England has its "hill bards" and mud-slinging campaign during an election as well as this country. Throughout the empire political cartoons have been posted on every available space by the unionist and liberal parties, depicting in most violent form the issues of the opposing forces and with which both parties are working to bring about victory. One of the lithographs which has attracted the most comment shows free trade stalking through the land as a reaper of death, whose activities bring widespread unemployment.

FRONTENACS WINNERS

DEFEATED TORONTO ARGONAUTS BY 8 TO 5.

In a Senior Exhibition Hockey Game.—The Frontenacs Have Several Capable New Players.

The Frontenac Senior Hockey Club got off to a flying start last night in the initial big game of the season, when the team, toward the colors of the famous Toronto Argonauts, in a game that abounded in lightning rushes and splendid checking. Considering that it was practically the first time that the local team has played "senior" hockey, the result was most pleasing; one from a local point of view. Unquestionably the team that won the blue and white last night has the ear marks of more speed and combination rushes than any that has represented the city in many years. There was not a weak spot anywhere unless it lay in the way the defence at times allowed themselves to be drawn out, but when it is considered that this was the first senior game in which the defence played these slight discrepancies may be easily overlooked, especially as they were not in the least offset by work for what they lacked in defensive work.

Argonauts appeared on the ice promptly at 8:30 o'clock and turned out to be a speedy bunch. Murphy, a former junior Frontenac boy of several years ago, turned up with the Toronto team and played a strong game. Right from the start-off Frontenacs pressed hard and finally succeeded in scoring twice. Then Argos, the hot boys, and poked in two. Then Johnny Grant, just to show that he has the goods, scored for Frontenacs and from that time on the local boys were never headed, the half time score standing 6 to 3 in favor of the blue and white. In the second half Argos played two new men and with these fresh additions to the team they worked hard for a win and quickly scored two goals, but Frontenacs came right back with two more, which ended the scoring, eight to five in Frontenacs' favor.

For the Frontenacs the work of each player was high class. George Richardson never played with more ideal and his presence on the team did as much to insure victory. Reggie Crawford seems to have improved greatly and his scoring was a treat to look at. "Al" Davidson played a hard, effective game, but the work of little "Jack" Grant, at centre, was a revelation. His sturdy play seemed to be all over the ice at one time and is certainly a find. McCammon, at cover, is another classy player whom the Frontenacs may feel proud of.
