If You Could See Into the Future

If you could look ahead a few years and see the growth and expansion that they will bring to Kingston, and the consequent increase in value of real estate here, you would hasten to invest in Kingston property.

Far-sightedness, good judgment in estimating future developments—that's what is responsible for the immense fortunes many have realized from realty investments.

Every sign points to advancing values in Kingston. Property here is selling lower now than it ever will again. If you want a safe, growing proposition, put your capital at work.

Told in Twilight

Mrs. R. W. Garrett's dance, in the city hall, on Wednesday, went far beyond in pleasure what the youngest and most hopeful guests expected. The floor, of course, is always perfect, and then the hostess had provided an orchestra which played most delightful music, the decorations and all the arrangements were perfect, and every one was in good spirits. Mrs. Garrett wore a handsome black lace gown, and Miss Mamma Garrett's frock was of pretty white lace, over satin, and Mrs. Garrett's visitor, Miss Kathleen Fisher, was in a pretty frock of pink satin. The orchestra was stationed just to the left, within the entrance door, and along the right wall, facing the lake, flags stretched, completely concealing the supper tables. Here the married people sat down at supper time, the young people having a buffet supper. The dais was turned into a drawing-room, where bridge's devotees played, looking down over the lovely moving picture upon the floor. The guests included Colonel and Mrs. J. H. V. Crowe, and Miss Helen Crowe, Colonel and Mrs. H. E. Bursall, Major and Mrs. Norman Stuart Leslie, Mr. and Mrs. Jeremy Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Macnee, Mr. W. Macnee, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kirkpatrick, Mr. and Mrs. Stafford Kirkpatrick, Dr. and Mrs. J. J. Hart, Miss Grace Hemming, Miss Mabel Dalton, Miss Mabel, Miss Dorothy and Miss Marjorie Penne, Miss Lettice and Miss Constance Tandy, Miss Phyllis and Miss Charlie Short, Miss Marie and Miss Dorothy Carruthers, Miss Lillian and Miss Blanche Kent, Miss Hilda Kent, Miss Helen Gordon, Miss Madge Dawson, Miss Lenore Hamilton, Miss Christine, and Miss Sylvia Cochran, Miss Madge Taylor, Miss Katie Smellie, Miss Marion Lessie, Miss Madeline Higgins, Miss Marjorie Merrick, Miss Lennie and Miss Eva Richardson, Miss Susie and Miss Mammie Anglin, Miss Mollie Saunders, Miss Aileen, Miss Eva and Miss May Rogers, Miss Gladys Burton, Miss Frances Sullivan, Miss Irene Swift, Miss Florence Valjean, Miss Leta and Miss Vera Carson, Miss Phyllis Knight, Captain E. Panet, Mr. F. McFarland, Mr. Van Lessie, Mr. George Richardson, Mr. H. Richardson, Mr. C. Constantine, Mr. H. Book, Mr. Bingham, Mrs. Stanley Cunningham, Mr. James Swift, Mr. Douglas and Mr. Wendling Anglin, Mr. B. and Mr. Arthur Dalton, Mr. Archibald McElenon, Mr. Edward and Mr. Leonard Kirkpatrick, and a number of cadets.

Mrs. Archibald de Mowbray Bell was hostess at a bridge party, yesterday afternoon, at the Country Club. The players were: Mrs. T. D. R. Hemming, Mrs. Henri Panet, Mrs. J. P. Shine, Mrs. Kenneth Blair, Mrs. Frederick Brownfield, Mrs. Iva Martin, Mrs. Jeremy Taylor, Mrs. J. B. Carruthers, Mrs. Walter Macnee, Mrs. Arthur Flower March, Mrs. Francis Macnee, Mrs. James Cappon, Mrs. Ramsay Duff, Mrs. Percy Stevenson, Mrs. William Hart, Miss Lois Saunders, Miss Mary Horn, Miss Eleanor Macdonnell, and Miss Frances Sullivan. Miss Macdonnell and Mrs. March won first and second prizes, and Mrs. Carruthers carried off the consolation. Miss Grace Hemming and Miss Phyllis Short helped the hostess with tea. Mrs. Norman Leslie came in in time for tea.

Mrs. R. Waldron, "Afton Place," gave a pleasant tea, yesterday, in honor of her daughter, Mrs. Edward Moore, of Winnipeg. The guests were chiefly younger people and old friends of the eldest daughter of the house. Mrs. R. S. Waldron, poured the coffee, Miss Mabel Dalton, made the tea and Miss Edith Folger cut ices. The table assisting were: Miss Katie Gordon, Miss Etta Richmond, Miss Alice King, Miss Minnie Moore, Miss Florence Cunningham, Miss Constance Tandy, Miss Madelon Carter, Miss Marion Redden, and Miss Isabel Waldron. The flowers upon the tea table were most lovely yellow chrysanthemums.

Mrs. W. G. Jordan's luncheon, at Barrie street, on Wednesday, for the bride-to-be, Miss Eleanor Macdonnell and Miss Elsie Tandy, was very pleasant. The other guests were: Miss Katie Gordon, Miss Mildred Macmorne, Miss Millie Heyderson, and of course the two daughters of the house, Miss Hilda and Miss Ethel Jordan.

