Reports From Zealand.

Zealand, Dec. 27.—Farmers are busy hauling hay. John Parks, Jr., has arrived at his home at Erin Crest Cottage after spending a few months in Gouganua. His father is recovering.

William H. Garrett, who has been west, at Davidson, Sask., has arrived at his home in Zealand. He paid a visit to his sister in Toronto. Robert Carroll accompanied him on his journey as far as Toronto and went to his home in Walkerton. Both have land out there. They have been fortunate in getting land alongside five other young men from Ontario, and within three miles from town. G. A. Garrett and W. H. Garrett, who left for Elk City, arrived safe. Thomas Scott has built a fine barn. Mrs. Jennie Sargent is seriously ill.

Habitual Drunks.

Five cases all holiday drunks occupied the attention of Magistrate Farrell, at a special session of the police court, yesterday afternoon. Two are in the hospital, undergoing treatment, and their case could not be finally disposed of by the court, one went to jail, in default of payment of an old fine of $10 and costs, another was fined $5 and costs, and the fifth was given his liberty.

FESTIVAL OF ST. JOHN

BANQUET HELD BY ANCIENT ST. JOHN'S LODGE

In The Randolph Hotel Last Evening—The Three Masonic Lodges Held Their Installations—List of Officers.

The annual banquet of Ancient St. John's Lodge, No. 3, A.F. & A.M., took place at the Hotel Randolph, last evening. There was a large attendance of the members of the lodge, and a number of visiting brethren assembled around the festive board to celebrate one of the most important and ancient of Masonic festivals. The menu, which consisted of all the delicacies and good things which any man could desire, was thoroughly enjoyed by the happy company assembled. The service and courtesy of the staff of the Randolph was greatly appreciated. The decorations of the banquet hall were artistically arranged and handsome.

After an hour spent in discussing the good things provided, the worshipful master of St. John's, Dr. A. R. B. Williamson, proposed the toast of "The King and Craft," which was loyally responded to by the company rising and singing the national anthem. Bro. Light contributed a violin solo, with an accompaniment on the piano by Bro. Small, which was heartily applauded.

The Grand Lodge of Canada in the Province of Ontario, coupled with the name of Bro. R. E. Burns, was the next toast given by the chair. Bro. Burns made a happy reply. The grand lodge, he said, was an important body. The grand lodge goes back to the early days of Masonry in Canada. In 1775 it was the first lodge formed under the grand lodge of England. Each lodge was separated and under its own jurisdiction. In 1792 a provincial grand master was appointed by the grand lodge of England, but the grand lodge of Ontario did not come into existence until 1865. Ancient St. John's lodge was one of the first formed under the grand lodge of England. The grand lodge was composed of members sent from various individual lodges, and the most important work was done in committee. The grand lodge of Ontario contained some of the brightest intellects in Canada.

The grand lodge of Ontario was looked up to by other lodges in the United States. The grand lodge of Quebec was not at first recognized by the grand lodge of England, but the grand master of Canada, the late Dr. R. T. Walker, K.C., of Kingston, was the cause of healing the breach between these two bodies.

The master proposed the "Dominion of Canada," and called on Bro. J. M. Mowat and J. W. Edwards to reply. Mr. Mowat, who was received with applause, said it was a relief to him to know that he was applauded before he began his address. It showed the brotherly feeling among brother Masons. The chair commanded him to reply and as a good Mason he would obey. He had a recollection of having had to respond to the same toast on a former occasion. It was a difficult thing for him to understand why he had to speak first when Bro. Edwards was present. He and Bro. Edwards were old college chums, but latterly they had drifted apart. This was a toast we all delighted to honor. At all social gatherings it was well to speak of our country and to note its greatness. We have a right to be proud of the productive-ness of our prairies, our mines and our rivers, but these were not all the things which made up our country. Men do not live by bread alone. We were proud of our history. It was a history of honest endeavor, trials and courage shown in the face of difficulties—sacrifices without any hope of success to those who made the sacrifices. They were building the foundation of future greatness. The question of a navy was now under discussion, what kind of a navy it should be, whether we should buy it or build it, but he dissented from the suggestion that we were not capable of having a navy ourselves. We can build that navy ourselves. There was too much of a tendency to depreciate our capabilities of building a navy, or that we were not competent to do so. That was not the way to build up a nation. The Canadian people or governments were so incompetent and as able as any found in any other part of the world. There was too much of the cry of graft. Our representatives in parliament were as honest as any in the world. It was a healthy sign when they criticize their own party.

