AMERICAN AND BRITISH ROUTES TO THE SOUTH POLE

Announcement that both American and British expeditions are to start for the South Pole in the coming year has added unusual interest to the work of Antarctic exploration. The accompanying picture shows the two sides of the Antarctic ice cap over which the expeditions will make their way. Captain Scott, leader of the British expedition, hopes to mak his base on hing Edward's Land, whence he will follow the line indicated as closely as conditions will permit. The American expedition plans to establish its base on Coats Land, and will have to travel about eleven hundred miles over the ice and possibly wait to reach the goal.

STARTLING SUGGESTIONS FROM

Would End Property and Kill All Undesirables-Every Man Should Be Allowed Full Liberty.

London, March 18 .- Bernard Shaw, addressing the Eugenies Education Society at Caxton Hall, advocated among other things the abolition of property and marriage, and the authorization by the state to kill un-

"It is most obvious to everybody," he said, "that before we can begin to breed the human race with the further in the direction of political revolution than the most extreme socialist now ventures to suggest

"It is evident that we need the entire abolition of property, and marriage, as now understood, as a preminary step. I do not see any way out of that. I have found when addressing audiences on political ques-tions that they immediately get extraordinarily interested whenever I touch upon the subject of marriage and improvement of the human race. "They already feel that if it is de nonstrable that property is incompatible with achieving a high level of humanity, property must go, and it is evident that if they could be made to echieive that marriage is also incompatible with reaching that level they would be prepared to consider whether marriage should not go."

Briefly attributing the existence of poverty, ignorance and idleness to property, Shaw did not elaborate on th's point, merely adding : "Let us enly set rid of property and we shall get rid of all that,"

He then concentrated his remarks on the marriage question. "It was regarding marriage," he said, "That instead of people finding themselves in a great community of marriageable persons of their own age there were only about three persons within reach and they did not like any of them. Nevertheless, they had to make the best they could of these three. They were driven into a marriage which con equently hardly ever represented their natural impulse, yet natural impulse seemed to be the only thing which is to be trusted for the provement of the race.

Dealing at length with this point Shaw contended that in order to give natural impulse a chance to operate satisfactorily there ought to be a serious effort to make the whole community intermarriagable and to widen the sphere of sexual selection. Eugenic politics should be directed to

It seems to be that to meet cases of that kind we shall have to make some provision by which women can become mothers without having to live domestically with the fathers of their

Thought the Disease was Cancer of the Stomach

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" Cured Him

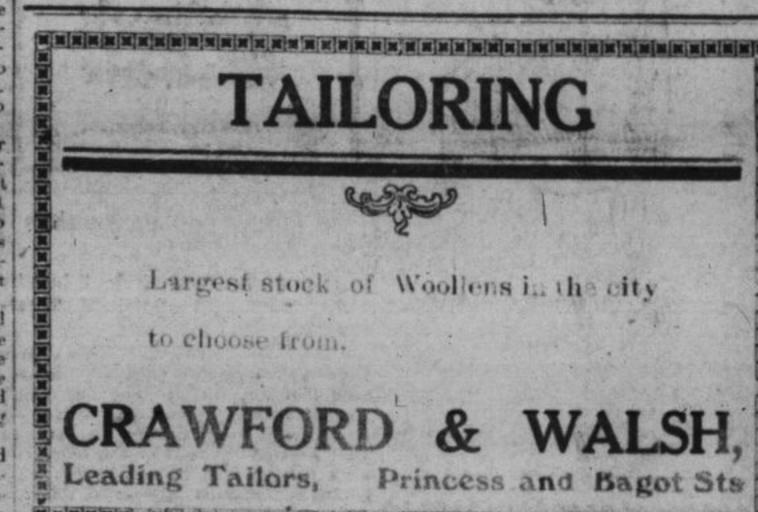

SVDNEY MINES, N. S., JANUARY 25TH 1910

"For many years I suffered torture from Indigestion and Dyspepsia. Two years ago, I was so had that I vomited my food constantly. The agony I endured all these years, I cannot describe and I lost over 25 pounds in weight. I also suffered with Constipation which made the stomach trouble worse. I consulted physicians, as I was afraid the disease was cancer but medicine gave only emporary relief and then the disease was as bad as ever.

I read in the "Maritime Baptist" about "Fruit-a-tives" and the cures this medicine was making and I decided to try it. After taking three boxes, I found a great change for the better and now I can say "Fruit-a-tives" has entirely cured me when every other treatment failed, and I reverently say 'Thank God for Fruit-a-tives' !!"

EDWIN ORAM, SR.
