During the wister there was unusual intere t displayed in hockey, but this promises to be divided by the great interest taken in basebalt. There are teams galore, and all are entered in ris and all have four or five extra men signed for the season. There has been some fine chasing and scouting for I yers this season.

The cricket field presents a very busy appearance every day, especially after four o'clock, when the grounds re simply crowded with fellows playing ball. Some interesting games have been flayed off lately between the students, teams from different boarding hous a coming together for a f lendly game. There are a number of good ball players going to Queen's and the city teams would be indeed fortunate if they remained the season.