Dr. Edwards said he was glad he was permitted to congratulate the worshipful master on the high position which he now occupied and to congratulate the lodge in placing him in that high position. He had a distinct recollection of his college days when he was called upon to form a cabinet. "I asked my friend, Bro. Mowat, to be a member of my cabinet, and I think they would all realize I had a good idea of his abilities at that time."

Dr. Edwards said there is no people who have done more to develop their country than the people of Canada. Look at the early history of our country and see what sacrifices were made by the early settlers. It was all right for us to glory in the deeds of our mother country, but the same old Saxon blood defended our country at Queenston Heights. In justice to ourselves and the mother country British diplomacy has carefully guarded the interests of Canada. By the Ashburton treaty we gained more land than we were entitled to, and the same may be said in regard to the Oregon boundary. England renounced firm and British Columbia was saved to Canada. It was high time the minister of education should revise the school books on Canada's history in regard to that important point. He fully agreed that it was high time for us to take more of the responsibilities of our country. We are apt to forget the sacrifices the mother country has made for Canada. We have often lost sight of the fact that Great Britain has done much for Canada. If we have accomplished great things was not our credit guaranteed by the greatest power on earth. Our protection has been the sheltering wing of Great Britain. He hoped that Canada would always remain true to the mother country and when we have a population of 70,000,000 we would be a factor in the British empire. In regard to a Canadian navy he would stick to the policy of Mr. Borden. Canada should show the world that she was in a position to stand by the mother country.

"The Corporation of the City of Kingston," was responded to eloquently by Bro. W. F. Nickle and J. M. Mowat. Kingston had a great history in the past and they did not see why she should not have a greater one in the future. Both speakers gave prophetic visions of the future greatness and prosperity of their native city.

W. Bro. Gimblett proposed "The Newly Elected Officers," which was responded to by Bro. C. W. Dickson. "Visiting Brethren" was replied to by Bro. Light and J. Herbert Tandy, M.D. (Parry Sound). "Masons' Wives and Bairs" was humorously and poetically responded to by Bro. F. Etherington. "The Press" was honored and fittingly replied to. "Our Host" was responded to by the genial proprietor, Bro. J. S. Randolph.

The junior warden's toast, "Happy to Meet, Sorry to Part, and Happy to Meet Again," was greeted with applause. "Auld Lang Syne," with the company joining hands, and "God Save the King," brought the enjoyable evening to a close.

St. John's lodge met at 5:30 o'clock for the installation of officers, which ceremony was performed by R. W. Bro. James A. Minnes. The following is the list: Dr. A. R. B. Williamson, W.M.; D. A. Givens, J.P.M.; Dr. F. Etherington, S.W.; C. W. Dickson, J.W.; Canon Groat, chaplain; W. H. Minnes, treasurer; E. Burns, secretary; J. A. Dalton, S.D.; Dr. Mylks, J.D.; P. Burke, I.G.; John H. Seels, D.C.; H. Hunter, S.S.; E. J. Ryder, J.S.; R. Bunt, tyler.

Catarqui And Minden.
Catarqui and Minden lodges held a joint meeting on St. John's evening, at which the officers were installed by R. W. Bro. Thomas D. Minnes, assisted by R. W. Bro. Hendry, Shaw, McCole and Jackson, and V. W. Bro. Smeaton. After the business of the evening, about one hundred of the brethren sat down to a dinner in the banquet room, where a most enjoyable time was spent.

STORY OF POLICE COURT.

Little Nip of Whiskey Got Man Into Trouble.

There was a very short session of the police court, this morning. Two drunks were the only offenders. Magistrate Farrell was on the bench. John Shaw, a stranger in the city, was the first to make his bow. He was accused of being drunk, and there was a ripple of laughter in the court room, when Shaw gave his answer. "I was drunk, all right," he said. "There is no doubt about that; but I was never here before in my life, and you just give me a chance, I will be away from here in five minutes."

The accused said that he had been working out at Sydneyham for about five weeks. He had been in Kingston before, but had never been before the court on any charge. He was given the chance. Alexander Mitchell was an "also drunk." He smiled when he was arraigned on the charge. "Where did you get your liquor?" asked the court of the accused, who is a member of the "Indian list." "I was out this morning, at five o'clock, and met a man with a flask. He gave me a nip out of the flask. I could not give you the name of the man, as I do not know him."

