

Dropsy Given up by Doctor

"I had dropsy, and was told by my family physician that there was no chance for me. My family also gave me up. My limbs and body were swollen one-third larger than natural, water collected around my heart and I had to be propped up in bed to keep from smothering. I took Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy until I was entirely cured. This was in 1902, and I am now able to do any kind of work on my farm. My cure was certainly marvelous."

A BAD EXPLOSION

130 TONS OF DYNAMITE ON LIGHTER BLOWN UP.

15,000 Buildings Damaged — Two Persons Killed and Eighty-three Injured—Passenger Steamer's Narrow Escape.

Victoria, B.C., April 28.—Shaking Kobe with the force of an earthquake and leaving damage suggestive of a typhoon, a terrific explosion took place on a dynamite lighter in Kobe harbor on April 27th, according to news brought yesterday by the steamer Awa.

Not only was immense damage sustained ashore, including more than 15,000 buildings damaged, two persons killed and 83 injured, but the Blue Funnel liner Myrmidon and several steamers narrowly escaped, and the dynamite-laden liner was seen to be on fire. The Myrmidon was stopped just as the lighter blew up with a terrific detonation. The steamer vibrated heavily and the hatches were forced off. The explosion ignited 130 tons of dynamite and three other lighters holding fifty tons more, were sunk by the upheaval without exploding. A huge column of water and debris was thrown up and a number of persons on shore were thrown down, as were also officers on several steamers in the harbor.

Not a house in Kobe escaped damage. Many buildings along the Bund, notably the Oriental Hotel, the German consulate and steamship business offices, were severely injured. There were only two men on the lighter. Both were killed.

Belleville Shakes Him Off.

Belleville, Ontario. Belleville has a few knockers still running at large. But there are not so many here now as there once were. Belleville has perhaps suffered more from well-organized, hard-working knockers than almost any other centre in Ontario. Like the deadly microbes he carried on his pestiferous campaign from within, himself devoid of local patriotism, he made treasonable warfare upon those who provided the means whereby he lived. As a result he has given to this city a reputation throughout Ontario that is synonymous with thriftlessness and stagnation. No doubt the old-time knocker was proud of his work, for he did it well. Belleville was so well knocked that in 1898 after twenty years of incorporation as a city, it contained 2,000 fewer inhabitants than it had two decades before.

Wednesday evening Rev. Mr. Sparling united in marriage Allan E. Coates, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Coates, and Miss Laura Helen Switzer, daughter of the late Charles Switzer, all of Brockville. Thomas Johns, Thurlow, is dead, aged 85. Five sons and two daughters survive. He came to Canada 52 years ago.

A NEW ERA FOR QUEEN'S.

How the Toronto Mail and Empire Regards It.

The decision of the trustees of Queen's university to change the constitution of that historic seat of learning and to make the institution undenominational is very important, and is calculated to have a marked influence upon the future of college education in this country. For some years this movement has been agitated. Queen's, as is very well known, is a Presbyterian foundation. Three denominational tests pertain to it. First, the body corporate must be a Presbyterian church. Second, the principal must be a minister of the Presbyterian church. Third, a majority of the board of trustees must be Presbyterians.

Now, the university has organized appeals chiefly, in so far as support is concerned, to Presbyterians. It is open to other denominations. As a matter of fact fifty per cent. of its students are not of the Presbyterian church. Yet, it cannot look for help outside of the Presbyterian church owing to its denominational character. It is, therefore, excluded from such assistance as is given to non-denominational colleges by Andrew Carnegie. Among the friends of the university it has long been felt that were it to abandon the denominational tie, which, after all, is little more than a formality, it could gather strength that is now denied it, strength that is now denied it, the multifarious calls upon it, cannot well supply. For this reason the general assembly has been from time to time, urged to agree to a logical course, the assembly, or at least a number of its members, has been indisposed to consent to a change in the relations of the university to the church, whereupon it has been met with the argument that if it will not allow the church to strike out, it should do something for the support of the institution.

The action of the trustees is in conformity with the policy they have long advocated. It means that the university will take upon itself an undenominational character, but will preserve the theological department as at present. All denominations will be free to participate in the control in the manner suggested by the board, and the tests will disappear. The object aimed at is the creation of a university that shall serve eastern Ontario. The movement will be viewed sympathetically by all interested in higher education, and with the best wishes for its success.

Too Generous a Gift.

Lady Maxwell, wife of General Maxwell, who has been stationed in Cairo, Egypt, has a good story to tell of a certain very "generous" contributor of hers who attended one of her "crushes." The visitor went to wash her hands and took off all her rings, hoops of diamonds, rubies, and emeralds. Apparently in her excitement at finding herself at so important a house, she forgot all about the rings and left them behind in the dressing-room. By-and-by a servant came to Lady Maxwell and handed her the rings, which, it was eventually proved were worth something like $6,000. Lady Maxwell made inquiries and discovered the owner.

"Who found them?" inquired the guest.
"One of my maids," was the reply, "there she is."
The wealthy lady opened her gorgeous jeweled purse and searched carefully through it until she found a quarter, which she handed with an air of great generosity to the amazed servant.
"You are far too lavish in your kindness," said Lady Maxwell. "I should not think of allowing one of my servants to accept so extravagant an offering. Put it in my hospital box."

