Why Not Own Your Own Home?

It has been truly said that only the rich can afford to pay rent. Rent is a burden upon the shoulders of a poor man that is likely to keep him poor so long as he remains under the yoke. Every month he pays his rent and at the end of the year has nothing to show for it but a bunch of receipts.

Once you own your own home you will be conscious of a freedom that will seem to pervade the very air you breathe. Think of the pleasure, the satisfaction, of standing upon your own door-step and knowing that what you stand on is yours.

If you would like to free yourself from the landlord's grasp, come and see us. We can show you the way. We are selling homes now for May occupancy. The early buyer gets the choice.

LATE WM. BURROWS

DIED ON MONDAY NIGHT AFTER LONG ILLNESS.

He Was in Early Days Widely Known as an Export Merchant—He Also Held Government Position.

William Burrows, an old resident of Kingston, passed away on Monday evening, after a long illness. Mr. Burrows was born in Liverpool, England, and was the son of Thomas Burrows, and grandson of Lieutenant William Aynor Burrows, R. N., who at the battle of Trafalgar, was so seriously wounded that he was invalided and retired. The freedom of his native town of Liverpool was conferred upon him in recognition of his service.

Mr. Burrows came to Canada in early manhood and has since resided for the most part, in this city, where he was well known and highly respected as a man of unflinching integrity.

For many years he carried on a large export business in Canadian produce and in this connection was widely known throughout Eastern Ontario. Afterwards he held the position of gas inspector and collector of canal tolls for Kingston district, retiring about twelve years ago.

Mr. Burrows' wife died nearly thirteen years ago. One son and six daughters survive him. He was a member of the Church of England and a conservative in politics.

The Late Mrs. Margaret Hermiston. Mrs. Margaret Hermiston, wife of the late John Hermiston, died on Monday, at the home of her son, Charles Hermiston, Collingwood avenue, in this city, aged eighty-nine years. The late Mrs. Hermiston was born in Montreal, her parents being the late Mr. and Mrs. Campbell, of that city. With her parents she removed to Kingston, sixty-eight years ago, and almost immediately after coming here was married to the late Mr. Hermiston, a well-known cab driver, of this city. Ever since her marriage Mrs. Hermiston continued to reside here, and during all of that time was a consistent and devout member of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, always taking deep, intelligent interest in all matters pertaining to the welfare of the religious institution.

She is survived by five children, three sons and two daughters, namely: Robert and Charles, of this city; Rev. E. R. Hermiston, pastor of Emmanuel chapel, Portland, Ore.; Mrs. D. R. McRae, of Toronto, and Mrs. J. Hussey, of London, Eng. The funeral, which will be private, will take place Wednesday afternoon, at three o'clock, service at the home of her son, Charles Hermiston.

The Late Miss Friendship. The late Miss M. Friendship, a daughter of the late Thomas Friendship, was a native of this city, and spent all her life here. She had been in the grocery business for about twenty years, and was held in high esteem for her business integrity by all who knew her. She was taken ill only about two weeks ago, and just after it was supposed the crisis of her illness, suddenly collapsed and passed speedily away. She leaves to mourn her loss three sisters, Mrs. W. H. Pickering, Mrs. Thomas Grant, and Miss Fannie Friendship; two brothers, John and Charles, all of this city. The funeral will take place from her late residence, 525 Brock street, on Thursday, at 2.30 p.m. The late Miss Friendship was one of the oldest and most highly respected members of the First Baptist church.

Aged Sunbury Resident Dead. The death occurred at Sunbury, on Monday night, of John McNeely, an old resident of that district, aged eighty-two years. He is survived by two sons and two daughters. The funeral will take place on Thursday.

At Domestic Science School. During this week a series of "At Homes" are being held at the School of Domestic Science, which have been most delightful. Parents and friends of the students are invited to attend. Lunch is served and there is an exhibition some sewing, accomplished by the pupils. The last of these events will be held on Thursday and Friday afternoon. The school is making rapid progress in its various branches, under the able leadership of Miss Susie Hawden, the teacher.

A BIT OF ADVICE

First—Don't Delay—Second—Don't Experiment.

If you suffer from backache, headaches or dizzy spells, if you rest poorly and are languid in the morning; if the kidney secretions are irregular and unnatural in appearance, do not delay. The kidneys are calling for help. Slight symptoms of kidney troubles are but forerunners of more serious complaints. They should be given attention before it is too late.

