

GREAT PRIZE

An Hundred Thousand Dollars Are Offered.

FOR THE DISCOVERY

OF A CURE FOR THE WHITE PLAGUE.

Yale University Has the Prize to Give—It Will Lead to Much Research Work—The Prize is Open to Scientists and Physicians the World Over.

New York, Nov. 29.—A prize of $100,000 is awaiting the person who discovers a cure for tuberculosis.

Yale University is the custodian of this prize and the physicians attached to the Yale Medical School are to act as trustees. The trustees have invited many well-known physicians to become members of an advisory board whose duty it will be to pass on the merits of cures, submitted the result of the prize will be to encourage research work.

The physicians who have been invited to act on the advisory board are all well-known and are the leaders in their profession in the fight against tuberculosis. Among them are: Dr. E. L. Trudeau, of Saranac Lake; Dr. Simon Flexner, of the Rockefeller Institute; Dr. William H. Welch, of Johns Hopkins University; Dr. Lawrence F. Flick, of Philadelphia; and Dr. Herman Briggs, chief medical officer of the department of health in this city.

The donor of the prize wishes to remain unknown. He is an alumnus of Yale, and is supposed to be a New York man. He has gone to considerable trouble to keep his name from being known, for it was not announced at the meeting of the advisory board held in this city recently. He places few restrictions on his gift, and it is open to any scientist or physician the world over.

Man's Lip Bitten Off.

Smith's Falls, Nov. 29.—Robert Motherwell, a farmer of Bathurst, near here, met with a peculiar accident last week. He was about to water a horse, when, without the slightest warning, the animal caught him by the lower lip and in the twinkling of an eye bit it off. It took a great many stitches to close the wound, which is an exceedingly painful one. The animal had never displayed any signs of madness before.

Was Warmly Welcomed.

Paris, Nov. 29.—King Manuel of Portugal, yesterday, received an ovation from thousands of Parisians on the way to mass to the Church of St. Mary Magdalene. The king attended the horse races at the Autod track, with President Fallieres in the afternoon. In the evening he was present at a banquet at the Elysee palace.

LOVEMAKING IN CHAPEL.

Sensational Disclosures Made at Religious College.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 29.—Tales of kissing in the dark, and love-making in the chapel of North-Western College, at Naperville, and the sudden resignation of President H. J. Kieckhefer, head of the religious school, following the disclosures, have given church and social circles of the village a shock.

Himself, the professor of intellectual and moral philosophy, President Kieckhefer, who is the father of three girls and a boy, has been revered and loved in Naperville for a quarter of a century. As a result of the disclosures, North-Western College, with its three hundred students, of whom fifty are girls, is in rebellion and the Evangelical Association, which founded the school, is divided over the matter.

LAWYERS DEBARRED

Two Law Sharks Gobbled Up $100,000 Estate.

Ashland, Ohio, Nov. 29.—Former Common Pleas Court Judges R. M. Campbell and Henry C. McCray were disbarred from the practice of law in Ohio. A special tribunal composed of the common pleas judges of five neighboring counties found that the estate of the late Mary F. Freer, was wasted in litigation and exorbitant attorneys' fees, while in the courts presided over by Judges Campbell and McCray. The bulk of the estate, amounting to nearly $100,000, was to have been given to the Ashland County Children's Home, but when a settlement was effected, nothing was left.

A NOVEL TURN.

Montreal, Nov. 29.—A novel turn to Justice Cannon's Royal Commission of enquiry into Montreal's civic scandals is given by the demand to be made by the lawyers who conducted the active side of the investigation, that the city be held responsible for all the costs of the counsel engaged. The fee is $50 a day for each advocate and the total amounts to $25,000. A petition will be presented to Judge Cannon on Tuesday. The city will oppose it.

HIT THE WRONG MEN.

Gen. Voiland Fired at For Gen. Brun.

Paris, Nov. 29.—As General Voiland left his carriage, to enter the Hotel Continental to attend a banquet, yesterday, four revolver shots were fired at him; one struck him in the neck, and he fell striking his forehead on the curbstone, and receiving some injuries thereby. The man who did the firing was arrested after rough handling by the crowd. He proved to be Robin Endelsi, an Algerian. He carried two revolvers and a knife, and also a photograph of General Brun, minister of war, for whom it appears he had mistaken General Voiland. The latter's injuries are not serious, but the bullet narrowly missed severing the carotid artery. General Brun arrived at the hotel two or three minutes after the shooting ended. He was formerly secretary of the civil bureau at Bouaia, where 200 officers had been guilty of malversations and appear to have a grievance against the minister of war.

