A CHARGE OF FRAUD IN WHICH ARDEN PARTIES ARE INVOLVED.

Heard Before Justice Sutherland—The Defendants Say That Invoices Were Changed at Plaintiff's Request.

The regular non-jury sittings of the high court opened, Tuesday afternoon, before Justice Sutherland. After court was opened, J. McDonald Mowat, president of the Kingston Barristers' Association, congratulated his lordship on his first appearance in the city, saying in part that it was the bench, the bar and the public generally that benefited by Judge Sutherland's appointment.

In reply, his lordship said that it was a great satisfaction to him to hear words of encouragement and congratulation at every town and city he visited in the circuit. "I know how many distinguished men who have preceded me and are now on the bench," said Judge Sutherland, "and although I cannot hope to equal these men, I can try my best to follow in their wake."

The first case called was that of A. D. Coleman, Clancy, plaintiff, and R. Franklin Deltor and Percy Deltor, Arden, defendants. The plaintiff's claim was for several sums of money, overcharged him by the defendants, fraudulent mutilation of invoices and other documents, and for an account of $1,000 damage, injury to reputation and business. W. S. Herrington, K.C. Napanee, appeared for the plaintiff, and J. McE. Mowat for the defendants.

The plaintiff was first called, and told of renting a grist mill from the defendants for $300 a year, and as a matter of convenience the defendants ordered several carloads of produce for Clancy, for which he was to pay the invoice price. When the invoices were presented to him, he found they were badly mutilated and changed, but it was some time before he found that he was paying too much money, more than the produce cost. Many invoices and way bills were produced and were identified by the witness.

Witness said that when his statement of claim was served on Benjamin Deltor, the latter came to him, saying he was innocent of all the charges, but offered to make things right, would get all the invoices and would pay the difference. Witness said he refused a settlement. Witness said that a second time he and the Deltors went to see Mr. Herrington, but no settlement was reached. Witness said he lost money during his two years and finally had to give up the mill, as he was paying more for his goods than his competitors were selling for. He estimated his loss at $1,000.

Under cross-examination by Mr. Mowat witness said that he never told anyone that he was forced to pay Deltor a commission for buying his produce.

Mrs. Katharine Clancy, wife of the first witness, was next called by Mr. Herrington. Mrs. Clancy told of all the dealings her husband had with the Deltors, and how she and her husband were defrauded out of several sums of money by the defendants.

"What do you say as to Mr. Deltor's theory that he altered the invoices at your husband's suggestion?" asked Mr. Herrington.

"That is a positive falsehood," replied the witness, without the least hesitation.

Witness told the same story as her husband about the Deltors coming and trying to settle the case after they had received notice of claim. Mr. Herrington read evidence from the examination for discovery in which Percy Deltor stated that he altered the invoices and that any money Clancy was out went into his pocket. His father may have or may not have known anything about it, but would have been told had he asked. This examination for discovery was put in as evidence as well as the examination of Benjamin Deltor, in which he admitted that his son Percy had admitted altering some of the invoices. Mr. Deltor also said: "It was funny I did not see any of the money coming in and I could not see what he (Percy) would do with it." Mr. Herrington rested his case here.

Percy Deltor, one of the defendants, was first put in the box by Mr. Mowat. Witness denied positively tearing off the bottom of a certain invoice called exhibit 3. He told of the first agreement, renting the mill, and told about the $1,500 stock, for which Clancy never paid. Witness said that the ear of oats that had caused much time in previous evidence, was sold by his father to Clancy at fifty-one cents a bushel, the oats costing the Deltors forty-eight and a half cents, the difference being Deltor's profit for advancing the money.

Witness said: "I altered some of the invoices because Mr. Clancy asked me to do so. He could show his customers how much the grain cost him. When he paid us each down we charged him no commission on the money, but when we advanced the money and gave him time we charged him a commission, at rates made each time he wanted a car." Witness also denied ever refusing to give Clancy an invoice when he asked for it.

"Did you ever alter an invoice except at Mr. Clancy's request?" "No, sir, I never did. He always requested me to do it," replied the witness.

"Did Clancy understand he was paying you a commission?" "Yes, he thoroughly understood it," was the reply.

Under cross-examination, witness said that the former tenant of the mill had also entered an action against him for the same offence as Mr. Clancy now charged him with.

As a result of the accidental discharging of a thirty-two-calibre revolver, Harold, the fourteen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Finch, Oswego, N.Y., who was, it is said, examining the firearm, died within three hours, a bullet which was in the chamber of the revolver penetrating the little fellow's brain.

Nature's Remedy Tablets, in 25c, 50c and $1 boxes, are sold at Irons' drug store, uptown post office branch.

AT THE GRAND. To-Night, "The Smart Set" Will Be Presented.

The noted colored comedian, S. H. Dudley, whose fame as a funmaker extends across the entire continent, has one of the best roles of his career in the latest musical comedy, "The Smart Set," which the famous Smart Set company so ably presents at the Grand to-night. The comedy abounds in unctious humor, clever sarcasm, satire, real wit and novelty of superlative degree. It sparkles with effervescent activity and overflows with laugh-provoking situations. The musical numbers are of the jingling, catchy order. There is not a mediocre song among the fifteen offered, which is saying a good deal in this era of progressive, machine-made melody. Mr. Dudley will appear as "Raspberry Snow," a shiftless, me'er-do-well negro, who wants to shave the president of the United States. Unfortunately this ambition is never realized.

"The Return Of Eve," Montreal's chief magistrate praises "The Return Of Eve," which comes to the Grand on Wednesday, December 8th. The Montreal Herald had the following:

Recorder Weir was present at the performance of "The Return Of Eve" at the Princess Theatre, and expressed himself as greatly impressed and delighted with the play.

