BRONZE QUADRIGA TO BE ERECTED

QUADRIGA ON CONSTITUTION HILL, LONDON.

The fourth and last horse of the quadriga which is to be placed on Constitution Hill in London this year has just been completed. King Edward recently paid a special visit to the studio of Captain Adrian Jones to inspect the artist's finished work. The group, which is now being cast in bronze, is shown in the accompanying picture on an enlarged scale, to bring out its details. Actually it will appear about half the size shown.

WERE LAWLESS TIMES

IN UNITED STATES AFTER THE REVOLUTION.

More Facts Gleamed from Stark's Sensational Book—Prominent Families Gained Wealth by Plunder.

Boston, March 5.—James H. Stark's new book, which has been causing the "blue bloods" of Boston such mental anguish, not to say sleepless nights, is having a great run here. The true history of the heroes of the revolution seems to make popular reading.

In addition to the biographies of the prominent men of the time, a very searching account of the various deeds by which various American families laid the foundations to their fortunes by buying up for a song the lands confiscated when the wealthier loyalists fled, is given by Mr. Stark. One reference to this matter is given by him when he quotes from the dairy of Judge Samuel Curwen, who fled to England, when the war broke out, and who, while in England, kept in his diary a review of the news as it came. Judge Curwen writes, says Mr. Stark, "From them I obtained much information relating to our country and town."

DYSPEPSIA AS IT BEGINS

This stage easily cured.

The first symptoms of dyspepsia and indigestion give little indication of their subsequent seriousness.

One of the most common symptoms of stomach disorder is a sense of fulness, tightness after eating. This indicates that the stomach needs help. Belching of gas frequently follows, the tongue is coated, the bowels become irregular, until finally, in addition to the stomach distress, constipation adds its deadly influence in destroying health.

The treatment is simple and if employed promptly and reasonably persevered with, cure is speedy and permanent. Take Dr. Hamilton's Pills in full doses every second or third night, three times a week, one pill at bed time.

The first effect of Dr. Hamilton's Pill is to excite activity of the liver and kidneys. This cleanses the system and prepares the stomach for vigorous work. Gastric juice is abundantly secreted; digestion of food and not fermentation, marks stomach activity with total absence of gas and removal of other symptoms of perverted action.

For good health, vigorous appetite and the best digestion, use Dr. Hamilton's Pills. No other medicine will do so much good. Price 25c per box, at all dealers.

(referring to the fact that he had met some people in England just arrived from Boston):

"Those who five years ago were the 'meaner people' are now by a strange revolution become the only men of power, riches and influence. The Cabots of Beverly, who, you know, had but five years ago, a very moderate share of property, are now said to be by far the most wealthy in New England. It is a melancholy truth that while some are wallowing in undeserved wealth, that plunders and rapes has thrown into their hands, the wisest, most peaceable and most deserving, such as you and I know, are now suffering want, accompanied by many indignities that a licentious, lawless people can pour forth upon them."

Mr. Stark's book is crammed full of just such extracts as have been given. Many new and startling facts are found every time one takes up the book.

A true history of the natural son of Dr. Benjamin Franklin, who was never married, is given. The son's name was William, and he was the last royal governor of New Jersey. There are many other facts brought to light which have aroused the patriotic societies. But as a reply to complaints which these sufferers may make Mr. Stark says:

"It is to be said that these are old stories of the past, we reply that these representations are being quoted as having actually occurred and are made living issues for to-day by numerous societies formed for that and kindred purposes. Even those societies designed to keep in remembrance their honored ancestors' part in the revolution make it a point to perpetuate their historic fables and falsehoods, in the belief that anything is good enough to be said of their historic opponents."

LOCAL OPTION FOR CHICAGO

If Daily Prayers of Fifty Millions are Answered.

Chicago, March 5.—The prayers of Christians throughout the world will, it is announced, be turned against the victory on April 5th, as a result of the entrance of the Chicago Christian Endeavor Union into the fight against the liquor traffic. Following a resolution adopted last night by delegates to 400 branches of the society in this city, 50,000 Christians will be asked to stop work at nine o'clock each morning between now and election day and offer a prayer for aid in defeating the saloons here.

It is noticeable that people who talk easily upon a subject don't now too much about it.

In these times of high prices everybody has to pay. Even the oyster is compelled to shell out.

"FINGER POCKETS" FOR WOMEN.

This Will Interest Feminines the World Over.

