WHAT ENGINEER ADVISES.

Done by the City Council Regarding Roads.

The new board of works will soon have to take up the question of road construction, and the alderman who will comprise it should pay heed to what City Engineer Craig recommends for their serious consideration. The engineer suggests that the board decide shortly on some definite method of raising money for all road construction work. The local improvement system is one that seems to be the most generally adopted in Canadian cities. In the majority of cases the property owners pay the full cost of the work, according to frontage. In other cases, the city pays forty and the property owner sixty per cent. of the cost. The engineer recommends the local improvement plan as being most equitable, as each property owner would pay a fair proportion of the cost of any work done on the street fronting his property. The engineer doesn't think that current revenues should be used to build roads. It should be used only to meet cost of maintenance and the interest on the capital expenditure required.

He recommends that, if the local improvement system is adopted, the board should each year pick out two or three miles of roads to be improved during the following year, and pass them by a three-quarter vote of council, on the initiative method. If such a comprehensive plan could be decided on to take care of road construction, the engineer says that more system could be introduced into the present methods of handling such construction, better contracts could be obtained for the supply of certain materials, and a reduction in unit costs of roadwork would result.

He advises that all the recently reconstructed roads be treated with concrete oil, having an asphaltic base this year. Nine applications would be necessary for good satisfaction. It would cost $25 to do the oiling of these roads, about three miles in all. The cost would be $300 to $400 more than to use water, but the dust nuisance would be abated to a greater extent, and the wear and tear on the roads would be reduced. If some oil were used, it could be got cheap.

DYSPEPSIA, GAS, HEARTBURN AND ALL STOMACH DISTRESS VANISHES.

Relief in Five Minutes With a Little Dispepsin.

The question is to how long you are going to continue to suffer from indigestion or out-of-order stomach is merely a matter of how soon you begin taking some Dispepsin. If your stomach is lacking in digestive power, why not help the stomach to do its work, not with drastic drugs, but a re-enforcement of digestive agents, such as are naturally found in the stomach. People with weak stomachs should take a little Dispepsin occasionally and there will be no more indigestion, no heartburn, no souring, gas on stomach or belching of undigested food, headaches, dizziness or sick stomach, and besides, what you eat will not ferment and poison your breath with nauseous odors. All these symptoms resulting from a sour, out-of-order stomach and dyspepsia are generally relieved five minutes after taking a little Dispepsin. Go to your druggist and get a 50c case of Pape's Dispepsin now and you will always go to the table with a hearty appetite, and what you eat will taste good, because your stomach and intestines will be clean and fresh, and you will know there are not going to be any more bad nights and miserable days for you. This freshens you and makes you feel like a king.

INJURY PROVED FATAL

THOMAS H. FEATHERSTONE DIED IN HOSPITAL

On Saturday Night—Base of His Skull Fractured—The Remains Taken to Bracebridge for Burial.

Thomas H. Featherstone, who was injured in a runaway accident on Saturday morning, died at the general hospital at 11:30 o'clock Saturday night, without having recovered consciousness. He received, besides minor injuries, a bad fracture of the base of the skull, which was the direct cause of death. He was unconscious when he arrived at the hospital, and was too weak to undergo any lengthy examination. Towards noon he rallied a little but afterwards he sank rapidly, the end coming peacefully in the night.

The circumstances surrounding Mr. Featherstone's death are very sad. He arrived in the city from the west two weeks ago for a visit to his wife, spending the winter with friends and relatives in Ontario. He came east owing to the serious illness of his son-in-law at Newmarket. On Saturday he returned to visit his daughter, who was enjoying a drive with his nephew, Dr. J. Starch, and was holding the reins when the accident happened. The horse was standing on Princess street, just below Clergy, and as it became restless over the approach of a street car Mr. Featherstone got out of the cutter and went to its head to quiet it. Suddenly the animal made a bolt and Mr. Featherstone, being an elderly man, sixty-eight years old, the cutter passing over his body. It is thought that as the horse dashed away its head struck the horse in the head as he lay on the ground, or else he was thrown against a window casement. The animal galloped down Princess street, and when in the middle of the block came near enough to the sidewalk to hit Mrs. P. Simmons. The street, knocking through the plate glass window at D. J. Garbutt's and breaking a small bone in her ankle.

Mr. Featherstone was unconscious when help reached him and he was at once removed to the hospital in James Reid's ambulance, but despite all that could be done his injuries proved fatal.

The late Mr. Featherstone was one of the pioneer settlers in what is known as the Muskoka district. Some years ago he took up a large farm and was very successful. About eight years ago he died, leaving a wife and six daughters, and two sons, all of whom are left to mourn the death of their father. Mrs. (Dr.) Sparks, University avenue, is a sister of the deceased.

The funeral services will be conducted at seven o'clock this evening by Rev. S. Selvey, after which the remains will be taken to the Grand Trunk station and removed to Bracebridge for burial beside kindred dust.

Mrs. (Dr.) Caldwell, Cincinnati, arrived this morning and accompanied her father's remains to Bracebridge.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE.

"Polly of the Circus" a Fine Production.

On Saturday, "Polly of the Circus," a three-act play, drew two bumper houses to the Grand. The play was something out of the ordinary, and was decidedly interesting. The play tells the story, in simple manner, of a circus rider, a young girl, being injured and carried for in a person's house, where she remained for a year. Naturally, the two fall in love, and naturally, in a small town, as in Kingston, the knackers get busy and the girl runs away. She is finally found again by the person who follows her into the sawdust ring to keep her from riding.

