THE POLICE COURT

THEATROPHUM MEN HAD TO PAY FINE

For Allowing Their Houses to be Overcrowded—Evidence of the Police Who Made Inspection on Saturday Night.

Princess theatre, fine of $10 and costs imposed.
 Bijou theatre, fine of $5 and costs imposed.
 King Edward theatre, fine of $2 and costs imposed.

The above was the result of the cases against the proprietors of three of the local theatres, who were summoned to the police court, on Wednesday morning, charged with allowing overcrowding in the places of amusement. The court room was crowded with interested spectators, and the hearing of the case lasted until noon.

The case of Robert Lipman, proprietor of the Princess theatre, was the first called. A. B. Cunningham appeared on his behalf, and entered a plea of guilty. Mr. Cunningham pointed out the circumstances of the case, stating that there had not been more than 250 people in the theatre, and that the seats were not filled.
 The trouble was, in fact, that the usher was sick on the occasion when the police made the inspection, and, on this account the people could not be shown to the seats as quickly as when the usher was on hand.

City Solicitor McIntyre, who conducted the prosecution, called Constable Arnel, so as to show the court the conditions. Constable Arnel said that he visited the Princess about 8.35 o'clock on Saturday night. He counted about twenty-five people in one aisle, and about forty in the other.
 The seats were all filled, and there was not room for people to get out on one side.

Mr. Lipman was called, and he explained how he had been handicapped by not having his usher on hand. He had helped in the work. There were plenty of seats he said, to accommodate all who were in the house. There were about twenty-five people in one aisle and fifteen in the other.

The magistrate held that there had been a violation, and imposed a fine of $10 and costs.

J. L. Whiting appeared on behalf of A. Burrows, of the Bijou and pleaded "not guilty."

Constable Arnel told about visiting the theatre, about 8.45 Saturday night.
 The place was crowded to the doors, and all the seats were filled, as far as he could see. The aisle was clear back to the seats at the rear, but in this area, at the back of the theatre, there were about fifty or sixty people standing. He counted about thirty and would judge that he had only counted one half of the number. The space at the back could be about 9x15 feet.
 To Mr. Whiting, witness said that he knew Saturday night was a bad night to keep the theatre closed to people. He had received several complaints about the theatre being crowded. Mr. Whiting wanted to secure the names of some of the people who had been complaining, but the magistrate said that he was not forced to give them.

Constables Naylor and Timmerman also gave evidence. Constable Timmerman took the stand, and he counted thirty people in the space at the rear and then there were two or three left in the aisle was clear, however.

Mr. Burrows said that he was not at the theatre the night in question as he was suffering from a severe cold.
 He had two men as ushers, and the piano player was also assisting, at times. He always gave strict orders to allow no standing in the aisles.
 The space at the rear, he had never regarded as a passage way, as it was not guarded by railing, but had, on account of instructions received from the police, compelled with the request to keep this space open, but found it very difficult, at times, to do so. He had on several occasions, to give the people their money back, and let them go out.

Several of the employees at the theatre were called. Gordon Staley said that there were about twenty-five people at the rear, but it was not crowded by any means. However, he would not contradict the evidence of the constables, when they stated that there were more. William Francis, the doorkeeper, said that there had been no limit placed on him, as to the number of tickets he should collect.
 He swore that there were only a few people standing at the back. Edward Pound, another attached to the theatre, thought that there might have been about twenty-five people standing, but not any more.

Mr. Whiting pointed out that the doors were wide open, and if the people had occasion to go out, they could do so, without any trouble. The danger was all imaginary. The proprietor did not want to violate all the regulations, but was doing his best to regulate things. If there was any violation, it was purely of a technical nature.

Mr. McIntyre said that the charge was laid under the section with regard to "excess from public buildings" and this pointed out that all approaches must be kept clear. It was probably all right, in times of peace, when there was no trouble, to allow Union Street.

Deathly Cramps Stomach was Bloated

A Bad Case That Proves Cramps and Stomach Disorders are Cured Fast by Nerviline.

"The distress I suffered from cramps last summer was so severe I thought it meant death," writes P. B. Emerson, of Guys Hill P. O. I was doubtingly up with pain and in such bad shape I couldn't walk a hundred feet.
 I remembered having Nerviline on hand and took half a teaspoonful in sweetened water. In five minutes I was well and my stomach derangements disappeared entirely."

For cramps, flatulence, diarrhoea, and disorders of the stomach and bowels, Nerviline knows no equal—a million bottles used every year—fifty years on the market, that's proof enough of its merit. Large bottles 50c; trial size 25c. at all dealers.

Told in Twilight

The tea given on Saturday by Miss Elizabeth Walsh, Clergy street, for Miss May Wormworth and Miss Florence Selley, the brides-to-be, was very pleasant. The hostess and her mistress, the Misses Lambert looked after the tea and the floral adornment of the house was very effective. Golden flowers, daffodils and tulips were in the drawing room, while pink carnations made the tea table and dining-room centres of fragrance. The guests of honor received with the hostess and Golf has begun again, and therefore, the joys of Bathminton have begun to fade in a way as untimely as the hot days we've had for March and April. No one can be expected to play indoors, when there's an opportunity of playing out of doors.

Mrs. Iva Martin, "Underwood,"

A Gift For W. E. Skinner.
 A very pleasant event took place at noon, Tuesday, at the office of the National Drug and Chemical Co., when the manager and employees gathered and presented W. E. Skinner with a beautiful gold mounted silk umbrella, bearing the monogram "W.
 E. S." before his departure for Montreal. Mr. Gow, manager, made a very appropriate address touching on the esteem in which he was held by those connected with him, to which Mr. Skinner made a very feeling response. The employees very much regret his departure, but wish him happiness and success in his new field.

Watering Carts All Ready.
 The rain fall at noon, to-day, was a great relief, but it was unfortunately of too short duration. The street watering carts are now all ready for commission and the street pipes have been got into working order, so that street watering will proceed regularly hereafter. The watering carts this spring were at work earlier than at any other time in the history of the city.

To Start Walk Building.
 It is expected that the construction of concrete walks will be started on the 15th, about a month earlier than last year, and the earliest on record in this city. About six miles of walks will be laid by next fall.

 them much surprise. The like of it had never been found in any other