Mrs. George McKay had a very large number of callers on Thursday, when she received for the second time. Mrs. John McKay and her tea room assistants of Tuesday helped her again. Mrs. McKay will receive after the New Year on the second and fourth Thursday of the month.

Mrs. J. M. Lanos, Queen street, gave a little supper party after Colonel Crowe's lecture, on Thursday. Among the guests were Colonel and Mrs. J. H. V. Crowe, Miss Helen Crowe, Captain and Mrs. Georges Roy and Major Henri Panet.

To Prepare For Entering Teams in the City League—The Frontenacs Will Place a Strong Senior Team on the Ice.

On Friday evening, at a large meeting of the Young Wellingtons, in their club room Golden Lion Block, final arrangements were made for the hockey season. It was decided to enter two teams in the city league, in the senior and junior series. President C. Brown, of the club, occupied the chair. The following officers were elected: Hon. President, W. F. Nickle, M.P.P.; Hon. Vice-president, Dr. J. J. Hart, J. Mowat, president, C. Brown, vice-president, J. Sutherland, secretary-treasurer, Ray Marchand, captain, senior team, T. Grant, captain, junior team, J. Duffy.

Red, yellow and black were chosen as the colors of the club. The members are all confident that they can put two fine teams on the ice and will end up near the top of the ladder.

Y.I.C.B.A. Hockey Club.

A well-attended meeting of the Y.I.C.B.A. hockey team was held on Friday evening in the hall, Wellington street, when arrangements were made for the winter's work. It was decided to enter both senior and junior teams in the city league. The reports from different committees were all considered and found to be most encouraging indeed. A number of good players have signified their intention of playing under the green and white of the Young Irishmen.

Frontenac Hockey Club.

Everyday the management of the new Frontenac club is meeting, with success in the organizing of the team. Nearly all last winter's players are practically sure of playing, and although there is a hint of Bernier, the popular centre, going to Montreal, it is believed he will remain here to play with his old team mates, "Eddie" Hiscock, even if he is going to take classes in Queen's, will not forsake his old friends and will be found in the hunkers for the city team. Van Hoine, Powell, Crawford, Richardson, Davidson, and also some new players will be out the first practice day.

Newsy Paragraphs Picked Up By Reporters On Their Rounds.

See Livingston's neckwar.

Nearly all of the Kingston marriages have returned home for the winter.

McIntosh's oatmeal, rolled oats and ream of wheat, fresh, at Gilbert's.

The police do not need to say "move on" to the corner loafers these cool nights.

Keely, Jr., puts every article he sells in boxes free.

That Gananoque man who loaned $50 to a man he hardly knew, should learn a good lesson.

Perfumes in boxes and bulk, sachet powders, bath powders, toilet waters of all kinds, McLeod's drug stores, corner King and Brock and corner Montreal and Princess streets.

The atmosphere this morning was good and sharp, but there'll be something sharper further on.

Quite a number of the stores have commenced to keep open at nights, ready for the Christmas trade.

"The first question" a lady will ask when she receives a box of sweets on Christmas morning, is it Huyler's or McConkey's? Sold in Kingston at Gibson's Red Cross drug store.

John Lefleur, district superintendent of the Prudential Life Insurance company, is in Brockville on business today.

We've anything a man wants and appreciates. Come here to select his Christmas gifts. Early selections are best. Livingston's.

Manicure sets, cuticle knives, scissors, nail buffers, nail files of all descriptions. McLeod's drug stores, corner King and Brock and corner Montreal and Princess streets.

A tour around the city shows quite a number of vacant houses in different sections. Houses are very hard to rent at this season of the year.

Quite a large crowd attended the Orpheum theatre last evening, and witnessed a fine bill of vaudeville. Rhea, the singing comedienne, was a favorite.

"From the dainty box" of caramels or assorted taffies, the elaborate baskets or hand-painted boxes at $15, $20 or $25, you can buy them at all prices. McConkey's or Huyler's, at Gibson's Red Cross drug store.

The fact that members of the "Indian list" are hard to keep tabs on, the suggestion has again been made that they be photographed, and prints given every liquor dealer.

The action of Carter's Little Liver Pills is pleasant, mild and natural. They gently stimulate the liver, and regulate the bowels, but do not purge. They are sure to please. Try them.

Coleman Clancy and wife, returned to their home in Arden, on Friday after visiting Mrs. William Cockade, Division street. Mr. Clancy purchased over $300 of Christmas wools in the city for his own store at Arden before leaving for home.

"A man is known" by the candy he sends at Christmas or any other time through the year. It costs no more to send Huyler's or McConkey's high-class sweets. Sold in Kingston only at Gibson's Red Cross drug store.

If the present weather keeps up there will be skating in the covered rink one week from today. The surface has been floored three or four times, and is getting in fine condition. Queen's will have a practice early in the week.

And winter winds are drear,
The stars their quiet vigil keep
Above the dying year.

Within the flaming logs are piled
A blaze with cherry glow,
Forgot the tempest fierce and wild,
The winter's ice and snow.

And there around that ruddy blaze,
The happy voices sing
In notes of gratitude and praise,
A carol to their King.

A carol from that joyous band,
To celebrate the birth
Of him who showers with bounteous hand
Good will and peace on earth.

And so may kindly love abound,
Through every land let songs resound
Of gladness joy and peace.
