IS BIG WITH PLANS. THE NEW SASKATCHEWAN UNIVERSITY.

The Infant Institution is Making Ready to Do Great Things For the West—Courses in Agriculture.

The western energy which has characterized the citizens of Saskatchewan and other settlers of the Province of Saskatchewan in the building up and developing of the town, and in the amassing of material wealth, is manifesting no less a degree in the university town to further the cause of higher education.

Plans are being made for a two or three-year course in agriculture for farmers' sons who have previously received a good public school education. The university will also have charge of extension work carried on at fairs, and the educational work now carried on by the Provincial Department of Agriculture.

The Anglican college founded by Bishop McLean at Prince Albert twenty years ago, has now been transferred to Saskatoon with Archbishop Lloyd as principal. Professors Tuckey and Broadbent as resident professors, and Messrs. Dewdney and Shorefield as non-resident, with temporary quarters at St. James' church.

The Position of Canada. A political leader, in conversation with a Montreal Standard representative the other day said: "This may be only an expression of American enterprise, but in my estimation, the daily exploitation of the riches of Canada for the delectation of American readers must naturally have the effect of exciting the cupidity of Americans—this is only natural."

Novelist and Priest Miners. The wide publicity attained by properties bought in former sales of the Gillies' Limit brought together a most interesting group of buyers at the last auction, says The Cobalt Nugget.

Windsor's Industrial Boom. Windsor grins in glee over press talk of a tariff war between Canada and the United States. Already Windsor and vicinity can boast of more branch American factories than any other locality in the country.

FAMOUS STAMP COLLECTION. NOT INVINCIBLE.

Sir William Avery Gathered $24,500 Worth in His Time.

One of the largest private stamp collections ever sold has just been acquired, for the sum of $24,500, by W. H. Peckitt, a London stamp dealer, from the executor of the late Sir William Avery of Birmingham.

Two "gems" are unused Postoffice Mauritius stamps engraved by a local watchmaker in Mauritius in 1847. The Prince of Wales pattern of 25 cents, and the two-penny stamp unused. Only two copies of the penny stamp in this state are known.

There are of the famous circular British Guiana stamps of 1850 the four cents on orange paper, another on yellow paper, two copies of the eight cents on green paper, and five of the twelve cents on blue paper.

Frederic Harrison's Rules of Life. "Touch not tobacco, spirits, nor any unclean thing." Rise for every meal with an appetite. Walk daily for two hours. Sleep nightly for seven hours.

Dr. Johnson and Bagpipes. Dr. Johnson's prejudice against the Scots stopped short just where so many Englishmen's toleration ends at the bagpipes. Boswell records the great man's confession that he did not like music and had hardly any perception of it.

A Carlyle Retort. An empty-headed duke once said to Thomas Carlyle at a dinner: "The British people, sir, can afford to laugh at theories."

Have a care about the good bargain you receive, lest it rob the other fellow. It often happens that we mistrust those we have placed in positions of trust.

NOT INVINCIBLE. A DISTINGUISHED JURIST.

When Art Experts Are Taken in by Crooked Dealers. All "antiquities" are not antique. The art of the art-laker is an art that conceals itself, and often enough is almost impossible of detection.

At the Victoria and Albert Museum the Louvre, and elsewhere, it has more than once been discovered that treasures that had been long vendued as unique were most flagrant forgeries.

There is also at South Kensington a statue attributed to Michael Angelo which many claim to be a made-up piece; whilst a terra-cotta bust of Savorolina in the same collection, purchased for $2,500, the Cardinal Wolsey chair, and a Vernis Martin cabinet, which cost the nation no less than $4,000.

In the National Gallery there is more than one work, the attribution of which does not meet with general acceptance. In 1904, when the portrait of Ariosto, by Titian, was acquired for the nation for the huge sum of $150,000, there were many who claimed—and, in fact, still do so—that the portrait was not by Titian, and, moreover, that it was not a portrait of the famous Italian poet.

"Dry Cure" For Colds. A fact that ought to please all who suffer from colds, and, they are legion, is that there exists an infallible cure for them, according to Dr. Romme, of Paris. Dr. Romme adds that it is an English cure, and is, moreover, some 150 years old, having been discovered by an English physician in this old English cure, and considered it as thoroughly efficient.

A Lady Gold-Digger. Lady Sybil Grey is the latest distinguished gold-digger. She accompanied her father, Earl Grey, Governor-General of the Dominion, on his recent trip to the Canadian Arctic gold-fields.

Got a Prize. Wertheimer, a London art dealer, was one day passing through Mayfair when he noticed a sale about to take place of the "furniture and household effects of a deceased nobleman."

Canada's Manufactures. The capital invested in the various manufacturing industries in Canada amounts to $854,000,000, an increase of 86 per cent. in five years; while the total deposits in chartered Canadian banks on November 30, 1906 equalled nearly $100 per capita for everyone, man, woman and child, as against $38 per capita ten years ago.

Only One "BROMO QUININE," that is, Laxative Bromo Quinine Cures a Cold in One Day, Grip in 2 Days.

A DISTINGUISHED JURIST. Such Mills, the Boss Says, Make Wholesome Flour.

Such Mills, the Boss Says, Make Wholesome Flour. "Sure, you've forgotten something," suggested the Superintendent as we were climbing to the fourth floor of the big FIVE ROSES mills.

"The Housewives" continued the Supt. absent and politely gazing to other ways, "are so terribly squeamish these days about their flour that I always emphasize these precautions to lady visitors. When rats and other pest (7) rodents grow too familiar with a flour mill, you know what happens."

Prison Statistics. The annual report of the Department of Justice contains some interesting figures compiled by G. W. Dawson, inspector of penitentiaries as to the penitentiary population of the Dominion. There was, during the fiscal year 1906-07, a decided increase in the number of convicts from urban centres.

Roman Catholics in prison number 871, Anglicans 185, Methodists 173, Presbyterians 78, Baptists 78, Lutherans 16, Hebrews 15. Twenty-eight have no creed. Convicts of British birth number 310. There are 66 life convicts, of whom 33 are confined in Kingston. Ten per cent. are under 20 years of age. Fifteen per cent. are unable to read or write.

A former manager of the Toronto Railway Co. was talking the other day about the trouble of making connections with street cars at transfer points. He said that he became discouraged when he was manager of the road.

Only One "BROMO QUININE," that is, Laxative Bromo Quinine Cures a Cold in One Day, Grip in 2 Days.

Such Mills, the Boss Says, Make Wholesome Flour

"Strength of course, and economy" we put in with our chronic know-it-all air. "No sir. More than that, Durability and economy strictly apart, there's the sanitary argument, you know."
