PACE IS HOT

Every Noteworthy Speaker on the Platform.

BUSY CHAMBERLAIN

HE WRITES TO ELECTORS TO SUPPORT UNIONISTS.

Churchill Has a Big Scheme For Unemployment Insurance — Balfour Says There Will be no Changes in Fiscal System to the Detriment of the Poor.

London, Jan. 13.—The pace in the election campaign is becoming hotter. Practically every noteworthy speaker on both sides was on some platform last night, while Joseph Chamberlain is still busy letter writing urging the metropolis to give the country a great unionist majority. Winston Churchill, addressing a big meeting at Glasgow, said the democratic character of the British constitution was at stake. He was sick of the inglorious howlings their opponents had raised in their efforts to give British industry a bad name over all the world and injure her great commercial reputation by holding Britain up to the colonies and foreign powers as a broken-down, played-out, starved, bankrupt, commercial community, instead of being the strongest productive community ever gathered together. Mr. Churchill outlined a big scheme of unemployment insurance which will be the work of the Liberal government if returned to power. The details of the scheme had already been worked out by the board of trade and the bill will deal with the affairs of upwards of 2,250,000 adult workers, skilled and unskilled alike, combatting the contention of his opponents that a tariff would increase the cost of living for the working classes. Ex-Premier Balfour, in a speech at York, pledged himself and his party that no change now or hereafter in the fiscal system should alter the proportionate burden of the different classes to the detriment of the poor. He included tea and tobacco among the necessities of life and undertook that the taxation on these articles, equally with the taxation on wheat, should not be increased proportionately to the general burden of taxation. Mr. Lloyd George, speaking at Wolverhampton, claimed the conservatives were trying to reduce the country to the position of Prussia, which was dominated by a land aristocracy and where the democracy had no chance. They were trying to establish an aristocratic bureaucracy. It was time the people of the country stood together against it.

The Daily Mail publishes a striking portion of Sir John A. Macdonald's election address in 1891, dealing with the effect of the national policy in Canada and editorially commends it to the electors.

AFTER THREE-YEAR FIGHT.

Decision Given Against Supreme Council.

Syracuse, N.Y., Jan. 13.—After a fight for more than three years in the courts, Mrs. Frank Z. Wilcox has won her suit against the supreme council of the Royal Arcanum. Justice William S. Andrews, yesterday, directed a verdict in her favor for the full amount of insurance policies carried upon the life of her deceased husband, with interest. The outcome is of interest to thousands of members of the order.

Mr. Wilcox was expelled from the organization because of his attacks upon supreme officers for the increase of rates of insurance. He instituted proceedings for reinstatement, but died before the termination of the action. The suit was continued by his widow, Mary G. Wilcox, who was given a verdict for $3,217.50.

TO INTENDING SUICIDES.

Hotel Men Ask That They Go Elsewhere to Die.

Berlin, Jan. 13.—The German Union of Hotelkeepers publishes in the union's organ, the Kitchen and Cellar, a seriously worded request that all persons contemplating suicide refrain from carrying out their intention in the hotels in the union. It is pointed out that such conduct is equally disgraceful to the hotel keepers and their guests. It is plaintively asked if there are not enough quiet places for the purpose elsewhere. Statistics show there are twenty suicides in Berlin weekly.

$10,000 GIFT TO NURSE.

Battle Creek, Mich., Jan. 13.—Ester Erwin, who recently graduated from the Lansing hospital, has received a cheque for $10,000 from the estate of J. Vankleber, a wealthy westerner whom she nursed in Detroit during his last illness.

Metal Car Tickets.

Brantford, Ont., Jan. 13.—The street railway next week will inaugurate metal tickets. Discs the size of five-cent pieces will be used instead of tickets. Conductors will also be supplied with automatic fare boxes, in which the bell rings when the fare is dropped.

THE GARDEN OF EDEN

EXACT SITE DEFINITELY FIXED UPON.

Is North-west of Baghdad—Incidentally the Discovery Affords a Feasible Explanation of the Deluge.

Constantinople, Jan. 13.—According to the Journal de Stamboul, Sir William Wilcocks, the British adviser to the Minister of Public Works, claims to have determined the exact site of the Garden of Eden. He places it at Harish, a flourishing oasis some 250 kilometres north-west of Baghdad. Through this site the Euphrates runs and is divided into four arms, representing the four rivers of Eden. Sir William suggests that the deluge was merely the flooding of the entire plain between the Euphrates and the Tigris, owing to those rivers breaking down the irrigation dikes which had been built by the pastoral dwellers on the plain.

AS A BUSINESS MATTER.

Graduates to Improve Property Along Right of Way.

Ithaca, N.Y., Jan. 13.—President W. G. Brown, of the New York Central railroad, who was the orator at the Founders' Day exercises at Cornell University, said that he is going to ask President Jacob Gould Schurman to furnish men from among the Cornell graduates to direct the work of developing the abandoned and worn-out farms in this state, which the railroad company is buying.

No Danger of Beef Shortage.

Denver, Col., Jan. 13.—President H. Jastro, of the National Live Stock Association, and Mardo McKenzie, vice-president, in speeches declared that so long as $200,000,000 worth of beef is exported from America, each year, there is no danger of a shortage.

Gift Makes Him Monarchist.

Rome, Jan. 13.—When the king was returning yesterday from a bear hunt at Casale di Stabia he stopped at an inn outside the gates and gave a bear to the innkeeper, who had killed the bear. This act, according to the innkeeper, was the price of the payment of the octroi duty at the gates.

