THIS WEEK'S FEATURES.

To-night Grace La Rue in "Molly

Miss Grace La Rue has found a particularly well-fitting role for the fullest expression of her superior talents as a comedienne in the new comic opera, "Molly May," which was written for her by Walter Browne and Julian. Edwards, and which will be presented at the Grand Opera House, to-night. For some time Miss La Rue has been the cause of much admiring comment, some of it extravagant, because of her singularly fine dressing. Her gowns indicate extraordinary cost as well as perfect good taste.

"Mr. Hamlet of Broadway.

The engagement of Eddie Foy, in 'Mr. Hamlet of Broadway," the musiwhimsicality in which he appeared 8 the Casino, New York, for six | months, will be the attraction at the Grand on Wednesday, March 9th. In the title role of this piece, Mr. Foy has found a part particularly adapted to his style of comedy and surrounded as he is with a cast of well-known players, being seventy-five in number, he has made in this piece the biggest hit of his career.