Many fine acts are introduced in the second scene of the last act, when the circus ring is built on the stage. Bareback riding, trained horses, trained ponies, acrobats, balancers, tumblers, jowns, and in fact a regular circus on the stage. The play is exquisitely staged, the work being done by four items in any of its productions. The last scene of all, where Polly forsakes the circus, was extremely well set up. On a darkened stage one can dimly see the two figures, the person and the girl, and then away at the back, can be seen the big vans drawn by four and six horses, winding their way up the hill, the lanterns flashing in the dark.

Miss Gwendolyn Piers made an adorable Polly. She was ably supported by Frank Green, as "Rev. John Douglas," Charles Lamb as "Big Jim," Edward Poland as "Uncle Toby," and Miss Annie Mortimer as "Mandy."

The following circus artists took part: The Sieberts, with their trained mules and ponies; Madame Lizette Siebert, queen of acrobatics; the Onri family, acrobats, and Earl Jerome, as the clown.

"Uncle Tom's Cabin."

Jollity, tender sentiment, lively dialogue, spectacular situations, thrilling climaxes and poetic justice—all are prettily blended in ancient, honored "Uncle Tom's Cabin," which the renowned Stetson Company will offer at the Grand, on Tuesday, Jan. 11th, Matinee at 3 p.m. Evening at 8:15. Throughout this grand old story, as illustrated the vagaries of life and the versatility of human nature.

TRENTON DEFEATED GRANITE HOCKEY TEAM.

Junior Frontenacs Play League Game in Trenton This Evening—Local League Games at Royal Bank Tuesday Evening.

The Granite hockey team went to Trenton on Saturday, under the management of Stanley Trotter, and were defeated 2 to 1 by the Trenton junior O.H.A. team. The game was fast, clean, and closer than the score would show. The locals played a good game, but lacked speed and combination. The Kingston boys were well looked after by the Trenton team, nothing being too good for them. The Kingston team lined up as follows: Sowards, goal; Stokes, point; Whitehead, cover; Stansbury, centre; McCann, rover; Hughes, left wing; Nicholson, right wing.

Frontenacs vs. Trenton. The Junior Frontenacs left for Trenton at 3:15 o'clock, this afternoon to play their second game in the O.H.A. The team will be slightly changed from the last game, one of the best players being off the team, as he is little over age. "Johnny" Grant, the centre man, is one of the fastest and trickiest juniors in the business and his leaving the team will be a great loss. However, the management has a couple of good men to fall back upon, and will be able to put a strong team on the ice to-night. The following players were taken up, in charge of "Jim" Sutherland and "Sam" McCullough: Marchand, Hazlett, E. Davidson, A. Davidson, Hyland, Moran, Brouse, Millan and Joyce. A team should be picked out of this bunch that will have no trouble putting it over Trenton, even on their own ice. The Frontenacs also have their next game away from home, playing in Picton on Friday evening.

Injured By A Sleigh. Duigan Wightman, foreman of the Standard composing room, was the victim of what might have easily been a very nasty accident on Saturday afternoon. He was standing on the crossing near the Standard Bank at the corner of Princess and Bagot streets waiting for the street car to pass when he was run down by a farmer's sleigh. The team went over the crossing at a fast gait, and the sleigh hit Mr. Wightman hard enough to throw him some distance. Fortunately he lit in the snow near the sidewalk and escaped without serious injury.

A Trial Package of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets Sent Free. There seems to be no logical reason why the stomach should not digest itself when we consider the fact that it secretes digestive fluids and acids which are powerful enough to disintegrate and digest meats, eggs, fruits, cereals, vegetables and other forms of food taken into it.

On Tuesday evening the first games in the Kingston Amateur Hockey League will be played at the Royal Bank, a double-header being on the ice. At eight o'clock, Wornwith's and St. James will play and at nine o'clock, the R.C.H.A. and Royals will play their postponed game. Both games should be fast and interesting and should draw a large crowd. The Royals rink is fitted up in good style for hockey games, and the management will be kept busy looking after four games a week at the Royal rink during the hockey season. Stanley Trotter will referee both games tomorrow evening.

City Basketball News.

On Thursday evening two games will be played in the City Basketball League. The first will be between the Royals and St. James and the second game between the Hawks and Eagles. The league now stands as follows:

Table with 3 columns: Team, Won, Lost. Rows include Royals, Hawks, Eagles, St. James, etc.

Seeking Admission. A meeting of the City Hockey League executive was called for Saturday evening but did not materialize as only a few members were present. The meeting will be held on Wednesday evening in the Business College when all members are requested to be present. Two more teams are seeking admission to enter and this will be acted upon. If they are admitted it will mean drawing up a new schedule as the games are now all arranged.

Royals for Trenton. The Royal hockey club will take a run to Trenton during this week, under the guidance of Stanley Trotter. The Trenton bunch are anxious for a game with the city champions and will likely be satisfied. The players will likely take up the following players: Kennedy, goal; Cherry, point; Lemmon, rover; H. Ainslie, rover; Muckler, centre; George Charles, left wing; M. Ainslie, right wing.

The Senior Frontenacs. The Senior Frontenacs will practice at the covered rink, this evening from eight to nine o'clock, and all the players are requested to be out, and new ones that care to have a try at the game. The following players are requested to be out in uniform at the practice to-night: Richardson, Vanhorn, Powell, Saunders, McKay, Grant, Crawford, Lindsay, Nicholson, McCann and any others in eight.