"It is a most refreshing bit of idealism," said his honor, "with immense practical significance; the scheme of the play is beautifully conceived and most artistically worked out. With so much about us that is meretricious, a play like this deserves all the support that lovers of fine things can extend. I advise every young man and woman to see 'The Return Of Eve,' without fail. The uplift and stimulus of it are splendid. Miss Galland as 'Eve' looks and acts as though she had stepped out of Shakespeare, while her support is of front-rank merit throughout. It is a good sign that the poetical drama courageously holding the mirror up to nature is still alive."

"The Battle," Direct from a prodigiously successful all season engagement at the Savoy theatre, New York, "The Battle," comes to the Grand on Thursday, December 9th.

"The Battle" is a story of the masses and the classes, with both sides fully represented. Usually the classes are contented to get the money and let the masses do the preaching, but Mr. Moffett, the author, has presented a new angle with his millionaire trust magnate, John J. Haggleton, played by Wilton Lackaye.

A Square Competition.

The Montreal Witness has just concluded a $10,000 contest and awarded prizes to many candidates throughout Eastern Canada. The first award, a $2,500 automobile was won by Miss Mabel Waters, Montreal. Four pianos, diamond jewelry, business college courses, and jewelry, were distributed and the whole awarded by competent judges. The circulation department has been largely augmented by the square competition indulged in.

HE WAS THE MURDERER

HE WAS ARRESTED AT WATERTOWN, N. Y.

Shot Rival Dead at Pulaski, N. Y.—Rivaler, it is Said, Admits He Did the Shooting.

Watertown, N.Y., Dec. 7.—George Eddy, wanted in connection with the murder of John Reid, at Pulaski, was arrested here. Eddy admitted that he committed the crime, and is confined in the county jail. Reid is a Canadian and came from Collingwood, Ont., where his parents and younger brothers and sisters live, about a year ago, first going to Utica. He was employed as a waiter for a while. He was shot dead at the entrance to a grocery store. It is understood jealousy prompted the shooting. Reid was only twenty-one years old.

SEEK COMPLETE DISMISSAL

Of the Original Anti-Boycott Injunction.

Washington, Dec. 7.—Before the supreme court of the United States, today, attorneys for the American Federation of Labor, will ask to have dismissed the original anti-boycott injunction, issued by Judge Gould, in the now famous Buck Stove and Range company case. Samuel Compers, John Mitchell and Frank Morrison, the officers of the federation, who were now under a contempt of court sentence for violating the injunction, are also parties to the appeal. The federation in its appeal, will argue that no injunction should have been issued in the first court, and asks for a complete dismissal. In legal parlance this is called a cross appeal.

A Proposition Fyled.

Boston, Mass., Dec. 7.—A proposition for state ownership of the Boston Holding company and the state control of the Boston and Maine railway, was filed, yesterday, by Herbert F. Keith, Washington, D.C., with the secretary of state, in the form of a petition to the incoming legislature.

LOST ON THE LAKES

SIXTY-TWO PERSONS PERISHED DURING SEASON.

Almost twice as many as last year—The Twenty-five Vesels Valued at Over a Million Dollars Were Wrecked.

Detroit, Dec. 7.—At twelve o'clock Tuesday night navigation on the great lakes for the year 1909 was officially closed. With the end of the season comes the reckoning. Twenty-five vessels, with a total tonnage of 30,146 and valued at $1,144,000, have been wrecked during the past season, and of those who operated these boats sixty-two have perished.

Chief among the causes of disaster has been fog. Twenty-four collisions are recorded, and at least fifty per cent of these were caused by fog. The greatest loss of life on any one vessel occurred when the steamer John B. Cowle was rammed and sunk by the steamer Isaac M. Scott, near Whitefish Point, in Lake Superior, on July 12th. Fourteen men were drowned. Other large losses of life were: Steamer Adella Shores, thirteen drowned; steamer Eberward, five drowned; tug Floss, seven drowned; barge George Hester, seven drowned; steamer George Stone, six drowned.

Last year's record was: Sixteen vessels lost, valued at $631,000, with a total tonnage of 26,250, total loss of life, 33.

TORTURED BY PILES.

Could Not Rest, Work or Play—Zam-Buk Brought Relief.

Mr. Julius Glacier, of Denbigh, Ont., says: "I was so tortured by piles that I could not get ease whether lying down, sitting, or standing. The ailment robbed me of strength, of appetite, and of all desire to live. I had suffered so long and so acutely that I came to think there was no ease for me, but one day I found out that I was wrong."

"I was told that Zam-Buk cured piles, and that this claim was altogether different to ordinary ointments, scores of which I had proved useless for so long a case as mine was. I got a supply of Zam-Buk, and began to use it regularly. Without going into unnecessary detail, in a few weeks I found myself cured. I owe my cure to Zam-Buk entirely, and I trust my experience will be the means of leading other sufferers to try this great herbal balm."

Nothing need be added to this plain, powerful testimony save one question—if you suffer like Mr. Glacier did, why not get relief from the same source as he did? Zam-Buk—as he truly says—is "something different" to the ordinary ointments and salves. It is a powerful combination of healing and soothing herbal essences. No mineral astringents or poisons; no impure animal fats. It is a proved cure for inflamed areas (as in piles), erysipelas, eczema, ulcers, sores, abscesses, cold cracks, chapped hands, burns, cuts, scalp sores, and all skin injuries and diseases. It is the most suitable balm for children's rashes. All Druggists and Stores at 50c. box, or post-free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price.

BERTHA GALLAND, In "The Return of Eve," at The Grand, on Wednesday, Dec. 8th.
