The Call Of The West.
The new territory in Western Canada which the Grand Trunk Pacific is opening up is so attractive to farmers, prospectors and investors in the western states that Minnesota and other states in the union interested in organizing through their commercial bodies movements designed to counteract the heavy migration that has set in to the north. A meeting of the Minnesota commercial organization was called for November 23rd to devise a method whereby some obstructions can be placed in the way of this emigration. The "St. Paul Dispatch" of November 10th said that: "Considerable interest in the gathering has been manifested by cities in North Dakota, and several requests that they be permitted to be represented have been received. While it was at first proposed to have the conference discuss only the possibility of securing settlers for Minnesota, it is now possible that a united effort will be made to keep American farmers on this side of the Canadian border. The conference will prepare literature showing the actual land conditions in Minnesota and North Dakota. This literature will be scattered broadcast over the country and special efforts made to see that it reaches the persons who are at present interested in Canadian lands." "It is said that thousands of farmers, who have sold their land in Eastern States, pass through Minnesota annually on their way to Canada. It is thought that if the advantages offered here could be shown to the immigrants a large portion of them would make this their home."

GREAT YEAR'S WORK

ACCOMPLISHED BY THE BOARD OF WORKS.

Laid More Walks Than Ever Before and Built Them Cheaper—Has Surplus of $1,472—Will Buy Street Extension Land With It.

The board of works held its final meeting for the year, yesterday afternoon, and its members congratulated themselves upon the splendid year's work accomplished by City Engineer Craig, who came in for a good share of the plaudits for the manner in which he has reduced the work of the streets department to a system, whereby the best results accrue. As a result of the engineer's good methods and the cheapness of cement, the cost of the concrete walks laid this year has been the lowest in the history of permanent walk construction in Kingston. The engineer's department has certainly done splendid work this year.

The board of works has good reason to congratulate itself. In the first place it has a surplus to date of $1,472, in the second place seven and an eighth miles of concrete walks were laid at a cost of $5,000 less than six and a half miles were laid last year; and in the third place half a mile of limestone macadam road was constructed out of the year's appropriation.

At the conclusion of the meeting, a vote of thanks was moved by Ald. Kent to the chairman, Ald. Graham, for the able manner in which he had conducted the work of the board, and the interest he had taken in its work during the year. Ald. Givens seconded the resolution, and said that the fact of a surplus of over $1,400 being on hand was evidence of the careful way in which the city's business had been carried on. Ald. Graham expressed his gratefulness for the vote of appreciation accorded him, and said he had a good committee behind him.

Those present were: Aids, Graham, Givens, Hoag, Kent and Toye, who, with the assistance of the city engineer, the city clerk and press representatives, smoked two boxes of choice "seagars," furnished by the chairman.

The engineer reported that the board had on hand of its year's appropriation, $1,472. A discussion took place on what should be done with this money, and it was decided that the wisest thing to do would be to purchase several pieces of land that were required by the city for the extension of certain streets. Accordingly, it will be recommended that the following pieces of land for street extensions be purchased at a total cost of $1,300: Brock from Victoria to Toronto; no name street from a point west of Albert street to Collingwood, parallel to Earl and Union streets; Mack street from Nelson to Victoria; Patrick, from Stephen street south.

It was decided to recommend to the council, on the petition of Joseph Carrington and others, that River street be opened to the water's edge.

The board recommended that the city engineer, and the city solicitor, appear, if necessary, before the Railway Commission, on January 14, regarding the elimination of grade crossings over the G. T. R. and K. & P. railway lines within the city.

GUILITY OF COMMON ASSAULT.

