KINGSTON'S CHANCE

TO GET A BIG SHIPBUILDING CONCERN.

The Men in the Enterprise Stand High in the Commercial World—The Company is Asking for Next to Nothing.

Owen Sound, March 15 (To the Editor): On Monday next the voters of your city will decide by their vote whether the Kingston Shipbuilding Company, Limited, is to become a live business concern or not. If the by-law is carried the company will commence operations at once and will establish an industry in your city which will afford employment for a large number of skilled workmen and laborers at fair rates of wages and bring to your city many steamships, vessels, barges and other craft.

The Kingston dry dock was built many years ago by the federal government, and, as is well known to the citizens of Kingston, it has been of very little benefit to them, as it has not been operated in a way to encourage the development of a shipbuilding industry.

The Kingston Shipbuilding Company was incorporated for the purpose of acquiring the dry dock, and if it has completed arrangements whereby it will take immediate possession of the dry dock property, provided the city exempts the property from municipal taxation for a period of ten years and gives a fixed assessment of $50,000 for school purposes.

So far as Mr. Calvin, Mr. McKeiver and Mr. Fair are concerned, I can only say that their foresight and energy in endeavoring to establish in Kingston a dry dock and shipbuilding industry, such as we have in contemplation, should carry the commendation and support of every one who has the welfare of the city at heart.

Most of the ships now engaged in the Canadian lake trade were built in Great Britain. Are Canadians to continue that policy and purchase their ships abroad? Or shall they make an effort to keep this business where it belongs and build their own ships with their own material and with their own workmen?

Steel ships on the great lakes are increasing at an enormous rate, and when one reflects that the yield of wheat and barley of the Canadian North-West in 1900 was about 32,000,000 bushels, and that the yield of last year was estimated at over 313,000,000 bushels, being a tenfold gain in nine years, some idea may be formed of the possibilities of the country and what may be expected during the next ten or twenty years.

If the size of the Welland canal is increased so as to admit of the passing of the larger ships from the upper lakes to Lake Ontario, Kingston should be the port of transportation where the bulk of the export grain from the North-West will be elevated from the great lake ships and transferred to smaller boats and barges adapted for the purpose of transporting it through the canals of the St. Lawrence to Montreal for ocean shipment.

The directors of the Kingston Shipbuilding Company decided that Kingston is the place for such a yard, and they are ready and willing to back up their judgment by the immediate expenditure of a large sum of money in establishing such a yard at Kingston as will be sufficient to give the best possible service to the lake trade, provided the city offers some encouragement and exempts the property from taxation.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY

OBSERVED IN ST. MARY'S CATHEDRAL THIS MORNING.

Sermon by Rev. Father McCoghlin, of Ogdensburg Diocese—Fine Music Rendered by the Choir.

There is a 40-day gladness in the air and in the hearts of citizens of Irish blood, and indeed among all classes of the community, the warm heartedness of the Sons of Erin being the unalloyed magnet of many broad sympathies. Was it not Moore once wrote— The thread of our life would be dark, if it were not with friendship and love intertwined.

The morning, in St. Mary's cathedral, pontifical high mass in honor of Ireland's patron saint was celebrated by His Grace, Archbishop Gauthier, assisted by Rev. A. J. Hanley, rector, St. Jean-Baptiste, drawing the attention and support of all sections of the people.