London, March 5.—Many devices have been invented to take the place of the despised pocket, which no self-respecting costumer will fit into a dress. The latest idea is a "finger pocket," which may hold a handkerchief or a powder-box. The finger-pocket is made of silver and gold, in a square or circular design.

It hangs from a short chain, at the end of which is a ring to slip over the middle finger. These pockets can also be made of brocaded silks or satins and can be fitted with a ribbon ring.

"It is a very pretty fashion," said the manager of a West End firm. "Such pockets are not easily lost, as the ring can be made to fit the finger exactly. Hitherto bags have displaced pockets, but a woman does not always want to carry a bag in which to hold her handkerchief."

The "finger pockets" are made in the most charming designs. The most popular is a piece of dainty enameled work protected by glass. Little wreaths of dull green laurel leaves in a powder-blue ground, or bunches of purple violets on a silver-grey ground, or pale pink roses on a lilac ground are all effective.

"The more expensive designs can be bordered with pearls, and an old miniature may be set in the jewelled frame. The 'powder finger' pockets hold sweet scented powder and a miniature puff, while a tiny looking glass is set inside the lid."

The "finger pockets" for small handkerchiefs may be lined with colored silk, holding sachet powder, and it is a pretty idea to have the fine gauze handkerchief to match the lining in color. Thin silk handkerchiefs are sold to fit these pockets. The finger pockets can also be used as a purse to hold small silver and gold coins.

"Some of our customers wear these pockets on a long gold chain, which passes round the waist."

SO THIS IS WHISKEY:
A Kentucky Definition of Fire-Water
—How It's Made.

Washington, March 5.—President Taft defined whiskey as "neutral spirits reduced by water to the proof of whisky and artificially colored." Now along comes Kentucky with a definition of her own, and she ought to know if anybody does. Prof. M. A. Scovell, of the University of Kentucky, has a report to the governor of that state says the Kentucky idea is this:

"Whiskey is the properly distilled spirit from the properly prepared and properly fermented mash of sound grain, or sound grain the starch of which has been hydrolyzed by malt, and contains much of the volatile flavors, essential oils and other substances derived directly from the materials used, and the higher alcohols, ethers, acids and other volatile bodies congenic with ethyl alcohol produced during fermentation, and which are carried over in the distillation so as to give when the distilled spirit is properly ripened, aged and matured, together with the changes and secondary products produced during ageing, the characteristic appearance, odor, taste and other qualities as distinguished from commercial alcohol, refined alcohol and neutral spirits or other forms of new spirit, and as distinguished from rum, brandy, gin, cordials and other potable spirituous liquors."

MORE LIVING IN CITIES.

Twice as Many as Forty Years Ago

—American Squander.

St. Paul, March 5.—In an address before the Minnesota Hardware Association, James J. Hill told his ideas of frugality. He said in part:

"I don't believe in hoarding money. It has its uses for doing good, but I do not believe it is respectable for people to squander money that other people have earned for them. For the present year 400,000 automobiles have been ordered for the people of the United States. At an average of $1,000 an automobile this would amount to $400,000,000. Not one cent of this

"I'm not in the habit of giving away my money to the poor, but I do believe in giving it to the poor in a way that will be appreciated by them."

"In the past twenty years the American people have at least learned how to spend money with a free hand.

"They are proportionately a far greater number of people living in the cities of the United States to-day as compared with the population of the rural districts than ever before. In 1855 but 20 per cent of our people lived in the cities; to-day the percentage of city dwellers is more than 40."

Harsh purgative remedies are fast giving way to the gentle action and mild effects of Carter's Little Liver Pill. If you try them, they will certainly please you.

We are told that blasts from a ram's horn knocked down the walls of Jeicho, and we have seen a blast from a ram's horn knock down a man.

Another confection is a "set," and proved quite beyond masculine comprehension. Anyhow, it was valued at $500 and was what Madame called a Marie Antoinette headdress and a hat of gray to match. It was made of chiffon and trimmed with roses.

The association hopes to collect money to build a hotel and hall. The latter will contain a lecture room, a designing hall and a library, all devoted to the ethical and aesthetic advancement of millinery. The former is for trimmers who come to New York to see the prices.

"Say," said one of the newsmen, "do you people get together and decide what the styles will be and whatever you say the women have to wear?"

Madame gazed back with enigmatic eyes. "Well, we always try to influence our patrons for their best good," she replied.
