A man who walked into an hotel in Kingston, Radnorshire, was served with a glass of whiskey by the landlady, who was discussing politics with another customer. The subject was tariff reform versus free trade, and, not being able to understand the meaning of the reference to "raw material," and "finished article," she appealed for an explanation to her last customer, who had just taken his first sip of the whiskey. "Well, it's like this, missus," said he. "This here (pointing to the whiskey), is 'raw material,' and when we gets to the cemetery we'm the 'finished article.'"

THE SPORT REVIEW

FRONTENACUS WIN THE JUNIOR O.H.A. HONOR FROM OSHAWA.

Oshawa won Last Night's Game by 3 to 2—Queen's and Cadets Both Won in Montreal—Other Sporting News.

Of the three hockey teams from Kingston that played away on Friday evening two were successful. At Montreal Queen's defeated Laval in the senior intercollegiate game by eight goals to six, and Royal Military College defeated McGill 11 in the intermediate series by eight goals to five. The cadets and McGill tied in the game in Kingston a week ago, each team scoring ten goals, so the cadets win the round by 18 to 15.

At Oshawa the Frontenacs were defeated in the junior O.H.A. game ordered replayed, owing to Frontenacs having played a man who was some days over the age limit. Oshawa won last evening's game by three goals to two, but Frontenacs win the round by seven to six, as they were two goals to the good here last Monday night. There was great rejoicing here when the result of the game was received, as the outcome was rather uncertain. Frontenacs were playing under disadvantages, owing to several changes on their team, rendered necessary at the last moment on account of an injury received by one of their fastest forwards. However, the Kingston team has won two of the three games they played with Oshawa in the past eight days, and are clearly the better team. When they meet another western team in the next game of the O.H.A. championship series they will have a somewhat stronger team than they played in Oshawa last evening.

Queen's win from Laval was rather narrow, in view of the decisive defeats administered to the French collegians by varsity, who look for the intercollegiate senior championship. However, Varsity will be unable to hold the Allen cup, emblematic of the amateur championship of Canada. If they play any challengers they will have to put an entirely different team on the ice from that now playing as the Allen cup rules do not permit any players to take part in games for its competition who have played in two leagues.

Marchand Saved Frontenacs.

A despatch from Oshawa says: "It was a battle royal between the Kingston Frontenacs and Oshawa here, last night, to decide the winner of groups one and two, in the O.H.A. junior semi-finals. In the first of home-and-home games, played here, last week, Kingston won by a score of 4 to 3, and in Kingston, last Monday night, the home team again won by a score of 5 to 3. The Oshawa team protested the game in Oshawa, claiming Moran to be over age. The protest was allowed and this game was ordered replayed. Kingston, with a lead of two goals, came up with a large number of followers, Gratton taking Moran's place. The interest in the game was intense, and the large rink was jammed. The two teams, which are very evenly matched, have both improved wonderfully, and the game was by far the fastest ever witnessed here. Freeman, Oshawa's brilliant point player, started from Oshawa's goal, passed every Kingston player and scored. It was then a bombardment took place on Kingston goal, but Marchand stopped every one.

The second half started with Oshawa forcing the Kingston defence. Oshawa scored two more, thus making their lead two, and the total score of the two games was 10 to 5. The excitement was most intense, but with two minutes to play, a slow side shot from away out rolled between Hawks' feet and won the round for Kingston, as no more scoring was done. The Oshawa team played a better game all through, but were up against a hard proposition in Marchand, Kingston's bombardment took place on Kingston goal, but Marchand stopped every one.

CAUSE OF FAILURES.

Incompetence and Lack of Capital Result in Insolvency.

As recorded in statistics compiled by Bradstreet's, three-fourths of the 1,381 failures in Canada in 1909 were due to the failure to pay liabilities while four-fifths of the liabilities belonged to the same division.

As regards the number of failures, the proportions is not materially different from 1908, but respecting the liabilities, it is to be noted that the proportion was 20.9 per cent. in 1909, against 26.8 per cent. in 1908.

Incompetence and lack of capital represent a smaller portion of the total number of the failures embraced in the data for 1909 than fell to them in 1908, while fraud, neglect and competition were larger in their effects. Lack of capital remains the leading source of trouble, with specific conditions second and incompetency third.

