FUNERAL ACCIDENT

GROUND FLOOR OF HOUSE DROPS TWO FEET.

A Panic Created at the Funeral of Miss Gladys Pennington, an Estimable Young Windsor Girl—No Person Seriously Hurt.

Windsor, Feb. 21.—During the funeral services over the body of Miss Gladys Pennington, an estimable young Windsor girl, at the parents' residence, on Karl place, Sunday afternoon the floor of the entire lower portion of the house gave way, and fell a distance of two feet. Women screamed and several fainted. The casket tottered and would have fallen, but was saved by the pall-bearers. The house was crowded with friends of the family, and the unusual weight caused the joists to give way. No one was hurt, but the services of a physician were required to calm the nerves of the excited women.

PATIENT STOLE RADIUM.

$120 Worth Had Been Placed on His Nose.

London, Feb. 21.—A man named Maurice Benedict was under treatment at St. Louis hospital. He was suffering from a disease of the nose and to cure it the doctors had recourse to a composition containing radium. They did not tell him that he carried on his nose about $120 worth of radium, but he found it out for himself and came to the conclusion that so valuable an ingredient was wasted on his nose. Accordingly one day the doctors discovered that the bit of radium had vanished.

They questioned the patient, but he at first feigned stupidity, then indignation that they should suspect him of the theft. The treatment was begun over again with fresh radium, and before long he was pronounced cured and left the hospital. The police kept an eye on him, and when he tried to sell the stolen radium he was arrested and the radium, which was carefully removed from the lining of his coat, was sent back to the hospital.

THREE SUICIDES IN DAY.

Galician, German and Frenchman Ended Lives.

Winnipeg, Feb. 21.—Last year Winnipeg averaged a tragic death a day, and the record has been kept up this year, so far. Sunday night three suicides were reported to the police. The second was a German laborer named Roberov, who cut his throat with a razor in a small house in North Winnipeg. The third was a young Parisian named George Ledoux, who has been eight years out from France, and eight months in Winnipeg. He was a fancy skater by profession, but could not get work of a paying kind, and shot himself in his room at 162 Carlton street.

COAL WEALTH OF ALASKA.

Manager Estimates Tonnage at 50,000,000.

Washington, D.C., Feb. 21.—For a few hours the senate committee on territories heard Manager Stephen Birch, of the Guggenheim-Morgan Alaska syndicate, recite off figures concerning the value of the coal in the coal and copper mines that were quite calculated to cause the heads of the members of the committee to swim. Placing the tonnage in the Cunningham mines at fifty millions, he said that the coal could probably be taken out so as to net a profit of $25,000,000. This statement, taken in connection with the fact that the syndicate had agreed to pay only $256,000 for half of the property, aroused much interest. Mr. Birch placed the probable output of the entire Byng River coal district, of which the Cunningham group is a part, at five hundred million tons, with a net value of $200,000,000 and a gross value of $600,000,000.

Testifying concerning the Guggenheim-Morgan mines on the Cunningham mines Mr. Birch said they covered only half interest, the Cunningham people retaining the rest. The syndicate had agreed to pay $250,000 and to furnish transportation. The company was to be capitalized for $5,000,000. He estimated that it would cost $1.75 cent a ton to mine the coal and that it could be marketed at a profit of fifty cents a ton.

MAY NOT REACH IT

THE COMMITTEE LIKELY DIVIDED ON REPORT.

House May Not Take up Bill This Session—Arbitration Matters Not Subjects for Committee's Enquiry.

Ottawa, Feb. 21.—The Lumsden enquiry will open to-morrow. The liberal members will take the stand that any matters that are a subject of arbitration should not be gone into.

A Toronto delegation, consisting of Mayor Geary, Controller Spence and H. H. Dewart, K.C., are here interesting the government regarding legislation affecting Toronto. A report across the House of Commons is to the effect that the special committee on the Miller anti-racing is divided and that three members will report for its adoption, without amendment, and the other four will compromise, limiting the race meeting.

There is an open chance that the house may not reach the bill this session. A motion was made in the supreme court, to-day, for special leave to appeal from a judgment of the court of appeal for Ontario in the case of the White Mfg. Co. vs. Pringle and the city of Stratford. After argument the motion was ordered to stand until the formal judgment of the court below was obtained and filed.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

The City Council Should Oppose Razing of Naval Cottages.