TO REVISE TARIFF.

Some of the Proposals to Be Made.

Washington, Nov. 29.—A partial revision of the Aldrich-Payne tariff act is to be attempted in a series of resolutions to be introduced by Representative Mann, of Illinois, one of the chief lieutenants of Speaker Cannon, in the House of Representatives. Mr. Mann's resolutions are designed, in part, as he expresses it, "to avert a tariff war with Canada," although one of them is general in its application. A joint resolution will postpone the application of the maximum tariff from April 1st, 1910, to January 1st, 1911. Another resolution will provide that the maximum tariff of the United States shall be held not to apply to woodpulp and printing paper imported from Canada or the provinces, in which woodpulp or printing paper is manufactured, shall not forbid or restrict or impose any import duty or export license fee on such woodpulp and printing paper.

ATTACKED IN CAGE.

Animal Trainer in a Desperate Fight With a Baboon.

Portland, Ore., Nov. 29.—Struggling for his life, Frederick Wilson, Brazil, Ind., a trainer employed by an animal show, fought desperately with a pink tailed baboon, that attacked him in the cage. The beast clutched Wilson's throat, but so long as the trainer could keep on his feet, he had the best of it. At length he fell exhausted from loss of blood and strain, and the animal gnawed at his legs. Employees rescued Wilson. He is in a serious condition.

Triple Murder Committed.

Frontenac, Kas., Nov. 29.—A lonely road a mile north of here was the scene of a triple murder and an assault on a woman. The dead are: Mr. and Mrs. William Bork, Germans, of Frontenac, and their son, who was two and one-half years old.

Mr. Bork presumably was killed while trying to defend his wife.

She had just returned from the cellar with some apples, when her grandmother, with whom she lived, noticed that she had a peculiar look. She asked if she was ill, and the girl replied: "Yes, take my hand," and immediately expired. She had been in the enjoyment of good health up to that moment.

TITTER AROSE

In Church When Rev. Mr. Sykes Told

WHAT ALDERMAN SAID

WHEN THE REDUCTION OF LICENSES WAS ASKED.

"Will You Leave Us Alone and Not Come Back Again?" the Alderman Asked—"Please Do Not Laugh" Said Mr. Sykes.

"One of the dear aldermen asked the temperance representatives at the recent meeting of the finance committee: 'If we grant you a reduction of licenses will you leave us alone, and not come back again?'"

The above was one of the remarks made by Rev. C. A. Sykes, in Sydenham Street Methodist church, on Sunday evening, when he chose as the subject of his discourse, "The People's Representatives in the City Council." A slight titter went around the congregation at the remark, but the preacher said: "Please do not laugh; he is one of your most brilliant men, not living a hundred years ago, but living and sitting in council to-day."

Mr. Sykes gave in plain language the history of the treatment accorded the league by the council and the finance committee. He said that over a year ago many people came to the ministers and the Social and Moral Reform League demanding that they make a move in the campaign against the liquor traffic. The league did make a move, circulated a petition, and presented it to council, which referred it to the finance committee, which reported back that at the present time the council could not afford to grant a reduction, and council backed up this report. The speaker went on to say that the revenue end was the only thing considered. All others were left out. "Why should the revenue be lessened?" asked Mr. Sykes. "The same council that would cut off the eight licenses, could raise the license fee of the others to make up the $2,000 that the liquor men could not speak against this at one of their strongest arguments is that to cut off a few will not lessen the sale of liquor. Then those who benefit can afford to pay more—and no one will be out a cent."

"Has the liquor traffic in Kingston become so well regulated that it does not need to be touched? The council says so. It says that the liquor men have made the business so respectable that it should be let entirely alone at the present time." Continuing, Mr. Sykes said that the raid of a year ago did not show it. "You can travel through any city in Canada and you won't find as magnificent an array of saloons as you will find surrounding our market square."

In closing his remarks, Mr. Sykes said: "Council say the people don't want a reduction, and we say let the people vote their opinion. That is what we want, but then they turned right about face, dropped the revenue question, and said there was not enough hotel accommodation in the city as it was, and they could not afford to reduce it." The speaker said to have hot and cold accommodation did not necessitate having a bar-room attached to the building.

WAS GIVEN A CHANCE.

Salvation Army Came to Rescue of William H. Wilkinson.

