If You Could See Into the Future

If you could look ahead a few years and see the growth and expansion that they will bring to Kingston, and the consequent increase in value of real estate here, you would hasten to invest in Kingston property.

Far-sightedness, good judgment in estimating future developments—that's what is responsible for the immense fortunes many have realized from realty investments.

Every sign points to advancing values in Kingston Property here is selling lower now than it ever will again. If you want a safe, growing proposition, put your capital at work.

HELD AN "AT HOME"

FINE AFFAIR GIVEN BY TRIPLE LINK CLUB.

Which Marked Formal Opening of Hall at the Orpheum Theatre—Merry Crowd of Dancers on Floor Until Wee Sma' Hours.

An "at home," given by the members of the Triple Link Club, on Thursday evening, marked the formal opening of the dancing hall, at the Orpheum theatre, and the affair was a decided success, from every standpoint. There was a large attendance, a good floor, and a fine programme of music, and the members of the club have every reason to congratulate themselves on the result of their undertaking. One hundred and fifty people were present, and everyone spent a most delightful evening. Dancing was commenced shortly after nine o'clock, and it was two o'clock when the "Home, Sweet Home" waltz was played, and the merry crowd of dancers returned home tired, but very happy. The programme was all that could be desired, including both square and round dances. There were twenty-one numbers on the programme, and the orchestra was very liberal with their encores. Salsbury's orchestra furnished the music.

At midnight, dainty refreshments were served, after which the orchestra continued with the remainder of the programme. Frederick Bristow was master of ceremonies, and carried out his duties in an able manner. Members of the club were here, there, and all over, making everyone feel at home, and spared no means to make their guests happy.

Many complimentary remarks were heard about the new dancing hall. It provides ample accommodation for large gatherings, and should be well patronized during the dancing season. The hall has been fitted out with comfortable chairs, and is well lighted. Cloak rooms have been provided for both the ladies and gentlemen, and last night the best of service was rendered in the check-room. J. Paynter is president of the Triple Link Club, and W. Easton is the secretary.

PLACED UNDER ARREST.

Will Have to Stand Trial at Gananoque.

Constable "Harry" Wilson, of Kingston, and Constable Thompson, of Gananoque, on Friday afternoon, placed under arrest Henry Simms, aged thirty-five years. Simms has been living at Gananoque, although his home is at Napanee, and it is alleged that he secured the sum of $50 under false pretences from a man named Hill, a farm hand working near Gananoque. It is alleged that Simms secured the money under the pretence that he had a grocer's bill to pay. Hill found that the bill had not been paid, and also that Simms had left for Kingston. With Constable Thompson, Hill followed on his tracks, and the accused was located at Folger's ticket office, where he had purchased a ticket for Watertown. He also had purchased a new watch and overcoat, and had $28 in his possession. He was taken back to Gananoque during the afternoon to stand trial. The police are endeavoring to find out where he purchased the watch and overcoat.

COL. CROWE AN EYE-WITNESS

Of the Tragic Death in India of a Young Lady.

Lieut.-Col. Crowe, commandant of the Royal Military College, gave an interesting address before the Alliance Française on Thursday evening. He spoke concerning a trip he had made on the frontier of India as A.D.C. to one of the province governors in company with 600 men. He gave a vivid description of the country, the customs of the people, and their family life, the ceremonies at the court of the Rajah, and the encounters that occur with wild animals in travelling over the country. He told of one tragic incident he witnessed some years ago in India, when out with a party, wild monkeys rolled rocks down a steep hill and knocked the sister of Mrs. Blait (of the Royal Military College) and her pony down a precipice. The unfortunate young lady was killed by the fall.

Col. Crowe is a decided acquisition to the literary set in Kingston. He's an experienced as well as a cultured man.

IS STILL UNSOLVED.

No Trace of Burton Rapley Who Disappeared.

The mystery surrounding the disappearance of Burton Rapley, the traveller, is still unsolved. Chief Graham, of Napanee, was in the city today, and when asked stated that no clue whatever had been secured to his whereabouts.

A story was going the rounds to the effect that Rapley's mother knew of his whereabouts. This is untrue, as his mother has written the police stating that she knows nothing whatever of his whereabouts, and at the same time asking that every possible clue be followed up.

Wedding Bells.

The marriage of Miss Hazel Bell Sutherland, daughter of William Sutherland, Battersea, to Thomas Ambrose Patterson, Sunbury, took place Wednesday morning, Dec. 8th, at the Presbyterian church, Sunbury, which was prettily decorated for the occasion. The bride, who looked handsome, was prettily gowned in plain blue voile with all over lace robe and ribbon trimmings, with hat to match. Miss Ruby E. Patterson, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid, wearing a plum-colored costume with hat to match. Frederic Hanley, Battersea, was groomsmen. The choir sang as opening hymn, "The Voice that Breathed O'er Eden," and as a closing hymn "Oh Father, All-Creating."

Mr. and Mrs. Patterson left for Michigan on the Intercolonial Limited on a two weeks' honeymoon. The bride's going away gown was Alice blue with hat to match.

Death of Mrs. D. Therrett.

