

SERMON FROM SHAKESPEARE

War, thou son of hell... A great general of the American civil war forcibly remarked, "War is hell." He knew from experience the evils of war, the sufferings endured, the sorrow left in its wake...

There is no present day subject that more demands the thoughtful consideration of the patriot, than that of "contumelious, beastly, mad-brained war." As the nineteenth century closed it was hoped that the time was drawing nigh when men would convert their swords into plowshares...

War is the child of selfishness and greed. It is brought about largely by men who will never be targets for bullets. Calmly they sit on their thrones or in their offices and stir up strife...

That they might not see the monster they had conjured up. Blood will have blood! One war is but the brooder of another.

Scholars and statesmen have met together with the hope of establishing peace among the so-called Christian powers. Their efforts have been in vain.

There is a fallacy that war is necessary for giving a nation character. Man has nature to battle with. His character can be grandly moulded in bridging great rivers, constructing useful canals, stringing railways across passes.

Embarrassing for Her. A Milwaukee man and his wife recently received a call from an old friend whom they had not seen for years. Just before she turned down to a little supper in the German style, the wife, seeing a favorable opportunity, whispered to her husband...

Why did you insist on his having more beer, more beer, more beer? "Mercy!" exclaimed the husband, "I forgot entirely!" "But," continued the wife, "why did you suppose I was kicking you under the table?"

Why The Americans Emigrate. Portland Oregonian. "Why do they go? Naturally the cheap and fertile land of Western Canada attracts them. Each emigrant goes with a reasonable expectation of bettering his fortune. Indeed in a few years he may grow rich through the abundant crops he can raise, and the increase of land values. But perhaps that is not the sole reason for the astonishing migration. There is a common notion abroad that in Canada life and property are appreciably safer than they are here. Murders are not so frequent, and are more speedily and surely punished. Mobs and the so-called 'unwritten law' are virtually unknown in Canada. Again, the law is a vastly more ascertainable entity there. Canada does not permit its judges to veto acts of the legislative body. When a statute has been enacted it is known to be the law of the land until it is repealed. This, naturally, imparts to Canadian civilization a security and stability which we have not yet attained."

Here's a Next One. London Advertiser. Congressman Wilson, of Pennsylvania, has introduced a bill proposing that all persons over forty-five years of age who have lived in the United States for twenty-five years, shall be entitled to a yearly pension of $120, provided they have less than $1,500 value in property, or an income of less than $240 a year. This is not an old age pension, unless our sterner neighbors are to be considered old at forty-five. Mr. Wilson appears to want to figure in the role of a national Santa Claus.