The first mentioned cause produced 42 per cent. of the failures and 43.3 per cent. of the liabilities, the second accounted for 22.4 per cent. of the failures and 18.4 per cent. of the liabilities, while to the third goes 15.7 per cent. of the number and 17.5 per cent. of the liabilities. Fraud, the fourth most detrimental cause, originated 7.5 per cent. of the failures and 5.9 per cent. of the liabilities in 1909.

Two Millions of Oranges.

More than 16,000 boxes of oranges will be sold in this district during the special orange sale advertised by the California Fruit Growers' Exchange. The oranges were planted five miles. It requires forty cars to make a train load. There are four hundred boxes in each car and the boxes will average 160 oranges each. Upwards of two million oranges will be transported on the special train, and if orders from the trade indicate anything this immense quantity will be disposed of during the week. 5,000 orchards have been stripped of their choicest fruit, wrapped in Sunkist wrappers, placed in these great refrigerated cars and are running under schedule time, just as passenger trains are run, that there may be no delay and that every dealer may be supplied.

A Splendid Record.

At a dinner in New York to celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of the establishment of the Commercial Cable Co., Clarence H. Mackay, president, in his address referred to recent deaths, and had this to say of a former Kingstonian, brother of Mrs. W. H. Wormwith and Miss Sara Gill, of Earl street, who passed away early in the New Year: "Charles A. Gill, who joined the company in 1855 and remained at his post till the day of his death leaving a record unsurpassed for fidelity and trustworthiness."

Collegiates Won Round.

The Kingston Collegiates and R.M.C. II met at the covered rink last evening in the return game of the junior intercollegiate round. Collegiates won by five goals to two. They were one goal behind in the first game, but as the cadets had played some of the intermediate men in that contest, the Collegiates were able to overcome that lead, when they met the soldiers the second time, and the latter were unable to play Holt and Adams, who were with the intermediate team that played in Montreal. On the round the score was: Collegiates, 10; Cadets, 8.

In the first half of last evening's game the score was three to one in favor of Collegiates, who led again at the finish by five to two. Reginald Crawford was referee. The teams: Cadets (10)—McLennan, goal; Lewis, point; Fisher, cover; Sutherland, rover; Robertson, centre; Archibald, left wing; Wright, right wing.

Notes on Sport.

Male defeated Columbia at hockey five goals to one.

Attell and Conley will fight 15 rounds in Los Angeles for the bantamweight title on the 22nd.

John Brennan and Desse Brown of Montreal will be the officials at the Ottawa-Kennew match at Ottawa to-night.

In the opening game of the intercollegiate hockey league University of New Brunswick was beaten by Acadia College at Wolfville, N.S., by 4 to 2.

The leading New York papers carry a report of a big game in the Canadian Nat. on hockey league and the people there are taking to the game with avidity.

The Ottawa hockey club's receipts already have exceeded $20,000, so, despite their $12,000 salary list, the cup holders will be well ahead financially. The biggest gates are yet to come.

Varsity hockey team has been playing their senior men in two associations, the intercollegiate and the O.H.A. The rules of the Allan cup prohibit players for the cup playing in two unions, and the result will probably get the Varsity team into hot water if they win the intercollegiate championship.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE.

Laurence Irving and Mabel Hackney in "The Affinity."

A comprehensive criticism of "The Affinity" was given in a short speech by Laurence Irving, after the second act of his play, last evening. The son of the famous British actor was warmly greeted by the good-sized audience, and his analysis of the play he was presenting was appreciated. If Mr. Irving's explanatory method was generally followed, it would be a good thing for the stage, and audiences would appreciate it, provided, of course, the play possessed any depth of conception.

"The Affinity" called for some comment, in view of its subtle nature. Mr. Irving paid his audience a compliment by stating that it had followed the play with such interest and understanding. His humor was subtle, and entirely different from the humor of the ordinary comedy. "The Affinity" he termed a comedy of tragedy. Though there were no corpses on view, yet the play was a tragedy of human life.

"The Affinity" is from "Les Hameçons," by Eugene Brieux, a distinguished French playwright, and the English version was translated by Mr. Irving. It is a criticism of free love, and shows the tragic results that follow mere physical infatuation. The way of the transgressor is surely hard. Mr. Irving held that incidents in the play were really common to general married life, and created laughter when he humorously intimated that he could testify personally, for Mabel Hackney, his wife, acted a good deal in private life as she did as "Charlotte" on the stage in some ways.