Booth's Kidney Pills cure kidney trouble. They are recommended by thousands. Can Kingston residents desire more convincing proof than the statement of a Kingston citizen. Mrs. Thos. Moore, of 226 Division street, Kingston, Ont., says: "Very often I would be unable to stoop or lift anything with the dull, bearing down pains that were almost constant in the small of my back. I had tried many remedies but could find little or no relief for this. The kidneys were diseased and inactive and I was languid and weak. I would awake more tired and unrefreshed than on going to bed. I tried Booth's Kidney Pills on recommendation of a friend, procuring same at Mahood's Pharmacy. I soon found them to benefit me going directly to the cause of the trouble. My back strengthened and the pains left it. The irregularities had soon gone. I have not had the least trouble since and can conscientiously recommend Booth's Kidney Pills." Sold by Dealers. Price 50 cents. The R. T. Booth Co., Ltd., Port Erie, Ont., Sole Canadian Agents.

RELATION OF MILK

TO PUBLIC HEALTH DISCUSSED BY DR. W. H. PARK.

New York City Can't Get Fresh Milk—He Declared That Milk Shouldn't be Fed to Infants Unless Boiled.

The medical faculty of Queen's University is indeed to be congratulated on having brought to this city one of the most eminent men in America, today, engaged in the work of medical research. Dr. W. H. Park, director of the research laboratories of the New York city board of health, delivered two lectures before the faculty and students of Queen's. Monday afternoon at 4.30 o'clock, he spoke on "The Relation of Bovine to Human Tuberculosis," and this morning at ten o'clock dealt with "The Relation of Milk to Public Health." Both discourses were masterly, portraying the speaker's thorough acquaintance with his subject. In the course of his remarks this morning, Dr. Park said:

Fresh, wholesome milk in the case of the infant is in no way a perfect substitute for the milk of the mother. The adult may consume safely the ordinarily delivered fresh milk. In our larger cities the great difficulty we experience is inability to obtain actually fresh milk. In New York city we find our farms very remote; five states contribute to our milk supply from a distance of anywhere from fifty to three hundred miles and the average age of our delivered milk is forty hours. We are quite conscious of the fact that there is practically no personal relation existing between producer and consumer and we naturally find little sense of responsibility and little fear of detection in the case of wrong-doing. We absolutely forbid, in any shape or form the adulteration of milk. A few years ago a prevalent substitute was that of twenty per cent. formaldehyde. I do not believe formaldehyde to be harmful; but it is not necessary in fresh milk; if it is used at all, it makes it impossible to control the quantity, and is apt to be used excessively, but the great fault to find is in the fact that it conceals unwholesome conditions. And so in this matter we have made our laws most stringent. Cream is often made to appear richer, the means employed may not be injurious but we brand it as an attempt to deceive the consumer.

The bacteria found in milk are especially harmful to infants during the summer months. On a test which I have made with babies being fed with milk from the cow I found the following: Store milk in summer season, of 79 babies, 21 did well, 20 badly, 15 died; in winter season, of 55 babies, 47 did well, 6 fairly well, 2 badly. Condensed milk, summer, in which there is no bacteria, of 70 babies, 22 did well, 20 fairly well, 14 badly, and 14 died; condensed, winter, of 48 babies, 39 well, 5 fairly, 2 badly, 2 died. Pasteurized milk, delivered in bottles, summer, of 145 babies, 84 did well, 33 fairly, 34 badly, 4 died. In winter, of 59 babies, 35 did well, 20 fairly, 4 badly.

We find beyond all doubt breast feeding to be the most successful. In winter of 421 babies, 184 did well, 180 fairly, 85 badly, none died. In summer of 215 babies 156 did well, 41 fairly, 8 badly and six died; four of these deaths could be allotted to other causes. Owing to the rapid increase of bacteria in the higher temperatures he said that, in summer months, if in any way possible, cows' milk should not be used and where it is of necessity employed it must be pasteurized. We made a test in the city of New York and found that out of ten thousand infants eighty per cent. were breast fed, but we also found that eighty per cent. of the mortality was contributed by the twenty per cent. fed by means other than that of the breast.

We trace many of our epidemics of typhoid and scarlet fever to the sources of unwholesome milk. We have given up the hope of an all-satisfactory milk for all, and we take what we believe to be the next best action and demand that, after March 1st, in the city of New York, all milk must be properly heated for twenty minutes at a temperature not less than 140 degrees.