The innkeeper, who was a noted republican, expressed his appreciation and gratitude for the valuable gift, and announced to the king that henceforth he would be a loyal monarchist.

For Turkish "Immortals."

Constantinople, Jan. 13.—A Turkish millionaire has donated $500,000 for the creation of a Turkish Academy on similar lines to the Academy of France. The academy will have twenty members. The membership will be limited to distinguished men of Arabian, Turkish and Persian nationality.

THE NEW NAVY

Important Announcement by Sir Wilfrid.

AT BRITAIN'S SERVICE

WHEN WAR, REAL OR APPREHENDED, IS FEARED.

To Have a Naval Board and College—Term of Service will be Three Years, Six Months at a Time.

Special to the Whig.
Ottawa, Jan. 13.—The House of Commons re-assembled, yesterday, after the Christmas recess, and at once settled down to business. The introduction of the naval bill was the important feature of the proceedings. The bill was introduced by Sir Wilfrid Laurier in the absence of Hon. L. P. Brodeur, minister of marine and fisheries, who is seriously ill. Sir Wilfrid explained that a naval force to be created consisting of three divisions, namely permanent, volunteer and reserve corps. The militia act had been largely followed but there would be no compulsory enrolment in case of war. There would be no conscription and no hallooting, whereas under the militia act every man between the ages of eighteen and sixty might be called upon to serve. The service would be under the charge of the marine and fisheries department and would have a director with the rank of rear-admiral, or at least captain, and he would be advised by a naval board. The governor-general-in-council would have the power to place at the disposal of his Majesty the force of vessels, officers and men for general war as part of the Royal Navy. However, in the event of the governor-general taking such action it will be necessary to call parliament together. The bill is expected to be passed within ten days and parliament will be called upon to meet within fifteen days thereafter.

Laplante, proprietor of the Windsor hotel, destroyed by fire on March 23rd, 1909, by Mrs. George Hagle, formerly of Philadelphia, whose husband and two other men perished in the flames, and several others were seriously injured. The case was heard without jury, and a number of witnesses were heard on behalf of the plaintiff and defendant. Negligence was alleged in the matter of having no proper notices of fire escape ropes in rooms, etc. Judgment was reserved.

NURSES' HOTEL BURNED

And Inmates Had Close Call This Morning.

Toronto, Jan. 13.—Charles Nurse, proprietor of the well-known Nurse's hotel, at the Bunker, his wife and his two sons, George and Harry, had a narrow escape from death, early this morning, when the hotel took fire and was burned to the ground. The fire was discovered by Harry Ball, a radial conductor, who was on his way home. Being unable to awaken the sleeping family, Ball ran across the road to the house of Constable Gideon and roused the officer. Thereupon the two burst in the door of the Nurse place and, dashing upstairs, pulled the inmates out of bed. Nothing could be done to save the place, which stood on the lake shore. The total loss on the building and contents is about $400, partly insured.

A case was partly argued before Justice Sutherland, this morning, involving the interpretation of the settlement among the family of the late Senator John Macdonald, of this city. The issue is whether one member of the family should have, under the agreement, $88,000 or $118,000. It is a friendly suit and in no way affects the firm of John Macdonald & Co.

The Ontario government announces that this year there will be no extension of time for the introduction of private bills. The last date on which notice of such bills must be given is February 4th.

COMMITTEE TO SIT

INQUIRY INTO CHARGES AGAINST N. T. B. ENGINEERS.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier Will Move for the Appointment of a Committee of Five Members of the House to Investigate.

Ottawa, Jan. 13.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier has given notice that he will move that a special committee of five members of the house be named to inquire into the charges affecting the engineering staff of the National Transcontinental railway commission.

Sir Wilfrid bases his motion on the statement made by Hugh D. Lumsden, late chief engineer of the National Transcontinental railway, who in a letter addressed to the commissioners resigning his position, used the following language: "In view of the general disregard of my instructions, and having lost confidence in the engineering staff, I have concluded to resign my position as chief engineer," and also on Mr. Lumsden's subsequent letter modifying his statement, and making it apply to the engineers on district "H" and district "P" only. The motion states that while it is not deemed advisable to take any action which might prejudice the position of either of the parties to the arbitration proceedings now in progress, yet the allegations involve such grave charges against a portion of the engineering staff as to make it desirable that they should be investigated.

It has developed that Lord Strathcona, the Canadian high commissioner, has donated $5,000 for the benefit of the Roman Catholic eucharistic congress, to be held in Montreal in September next. Cardinal Vanistell will be the cardinal legate, sent from Rome for the occasion, having acted in a similar capacity at the great eucharistic congress in England, a couple of years ago. The Duke of Norfolk, earl marshal, has also been invited to be present.

It is not expected, in parliamentary circles, that when the naval bill comes before the commons, for a second reading, "early next week," Hon. Mr. Brodeur, minister of marine, will be able to be present, although his condition is reported, to-day, as being somewhat improved. It is likely, therefore, that Sir Wilfrid Laurier will have to see the measure through its various stages in the house.

John Norris, of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association, who is in Ottawa, investigating the methods of yardage and allowances for heavy wrappers of paper shipped from here to the United States, is of opinion that the United States maximum tariff clauses will not be enforced against Canada next March, but will be postponed. Mr. Norris thinks that Quebec will prohibit the export of pulp wood out on crown lands, but that the United States would welcome any arrangement whereby they could get Canadian raw materials free of duty in return for letting Canadian-made papers into the United States free of tax.