Producing "The Affinity" is a company of outstanding merit. Every character is perfectly portrayed. As "Charlotte," who lives with "Pierre," professor of natural history, as his mistress, and who is fitly described as "a greedy, scolding, exacting, unamoral little animal," Mabel Hackney is simply delightful. She has a most difficult role, but she and the role are one. Mr. Irving has an equally hard role as "Pierre," but, as he says, he likes to strive to impersonate characters that are true to life, he, too, is master of his character. The other roles are admirably played by Orlando Daly, Charles W. Butler, George E. Roberts, Alfred Cahill, Isabelle Lee, Pauline Whitson and Margaret Weston. The scene of the three acts is in the sitting-room of Pierre's flat in Paris.

English Players in "Kitty Grey."

The real novelty of next week will be the appearance of G. P. Huidley, London's popular comedian, and the London Musical Comedy company, at the Grand, on Tuesday, February 15th, in the musical play, "Kitty Grey."

It is a musical comedy in three acts, adapted from the French by J. W. Pigott; music, with introductions, by Paul Rubens. The scenes are laid at the Hotel Royal, Biarritz, in Kitty Grey's dressing-room, the pinacolo room in the Savoy hotel, London, and the Duplay's restaurant, London. Mr. Huidley is seen at the Earl of Duleton, a big-hearted, happy-go-lucky fellow, liked by everyone. He has a genial disposition, but a rapidly-diminishing account at his bankers. He visits Biarritz in search of an American heiress. He finds her, but greatly to his surprise, the heiress refuses his offer of marriage. Then Duleton becomes one of the most devoted followers of Kitty Grey, the bright, popular star of "The Giddy Widow" company.

"Kitty Grey" is well supplied with tuneful music; and many of the numbers are sure to be whistled before the week is out. Eva Kelly, in private life the wife of Mr. Huidley, appears as Lady Benfield.

"The Belle of Brittany."

Frank Daniels comes to the Grand, on Wednesday, in his latest and greatest success, "The Belle of Brittany." The piece made a hit in London, and it was there that the comedian saw it and made up his mind that the role of the hard-up marquis who mortgages his estate to the village miller, was just the excuse he was looking for to be Frank Daniels in other clothes and amid new surroundings. An exchange of cables between the star and his managers resulted in the signing of the necessary papers to give the Messrs. Schubert, the American rights of the piece. The result was an engagement on Broadway, lasting several months, and another success added to the many achieved by this drollest of comedians. The cast includes: Frank Rusworth, Herbert Neville, Joseph A. Bingham, Martin Brown, Elia Ryan, Frances Kennedy, Christine Nelson and a bevy of pretty girls with nimble feet and pleasing voices. The scene is laid in Brittany, in the eighteenth century. The first act shows an old mill and the second act represents the interior of the Chateau St. Gautier.

Riley-Peters.

The marriage took place, quietly, in Kingston, at 419 Albert street, on December 22nd, 1909, of Miss Jennie Peters and Frederick Demontford Riley. They were unattended and Rev. S. Shibley, performed the ceremony. The groom is a native of Cararaqui, and has been engaged in railroad construction all his life. The bride is a resident of Kingston, but formerly resided in Colborne, Ont. Mr. Riley was recently appointed section foreman on the G.T.R., at Newcastle, and he and Mrs. Riley will, on Monday, remove from the city so as to take up his new work.

Furniture Sales given special attention. County Sales of Farms, Estates, still continues in St. Andrew's church, strong as ever; and the affection of the congregation is unabated. Nor has he been forgotten by his admirers in other religious bodies. This was shown by their attendance at the anniversary services held in the church last Sabbath, when, in the morning, a full congregation greeted his appearance in the pulpit, and in the evening not only the people of St. Andrew's, but many of other congregations in town thronged to see and hear the reverend gentleman and have old and pleasant recollections revived.

Gifts to Newburgh.

A number of bequests of interest to Newburgh were made by the will of the late Mrs. John D. Ham, Napanee. St. John's Anglican church was endowed to the amount of $1,000, the synod to pay four per cent. on the endowment towards the rector's stipend. This church also receives the vacant lot in the centre of the village owned by Mrs. Ham, and provision is made for the placing of a memorial window in the church. The Methodist church benefited to the amount of $200, in memory of Mrs. Ham's late husband. One hundred dollars was left the council to be expended for the support of the poor.