The speaker told of the incessant war that his department waged with the producer with a view to obtaining the best possible milk for the people of the American metropolis. The lecture was splendidly illustrated.

I. F. Longley, on behalf of the Ascupatian Society, and Dr. W. T. Connell on behalf of the faculty, tendered to the speaker hearty thanks and assured him of a most cordial welcome should he again return to Queen's.

CONCERT AND PLAY

IN ST. GEORGE'S HALL WERE GREAT SUCCESSSES.

Best Vocalists in City Took Part, and the Actors in the Farce Were up to Professional Measurement.

"A corking good concert" as someone truthfully, if sangily said, is what those who attended the St. George's hall, on Monday night witnessed. The programme, which sounded good to the eyes, sounded far better to the ear. There were quartettes by H. E. Burns, J. A. Scott, Dean Barwell and C. B. S. Harvey, and a ladies quartette, sung with much tunefulness by Miss Jessie Reid, Miss Larrie Waldron, Miss Ada Rosevear and Miss F. McLeod. Miss Hazel Massey, who has a clear, true, birdlike voice, sang a lovely thing, "San Cara" an Italian waltz song, and a little delectable in song, Miss Edith Ormer, tried the difficult "Twickenham Ferry," and so pleased every one by her fresh young voice that she had to come back and sing "Just a wearying for you," Mrs. Arthur L. Clark, who says all her words so clearly that her hearers have the pleasure of hearing her sweet, lifting voice doubled, gave two songs, and little Albert Harvey, the tubercular best boy soloist, sang "The Children's Home" beautifully, and was enthusiastically recalled by his friends and those who heard him for the first time.

Our big mayor, Daniel Cooper, just brought down the house with a rollicking song, "The Yeoman's accompanying" with its galloping accompaniment and then came back to vociferous encores, to sing "The Lioner." Dean Bidwell, who was acting as chairman, regretted having to announce that Charles Harvey's cold would prevent him singing a solo, and at the same time cause the audience to miss a treat. The dean himself, scored a great success with his song "The Boatman's Story," which related a sail at the tail of a whale to the north pole, was made to come back when he gave a pathetic number, recalling the time when as a pale young urchin he revelled in a lavishness of affection bestowed by the dear ladies, who for him foresook "even military men." A trumpet solo, by Sergt. Huberland, was the very effective opening of the programme.

Part II was the laughable farce "Box and Cox," in which Miss Mildred Macmorine as "Mrs. Bouncer," the landlady, was imitable. Box a printer, was very cleverly portrayed by Sergt-Major Hart and "Cox" by Corpl. Horton. The audience was kept in a ripple of laughter from start to finish and the acting of all the performers was well within the professional area. To Mr. Harvey, who arranged the musical programme, and to those who took part in it and the farce the deepest thanks of the Sunday school is due and is gratefully given.

CHALMERS CLUB MEETING.

Elected Officers for the Year—Debate on Canadian Navy. The annual meeting of Chalmers Club was held in the church parlour last evening, with a large and enthusiastic attendance. The past year has been a very successful and profitable one for the members in all respects.

Plans for the year's work were suggested, to increase the interest, and energetic officers and committees were elected, who will push the work. After regular business, a debate took place between members of the club. The subject was, "Resolved, that Canada should build her own navy." The affirmative was upheld by H. Robinson and H. Donnelly, and the negative by H. Marshall and D. Chown. The judges, Rev. A. Laird, Prof. Matheson and W. H. Macneac, in giving their decision in favor of the negative, complimented the young men upon their work, adding words of good advice.

More interest is being taken in the organization by the men of the church, and with the spirit of unity that exists among the members, the success of the club is assured. The officers are: Honorary president, W. H. Macneac; president, H. Robinson; first vice-president, S. Cornett; second vice-president, S. Cadenhead; secretary, Ross M. McRae; treasurer, George Hooper; assistant treasurer, Cecil Stuart.

A large number of young people turned out to enjoy themselves at the dance given by the Yacht Club members, in their fine hall, on Monday evening. The floor was in fine condition and excellent dance music was furnished by McAlley's orchestra.

We are inclined to think that heaven will be given to those who are trying to make a heaven on this earth. A self-satisfied man, as a rule, sits on the fence and watches the world go forward.

If a man doesn't grumble at home he may be a sign that he isn't there.
