Only Medicine That Did Any Good

After Suffering Tortures For Years, This Lady Found Happy Relief In "Fruit-a-tives"

Frankville, Ont., June 11th, 1908. "I have received most wonderful benefit from taking 'Fruit-a-tives.' I suffered for years from headaches and pain in the back, and I consulted doctors and took every remedy obtainable without any relief. Then I began taking 'Fruit-a-tives' and this was the only medicine that ever did me any real good. I took several boxes altogether, and now I am entirely well of all my dreadful headaches and backaches.

Dear Sir,

Just a line to let you know what a great benefit I have derived from your excellent course. I may say that a year in conversation with me now would never imagine that I ever stuttered, and I owe my present condition entirely to your instructions. I sincerely believe that any person, no matter how badly affected, may be cured in a very short time if they will follow your instructions, and I will certainly recommend to you any stammerer that I may come in contact with.

"BABY" THE EDUCATED CHIMPANZEE AT DINNER IN THE FOREST. JUST AS THE MOVING PICTURE MACHINE CAUGHT HIM.

New York, Dec. 11.—Thousands of school-children in cities and towns within a radius of one hundred miles of this city who know of the six thousand animals in the Bronx Zoological Gardens only through hearsay, or what they read in the metropolitan dailies, will now have a chance to get intimately acquainted with them through the medium of an illustrated lecture which is being prepared by the officials of the park. For the last three months moving picture men have been busy making photographs which will show the animals at play, and in a variety of positions, the object being to get a complete photographic reproduction on canvas of animal life in all its phases. Except when a travelling circus comes to the opportunity to see a few of the wild animals of America and Europe, the school children in the territory described have had to get their ideas of animal life from school books, story books, or the stereotyped stereoscopic show. These later exhibitions always portray the animals standing still, whereas the zoo pictures will show the animals in action. A competent lecturer will be sent on tour with the pictures, and his descriptions will be so worded so that every boy and girl will understand just what he is talking about. It is planned to have the lecture entertaining as well as educational.

FOR AND AGAINST COSMETICS.

Women have always used cosmetics since the days of Cleopatra, and even before that time. The cosmetics of those days were, of course, different from the kinds used by the women of to-day, and it is supposed that some of them were even better. In the old days there was the bath of the asses' milk, baths of perfumed waters, and numerous dyes and lotions that were supposed to aid in making women beautiful. Cosmetics have always been popular with women. The numerous creams, washes, powders and lotions have been changed to faithfully, and probably will be in the centuries to come. Physicians have advanced the theory that cosmetics are unhealthy, and it is admitted that some of them really are. Yet others are not. The fact remains, argues some, that any woman who wants to retain the natural charms given her should use cosmetics. She must also cultivate charms that are lacking. Whether she believes in them or not, the average woman nowadays uses cosmetics in some form or other. The skin should be fresh and rosy, and cosmetics often have to be resorted to, those who favor them maintain, to retain this appearance. The very best tonic is, of course, good health, but when this is lacking, cosmetics are needed. Artificial means, however, should never be resorted to until the woman is satisfied that she cannot look as she desires

A TRIP TO ALASKA.

A Tour That Can Be Made With Comfort.

Rehoboth, (Atlantic Express), Oct. 19, 1909.

A trip to Alaska is one seldom undertaken by people in the British Isles and of the many bookings undertaken by the Grand Trunk railway officials in London, few tickets for that northern destination to be that part far north of Canada, where coal and gold, together with meteorological observations, are often supposed to be the chief reasons for the existence of that land. That such a trip can be made with little or no out-of-the-ordinary fatigue of travelling is well proved by a recent communication sent to Fred C. Salter, European traffic manager of the Grand Trunk railway, from Bromley Challenger, F.R.G.S., who has just returned from the north-western limit of the continent.

The fact, as an added interest by reason of the fact that on the day of the official opening of the Grand Trunk railway's new offices at 17-19 Cookspur street, S.W., Mr. Challenger was the first person to book a passage with the company for Canada. On Monday, May 1st, the trip was planned, and the first week in October, back in England again, the well-known geographer has been pleased to write to the Grand Trunk offices expressing his entire satisfaction with the easy way in which the journey was accomplished. After thanking the railway officials for making his means of transportation pleasant and comfortable, he says: "I was very pleased, indeed, with both the road and rolling stock of your company, and in my opinion it is second to none on the continent of America. The arrangements you made for me very much added to my comfort and enabled me to reach my destination in the quickest possible time, and I must say I experienced the greatest facility from the company's staff during my passage on your road. The route you worked out for me was a most interesting one, and coming back as I did over the Rockies and the Great Lakes, I did not travel over a single mile a second time except the short run between Sarnia and Toronto. Will you be good enough to send me particulars of your 'Round the World Tours.' I am thinking that next spring I may have another run out to the west and if I do I should like to return home via the east."

Thus the whole of Great Britain is quickly put in touch by this great railway system, with what frequently is said to be the uttermost parts of the earth.

POWERS' POLITE NEGATIVE.

Will Not Define Status of Crete For Turkey.

London, Dec. 11.—The reply of the protecting powers—Great Britain, Russia, France and Italy—to Turkey's request for a definite settlement of the status of Crete, is a polite negative. Identical notes were handed to the Turkish ambassadors at the respective capitals stating that the moment was inopportune for negotiations on the subject, as they might provoke dangerous excitement in Turkey and elsewhere and lead to serious complications with the powers.

Canadian Marriage Laws.

Mrs. O. C. Edwards of Macleod, Alberta, has compiled a book showing the legal status of women in Canada. One injustice to which Mrs. Edwards calls attention is that according to the laws of Canada the father owns the child and decides as to its education, religion, domicile, etc. The consent of the father alone is required in regard to the marriage of a minor daughter. In one case, according to Mrs. Edwards, a father gave his twelve-year-old daughter as a wife to a comrade of his who was over forty.
