What Will Asquith Do?

New York, Jan. 31 .- The Sun's London cable says: There is considerable speculation on both sides whether Premier Asquith is willing to remain in office. One rumor definitely asserts that he will advise the king to send for Lewis Harcourt, the first commissioner of works, to organize a cabinet from the incongruous element repre sented by the ministerial majority. Right Hon. Joseph Albert Pease, the liberal whip, who was defeated re-election, is about to join Mr. Asquith in Southern France, and will use his strong persuasive powers to induce the premier to retain his leaddership. Should he succeed, it will be only on the distinct understanding that radical Lloyd-George and Winston Churchill elements shall subordinate themselves in the cabinet to the more moderate policy which the pre-mier and Sir Edward Gray, the minister of foreign affairs, represent.
