barrfield, and took up positions under cover. At 8.30, two more sections left the Y.M.C.A., under command of Messrs. Manhard and Nelles, and journeyed by van over to the rifle ranges, where companies were organized and the search began for the party under cover. Barrfield village, the fort and command were searched. The party in hiding had not allowed for the rear guard, as they were on their way to capture some of the party under the command of Mr. Nelles, they were surprised to be confronted by Mr. Manhard's rear guard, and captured.

The boys were all delighted with the outing, and voted it one of the best ever held. Another will be held shortly, if the weather permits.

At the residence of her son-in-law, Michael Costello, Belleville, on Thursday evening, Mrs. Thomas Critchley, a resident for the past half century, passed away after an illness due principally to her advanced years. She was aged eighty-four years.

Case Was Dismissed.

There was but one case before Magistrate Farrell, in police court, this morning, and it was dismissed. It was an adjourned case, in which a citizen was charged with a violation of the city-by-law, in having re-shingled a house, and not doing the work in accordance with the specifications set down.

Queen's Is After Games.

Queen's hockey team wants to have a week's outing in January, and offers to play Harvard at Boston, on January 3rd. Yale and Princeton will be asked for dates for the trip. This outing would give Queen's fine practice for the intercollegiate games. "Dinky" Campbell, the football trainer, will be retained for the hockey season.

Queen's Would Like It.

Queen's University authorities, it is stated, would like to get the large property on Union street, between Albert and Albert streets, for an athletic field. This property is owned by the Sisters of the Hotel Dieu, and has never been productive. It is assessed for $10,000, but is exempt. The ground is only a block from the university, and would make a grand athletic field, but might bring more money if sold for building lots.

"BLIND PIGS" RAID.

Special to the Whig.

Cobalt, Ont., Nov. 15.—A sensational raid of "blind pigs" was pulled off, last night, by Inspector Caldwell, under direction of the provincial license department. Twelve keepers were arrested and more are expected to be rounded up during the day. Raiders worked from midnight till six o'clock this morning.

The raid came as the result of the investigation of James Miller, private detective, from Toronto, who, in the course of two weeks, laid about forty informations.

FOR CANCER SEARCH.

Bequest in Will of Banker's Widow—Millions For Charity.

Frankfort-on-the-Main, Nov. 15.—The will of the late Mrs. Francis Speyer, widow of George Speyer, a partner in the banking house of Speyer & Co., of New York, London and Frankfort-on-the-Main, bequeaths between $8,000,000 and $10,000,000 to benevolent objects. The gifts include $1,000,000 to the Frankfort Academy of Social and Commercial Science and $1,000,000 for the furtherance of the research into the subject of cancer lupus.

A fund is set aside to be used in pensioning employees in the banks of Speyer & Co., in New York, London and Frankfort-on-the-Main.

Attended The Institute.

An address on "Canada" by the Hon. George P. Graham, minister of railways and canals, was the feature of the inaugural meeting of the Insurance Institute of Montreal, held at the Windsor hotel, Montreal, Saturday night.

Prof. Martin, of the Royal Military College, in a humorous speech, suggested that the government should establish a chair of actuarial work and research at McGill University. He demonstrated that the idea that insurance was gambling was not only an entirely erroneous one, but, on the other hand, that the real gambler was the man who did not insure, since he took all the risk himself.

Strange sights in Kingston. Sights resembling those described by Rider Haggard in She and King Solomon's Mines—sights rarely if ever equalled by any ever seen in the Bijou Theatre are on to-day and Tuesday, in the drama, "A Wild Man of the Rocky Mountains," or "The Witches' Cavern." This drama turns in the falling of a white lady into the hands of a wild man. Great, magnificent and stupendous are proper adjectives for this drama. It is accompanied by another first class production of the Biograph company, "A Workman's Wife" or "In the Watches of the Night."

Mrs. Mary O'Connor died in Rochester, on Monday, and her remains were sent to Belleville for burial. She was sixty-six years of age. Mrs. William Morrison, Belleville, is a daughter.

News of a strange phenomenon reached the experimental farm authorities here, to-day, from Comondora, South of Lake Nipissing. A farmer and his two sons were out hunting when, in cutting maple wood for fuel, it was noticed that the sap was running. The farmer owns a large sugar bush and decided to tap a number of trees, with the result that 100 gallons of fine syrup was made between October 26th and the first week of the present month.