"And do you mean to say that the little nip the man gave you got you in this trouble?" asked the magistrate. "I am afraid that there was not much left in the flask after you had that little nip."

The case was adjourned for a day.

Returned From England.

Dr. M. E. Costella, who graduated from Queen's in 1908, returned to-day, from the old country, where he has been studying for the past year and a half. The doctor was studying in London, Edinburgh and Dublin, and before coming home took an extended tour on the Continent, visiting all the leading hospitals. Although he spent a very pleasant time and profited much by the experience the doctor was glad to get back to Canada, and his friends were as glad to welcome him. He will practice in Calgary.

HOCKEY TEAMS WORK

FRONTENAC'S FORWARD LINE IS ALL RIGHT.

Queen's Team Left This Afternoon For New York—The Collegiate Institute Will Have A Strong Seven.

The crowd of railbirds at the Kingston rink, on Monday evening, were greatly pleased with the practice of the Frontenac hockey teams, senior and junior. A number of players were out and all showed good form. Crawford, Davidson, Richardson, Gratton, Moran, Brouse, Lindsay, "Ed." Davidson, Marchand, Nicholson, Harlett, Little and others, were on the ice. James Sutherland was present and kept the candidates at work every minute of the time. Some of the juniors showed fine form and the senior players will have to keep going to keep their places.

As far as a forward line goes, the Frontenacs will fare all right, but the defence may cause a little trouble. Sutherland will be available for goal, and this will be a good thing, as he is second only to Hiscock, who is in a class by himself. Vanhorn and Powell have not shown up on the ice yet, and both say they have retired, but the followers of the game hope they will change their minds and once again come out and play the game.

Queen's For New York.
Queen's hockey team left, at noon to-day, for New York, and during the week will play a series of games with the A.H. American team. The Presbyterians will line up as follows: Gilbert, goal; Mackenzie, point; Lockett, cover; Campbell, rover; Crawford, centre; Dobson, right wing; George, left wing; Daniels also accompanied the team.

Hockey At Collegiate.
The collegiate team had a good practice on Monday night, after the Frontenacs. The high school boys had a full turnout and from present appearances will make any team step to take the pleasure. Intercollegiate competition will start early in the week. Nearly all last year's players have returned, as well as a few new ones, who are showing fine form.

Sporting Notes.
Vancouver defeated University of California at rugby football.
Football made a profit of $41,000 at the University of Pennsylvania this year.
Ratting Nelson insists on getting $13,000 as his guarantee before he will sign with Wolgast.

Radical changes are foreshadowed in the American game at the rules committee meeting to-morrow.
New York horsemen want to get in to the grand circuit with a meeting at Brighton Beach or Empire City.
"At Seattle, Wash.," Henry St. Yves, Marathon champion of the world, defeated John Marsh, the Canadian runner, by a yard in a fifteen-mile match race. St. Yves' time was 1:38.47 4/5.

The Nelson-Soligast contest of forty-five rounds in Los Angeles is set for February 22nd. Wolgast's manager posted $1,000 to guarantee the appearance of Wolgast in the ring. A side bet of $5,000, it is said, will be made.
In a fifteen-minute handicap wrestling match at St. Louis, Frank Gotch failed to throw Con. O'Kelly, of Ireland. Dr. Koller and Raoul de Rouen wrestled fifteen minutes without a fall. The police refused to permit James J. Jeffries to box with Sam Berger.

Dr. George H. Denny, president of Washington, and Lee University, Virginia, says: "Personally I favor the adoption of the Canadian football game. I do not know what would be the attitude of our faculty, as I have not been able to test their sentiments in reference to the matter."

The pupils of the Collegiate Institute have great fun on the large open rink built on the common, between the schools. The ice surface is large enough to accommodate a number of skaters or to play a full-sized hockey game on. A few boys take entire charge of the rink, and deserve credit for the way they keep the ice and the orderly manner in which they conduct things.

Nelson's chocolates are strictly high class goods. Buy them at Erouse's Drug Store. Always fresh here.
At the post office, on Monday, there was received 560 registered letters from England and the United States, a very much larger number than was received during any rush in previous years.

Postmaster Stewart and the members of his staff will return thanks to George McGowan, for his kind contribution of cigars.
Continued cold weather of this kind will soon make the ice solid in the harbor. There was quite a covering this morning.