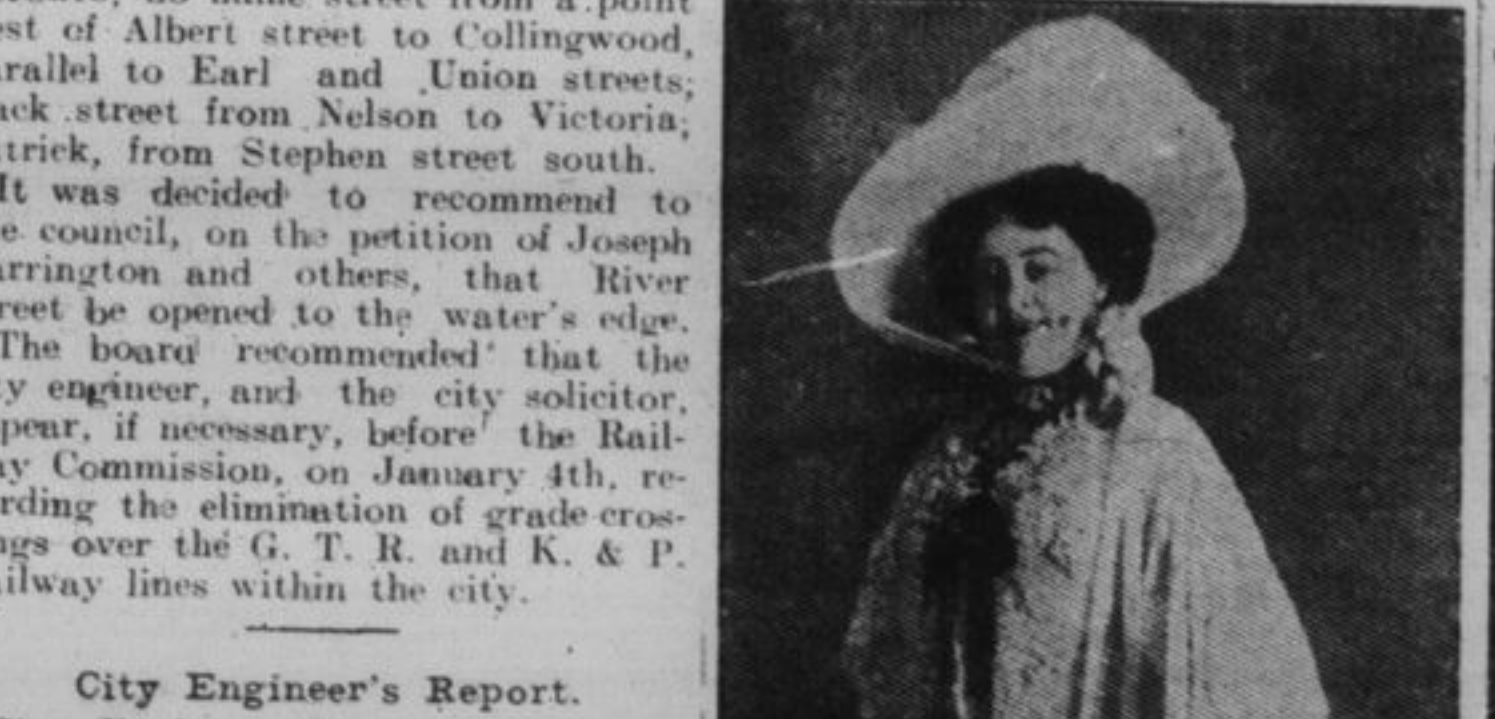

John Le Heup Fined Twenty-Five Dollars and Costs.

The jury in the LeHeup criminal assault case brought in a verdict of common assault. Judge Price, addressing the prisoner, said: "The jury has found you guilty of only common assault, and that reduces the nature of the charge considerably. I fine you $25 and all costs, and in default of payment three months in jail."

The following sat on the jury: J. E. Johnson, G. N. Deuce, George Murray, Walter Woods, James Hopkinson, Charles Potter, William Wallace, B. J. Grant, William Watts, William Cooke, Samuel VanHorne, and Andrew Keyes. Mr. Whiting called Dorothy Palmer, the little girl who was assaulted, and Sarah Bell, a companion, to give evidence for the crown, and in defence Mr. Nickle called, besides the accused, Jeanne Jenkins, F. Duffy, Della LeHeup, and Elizabeth Sullivan. Each lawyer took about an hour in presenting his case to the jury.

While the jury was out on the above case, the non-jury case of Hannah Martin, Napanee, vs. John M. Martin was heard. The plaintiff's claim was $222 for furniture sold and rent due. Defendant put in a counter-claim, for provisions, and other goods supplied. T. J. Rigney appeared for the defendant and J. L. Whiting, K.C., for the plaintiff. Judgment was given for the plaintiff for $41, without costs, and the counter-claim was dismissed without costs.

This was the last case on the docket and, this morning, after the grand jury presented its report, the court sitting was concluded.

City Engineer's Report.

City Engineer Craig presented a comprehensive report of the year's work on the streets, and made a number of recommendations. He suggested that the board decide shortly on some definite method of raising money for all road construction work. The local improvement system was the one that seemed to be the most generally adopted in Canadian cities. In the majority of cases the property owners paid the full cost of the work, according to frontage. In other cases, the city paid forty and the property owner sixty per cent of the cost. The engineer recommended the local improvement plan as being most equitable as each property owner would pay a fair proportion of the cost of any work done on the street fronting his property. The engineer didn't think that current revenues should be used to build roads. It should be used only to meet cost of maintenance and the interest on the capital expenditure required.

He recommended that, if the local improvement system was adopted, the board should consider a plan out two or three miles of roads to be improved during the following year, and pass them by a three-quarter vote of council, on the initiative method. If some comprehensive plan could be decided on to take care of road construction for the coming year that more system could be introduced into the present methods of handling such construction, better contracts could be obtained for, the supply of certain materials, and a reduction in unit costs of roadwork would result.

He reported that the stone contract with Alexander Tait expired this year and recommended making a new contract with some other parties, as the present contractor had not given satisfactory service. He also recommended that the hand breaking of stone by poor men, in the city during the winter, be continued, as hand-broken stone is better than machine-broken stone.

One mile of road was treated with three coats of oil (1,500 gallons), the engineer reported, at a cost of $131.52, and the results were very satisfactory. He advised that all the recently reconstructed roads be treated with some oil having an asphaltic character during the coming year. Nine applications would be necessary for good satisfaction. It would cost $925 to do the oiling of these roads, about three miles in all. The cost would be $900 to $400 more than to use water, but the dust nuisance was reduced to a greater extent, and the wear and tear on the roads would be reduced. If more oil were used, it could be got cheaper. For the small quantity Kingston used last year it cost at the rate of seven and a half cents a gallon, while Toronto paid four cents for a greater amount.

The half mile of roads reconstructed this year cost $2,138.63. In 1906 road construction cost $287,911; 1907, $2,831.91; 1908, $9,926.53. Total for the four years, $15,184.94. By wards the road reconstruction ex-

Mr. Eya has been tenor soloist for some time, and his fine voice has charmed many. The congregation will be sorry to know of Mr. Eya's decision to leave. He will likely remain in the city.

Subway Residents Disappointed.

The residents close to the G.T.R. subway at the junction are very much disappointed because nothing more will be done until spring to give them relief. Approaches have to be made to some of the houses on the township side of the subway, and will be made, but there'll be a whole winter's delay.