Mrs. Daniel Therrett passed peacefully away on Thursday morning at the residence of her sister, Mrs. C. S. Ennis, 269 Division street, after a long illness. The deceased, whose maiden name was Mary Jane Lyon, daughter of the late Daniel Lyon, was born in Storrington fifty-six years ago. She removed to the city after her marriage, and then went back to Storrington, where she lived for many years. She has been with her sister since her health began to fail. She was well known in the city and vicinity, and her death came as a shock to her friends. At the time of her death her husband was in New York, and he was at once notified of the sad event. Two married daughters and one son also survive. The deceased was a Methodist in religion. The funeral will be held on Saturday afternoon.

Good Bill At Orpheum.

The Orpheum theatre has a fine bill for the week-end, and there was a large audience in attendance Thursday evening. The Delmars do some clever acrobatic work, and Bhea is pleasing as a singing comedienne. The "A" quartette is delightful. The pictures are good. The same bill will be presented Friday and Saturday.

MENDELSSOHN'S MUSIC

AN EVENING WITH THE GREAT MASTER

Under the Auspices of the Y. W. C. A.—Mrs. E. J. McLelland Was in Charge—Her Sketch Was Illustrated By Selections.

"An Evening With Mendelssohn," under the auspices of the Young Women's Christian Association, attracted a good audience of music lovers to the Y.M.C.A. hall Thursday evening. The programme was in charge of Mrs. E. J. McLelland, A.G.C.M., life and works of the great master. His training in boyhood, his early triumphs, and his chief contributions to the world's music were finely described, and the value of his work, especially his simplicity and beauty were summed up with genuine appreciation and taste.

This sketch was interspersed with musical selections illustrating well-known compositions by Mendelssohn. Miss Daisy Chown gave an expressive rendering of his "Midsummer Night's Dream," arranged by Liszt. Mrs. McLelland told how the composer haunted by the high, pure notes of his ideal singer, Jenny Lind, produced the famous solo in the "Eljah." "Hear Ye, Israel," begins with P. Shostak, this solo was then sung with fine effect by Miss Hazel Massie. Mrs. McLelland herself illustrated the "Spring Song" on the piano, while Mrs. A. R. B. Williamson and Mrs. R. A. McLelland gave artistic renderings of the simplest and most difficult of the familiar "Songs Without Words."

The entire programme was marked by skillful arrangement and sympathetic execution, and Mrs. McLelland and those who aided her deserve the highest credit for the insight they gave the audience into the work of this great musical genius.

Prof. Robert Laird was in the chair, and a hearty vote of thanks was given to those who took part, on motion of Professor D. Ross and Miss Hattie Chown.

QUEEN'S RUGBY TEAM

Outlook is Bright For Next Year's Team.

It is understood that Patrick Moran, right half-back of Queen's senior Rugby team, will be appointed captain of the team next year. It is rumored that "Ken" Williams, McKay and Gallagher will again attend college and play on the team. It is also stated that Dennis Jordan may again manage the team. This would go to show that the outlook for Queen's senior team for next year is very bright.

SUCCESSFUL SALE

WAS HELD IN SYNOD HALL ON THURSDAY.

The Receipts Were About $200—The Tables Were in Charge of Noble Matrons and Pretty Maidens.

A highly successful sale, the results of which must have brought much gratification to the president, Mrs. D. Norton-Taylor, and her corps of loyal assistants, was held at the Churchwoman's Aid of St. George's cathedral in the Synod hall on Thursday. Miss E. Badley received the gate receipts, and these, with the gleanings from the various tables, amounted to well over $200.

The tea table, prettily with flowers and silver and lights, was in charge of Miss Annie Muckleston, Mrs. D. N. Noonan, Mrs. J. Twigg and Mrs. W. A. Sawyer, with Miss Ethelwyn Loucks, Miss Grace Hemming, Miss Elsie Pense and Miss Bessie Noonan to assist them.

At the work table, where the array of things useful and ornamental was soon swept up in to the hands of pleased buyers, were Mrs. E. J. Bidwell, Mrs. T. D. R. Homming, Mrs. John Carson, Mrs. A. Klugh, Mrs. B. R. Watson, Mrs. Noel Kent, Mrs. R. E. Burns, and Mrs. Thomas Mills.

Home-made delicacies of the most toothsome order were displayed for a brief time on a table suitably decorated in green, and then sold off by Mrs. James Higgins, Mrs. D. S. Robertson, Mrs. J. Hamilton, and Mrs. W. Macleod.

Mrs. R. E. Kent, Mrs. F. Brownfield, and Mrs. Alan Palmer were the vendors of the wares at the candy table, and their delicious sweetmeats went off "like hot cakes." The affair was unusually pleasant as well as financially successful.

Tea And Sale.

The tea and sale held by the Victorian Guild of Cooke's church on Thursday afternoon and evening was a fine affair. It was also a great success financially, as the sum of $50 was realized. The ladies had on hand a fine assortment of fancy goods, which met with a ready sale.

There was also an excellent musical programme, which included solos by Miss Grace Paul, recitations by Miss Root, Belleville; mandolin selections by Herbert Smith, solos by Miss Laidley, Mrs. Richards, R. H. Somerville, Jr., and Allan Lecomton. The gathering was held in the school room, and those who were in charge have reason to congratulate themselves on the success of the undertaking.