Adjutant Smith, of the local Salvation Army corps, was in police court, to-day, to offer a helping hand to William H. Wilkinson, arrested a week ago on a charge of vagrancy and remanded. The army has promised to give him a new start in life, and was given over into its charge. "You have spent many years of your life in confinement," said the magistrate to Wilkinson, "and I hope you will take advantage of this opportunity. You will find that you will have more real freedom, in living a straightforward life. I want to give you every chance. The Salvation Army has promised to take you under their wing and find employment for you, and I hope you will take advantage of this new start."

Patrick Brennan smiled and said he was from Ireland, when he was accused of being drunk. He was taxed $1 and costs for the Irish whiskey he consumed. It comes high, but they have to have it.

Poor Ventilation.

Complaint has again been made about the poor ventilation in some of the city churches. A Whig representative, who went to one of the churches yesterday, found the edifice very hot and uncomfortable. He noticed that there was not one window in the church open. This showed rather poor judgment on the part of the janitor. It was a very mild day, the furnace was giving out plenty of heat, and there was no reason why a window could not be left open.

Given A Farewell.

At the Salvation Army barracks, Sunday evening, a farewell was tendered to Mrs. Higgins and Mrs. Jenkins, who have been members of the corps for many years, the latter for a quarter of a century. They are leaving to take up their residence in Toronto. Mrs. Higgins was the leader of the Band of Hope, and the members of that body rendered a farewell song. Adjutant Smith was in charge of the service, at which there were many converts.

To-morrow will be the last day on which the citizens of Gananoque can pay their taxes at par. After that date two per cent. will be added.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

Dangers to Young Girls Again Emphasized.

Kingston, Nov. 29.—(To the Editor): The many warnings given to parents about permitting their children to parade the streets late in the evening, do not seem to have the least effect. Surely the terrible case of last week should have some effect upon neglectful parents to keep their children, especially their daughters, off the streets, after dark.

On Saturday night, at a quarter of ten o'clock, the writer was accosted by a little fellow, about eight years of age, who was all alone, and begged to be taken into a five-cent show, some of which places are not fit for any children. He has overheard young girls of twelve and fourteen years of age asking strangers for money to go into the shows. The result of such begging can easily be surmised, and some members of the Children's Aid Society are fully aware of some actual results. It's no use mincing matters. Only good plain talk will have any effect. Deviltry stalks the streets at night, but particularly Princess street.

It would be most interesting if members of the Children's Aid Society would make a canvass of Princess street some fine evening, and see how many young boys and girls are wandering about, and whether their parents permit them such freedom after dark.

"E.A." wrote, last week, regarding standards of morals for boys and girls, and blames the boys just as much. He's quite right in laying the blame, but he must know that history for centuries shows that the world demands a higher moral standard of woman than of men. Whether it's right is another thing, but it's a fact that it does.—DUM SPIRO SPEIRO.

Portsmouth Methodist Event.

A successful tea-meeting was held in the Methodist church last Thursday evening. Although the streets were not running there was a large city attendance. The chairman, Rev. C. J. L. Bates, gave an interesting and amusing account of life in Japan. Rev. Mr. Robinson, of Queen's, and Miss Toppan, of Wolfe Island, delighted the audience with their comic and dramatic selections. R. Pounder, who has been teaching in the west during the past summer, gave an account of western experiences. A vocal duet by Mr. and Mrs. Cayless was two choruses by the choir were well received. The accompaniments were played by Mr. Paul, the new organist in a manner which gives promise of good things for this church in the musical line. The success of the entertainment was largely the result of the able management of the pastor, Rev. Jordan Crowe, who was nobly assisted by the ladies of the congregation.

Stables Were Burned.

At 7:30 o'clock on Monday morning the firemen received a call from box No. 6, at the corner of Princess and Chatham streets. When the men arrived they found fire raging in the stables of L. Lesses. The fire was hottest in an old street car near the main store. The fire spread rapidly, making a total wreck of the car and its contents, and the firemen were forced to pull the wire sheeting of one side of the store to prevent the fire from entering. By nine o'clock the fire was out. Mr. Lesses is at a loss to know what started the fire. He was around the shed ten minutes before he discovered the blaze. The damage will be about $200 and is fully covered by insurance.

At the Salvation Army barracks, Sunday evening, a farewell was tendered to Mrs. Higgins and Mrs. Jenkins, who have been members of the corps for many years, the latter for a quarter of a century.