Kingston, Feb. 21.—(To the Editor): The city council should at once take action to restrain the dominion government from the act of vandalism involved in the destruction of the old naval cottages on Point Frederick.

These buildings are almost a century old, and they have the simple dignity of construction which characterized our architecture before the period when our national culture came to be typified by the mansard roof and the corner grocery.

It is such buildings as these which give to Kingston so much of distinction as our national vulgarity and commercialism have permitted it to retain. It is buildings such as these that constitute the source of interest which draws tourists to the Limestone City, a consideration which should appeal to the very utilitarianism which is now urging their destruction; for with the disappearance of these and other ancient landmarks, Kingston will possess no more of interest than Gananoque or Bath. Tourists will certainly not stop to look at such edifices as the Bank of Montreal, and the Clarified milk building.

The government has already injured Kingston in this regard by erecting at Point Frederick a group of buildings which resemble the plant of a struggling boat and shoe factory rather than a seat of military education.

They should not be allowed to destroy edifices which are in far better taste than any of which the architectural spirit of Ottawa is likely to replace them with, and the disappearance of which would be a great loss to the city.—L'HOMME FACHE.

Ways of Escape Needed.

Parham, Feb. 19.—(To the Editor): After reading the facts in connection with the dreadful railroad disaster which took place not long ago I was impressed with the need of some plan by which passengers could obtain exits when a car became overturned and the thought struck me, why not make the roof of railway coaches of some light material such as tin, only more brittle in nature so a man or woman could with a kick of the foot, make a hole large enough to admit of people getting out. Some have suggested a door to slide on the roof, but as anyone can easily understand when a car is derailed and thrown on its side, every door frame is twisted and will not allow the door to slide or open. Therefore, if the top of the coach was made of some composition of metal so thin and brittle that by a blow from the knee or foot the man or woman could make a passage out without trouble, all would be able to escape. As it is railroad coaches are only death traps.—A. W. STEWART, Pastor Methodist church, Parham.

Leeds Farmer Hits Out.

Mallorytown, Feb. 18.—(To the Editor): From time to time there have been several articles in the papers in regard to the good roads' movement, and I, as a farmer, am surprised to see that it is meeting with opposition. Surely good roads not only enhance the value of farm property in the locality, but are far more economical to travel on than half crushed stone or mud six or eight inches deep. Besides, the old system of statute labor is a back number. My time, and that of every up-to-date farmer, is worth $2 per day on our own farms at the time statute labor is being done. I am of the opinion that any farmer who would kick against a movement of such great importance would lean on his shovel under a shade tree and expect the pathmaster to return him full time.

Surely it is not a very good feeling to have an automobile party tell you that they have travelled all over the United States and that we have the worst roads they have ever seen. Really, I have tried to give eight full hours of faithful work at road making, and am sure other farmers do the same as a rule, and why the farmers are kicking is more than I can understand. I would like to have them explain.

I see that there is to be a big convention in Toronto in March. I will hold up both hands for the movement and hope that the wise heads will adopt some road legislation, and, together with what we already have, press on the government its adoption. Surely the government of our land is doing a good work for the farmer in the dairy interest, in the seed grain line, in the temperance line—doing all in their power to help the people. Now let us not fail to look to our own interests in the good roads' movement.—D. F. ARMSTRONG.

The question of good roads is now a very live one in the county of Leeds. The council of Leeds and Grenville, by the casting vote of the warden, recently decided to expend $200,000 or thereabouts on a system of good roads. Those who objected to the expenditure of so large a sum at once got busy, and circulated petition after petition, aiming to defeat the movement. As the provincial government makes a large grant towards the object, the objectors are flooding the government with their petitions. There is no doubt but that a large majority of the best farmers in the neighboring county want good roads, and are willing to pay for them. More than that, they need them.

Mrs. G. W. G. Groat was called to Ottawa, to-day, owing to the illness of her sister, Mrs. Joseph Forsythe. J. M. Bishop, Brockville, has purchased the George McNish estate at Algonquin. Ex-Premier Arthur J. Balfour is suffering from a cold.