He Could Not Recommend.

The editor of the Plunkville Argus was seated at his desk, busily engaged in writing a fervid editorial on the necessity of building a new walk to the cemetery, when a lettered specimen of the tramp printer entered the office, says the Youth's Companion.
"Mornin', boss!" said the caller.
"Got any work for a print?"
"I have," answered the editor. "You happened in just the right time. I got only a boy to help me in the office and I need a man to set type for about a week. I have to make a trip out West. You can take off your coat and begin right now. I start tomorrow morning."

"All right," said the typographical loafer, removing his coat. "What town are you going to travel on?"
"The X. Y. Z. mostly. I've never been on it. Know anything about it?"
"I know all about it. I have traveled it from end to the other."
"What kind of a road is it?"
"Tunk!" said the printer, in a tone indicative of strong disgust. "The ties are too far apart!"

Growing "Cakes" in Alaska.

Utica Globe.
Before a committee of the house the other day Henry M. Hoyt, now attorney-general of Porto Rico, but formerly district attorney in Alaska, was asked to testify concerning what he knew of the agricultural resources of Alaska.
"Up in Nome we grow cucumbers and lettuce," he said, "planting the seeds near the exhaust of the electric light plant. The soil is fertile, and when the little green shoots show above the ground we walk into the steam cloud and attach our visting cards to such of the plants we wish, thus staking out our claims. When the lettuce is well-grown and the cucumbers are round and plump we give banquets to our friends and treat them to the fresh, succulent vegetables grown right on our own domain."
For a moment there was silence in the committee room, then the chairman suggested an adjournment. Mr. Hoyt has not smiled yet.

NEW COMPANY A GOING CONCERN.

Maple Leaf Milling Company, Limited, is a new company which has taken over the whole undertaking as a going concern of the Maple Leaf Flour Mills Company Limited, including therein that of the Hedley Shaw Milling Company Limited. The company has mills at Kenora, Thurlow, St. Catharines, Welland, and Port Colborne (the last named in course of construction) in the Province of Ontario and at Brandon in the Province of Manitoba. When the construction at present under way at Port Colborne is completed the company will have a total milling capacity of 12,300 barrels per day. The company Wheat Belt, and fifteen additional situated throughout the Western West. A million bushel elevator is being constructed next to the new mill at Port Colborne. The company has also warehouses and offices at Toronto, Winnipeg, Kingston, Ottawa, and Montreal.

MARKET FOR OUTPUT.

The rapid growth of the business of the two companies taken over has long made apparent the necessity of additional milling capacity. Further, the tremendous increase in the total output of the Western wheat belt makes it absolutely necessary to have more mills in Canada to handle it. Last year the output of the Western wheat belt amounted to about 125,000,000 bushels, and men who have made a close study of the development that the Western country is likely to see, estimate that by the end of the year 1920 Canada will be producing at the rate of fully 500,000,000 bushels annually. As in the past, a great proportion of this large production will of necessity find its way into Canadian mills. Larger demands are bound to come as the population of the country increases, and the enquiry for the Canadian product, both from Great Britain and from the foreign markets of the world, will increase. The chain of mills that is now controlled by the new company will enable it to go ahead and secure its full share of the trade of every section of the export business to Great Britain and to foreign markets than it has up to the present time.

SECURITY AND EARNING POWER: The assets of the old Companies taken over as above stand in excess of all liabilities and without any allowance for good-will, trade marks, etc., at $3,770,524.11, this amount being ascertained on the basis of an appraisal by the Canadian-American Appraisal Company, Limited, as of March 17th, 1910, of the capital assets taken over, and the certificate of Messrs. Price, Waterhouse & Company, as of February 28th, 1910, as to current assets and current liabilities, with a liberal allowance for all contingencies. There has also been placed in the Treasury $1,000,000 of additional cash, besides permitting of the completion of a 6,000 barrel mill and a million bushel elevator and storage warehouse at Port Colborne, and of fifteen additional elevators in the West, will provide the new Company with further working capital.

As per certificate of Messrs. Price, Waterhouse & Company, of London, quoted below, the earnings of the old Company on the present plant amounted from September 25th, 1908, to August 23rd, 1909, to . . . . . $218,843.38
And from August 21st, 1909, to February 28th, 1910, to . . . . . $166,793.29
Being for the latter period at a rate equal to over 13 per cent. on the preferred stock of the Company.

The following is the certificate of Price, Waterhouse & Company:—
"Messrs. Cawthra Mullock & Company, Toronto.
"Gentlemen:—
"We have examined the books of the Maple Leaf Flour Mills Company, Limited, which include the transactions carried on under the name of The Hedley Shaw Milling Company, Limited, at Toronto and Branches, from September 25th, 1908 (prior to which date the Company's principal mills were not completed nor in operation) to February 28th, 1910, and we certify that the profits for the period, after making provision for depreciation, but before charging interest on loans, were as follows:—
From September 25th, 1908, to August 23rd, 1909 . . . . . $218,843.38
From August 21st, 1909, to February 28th, 1910 . . . . . $166,793.29
Yours very truly,
"PRICE, WATERHOUSE & CO."

MANAGEMENT.

The properties of the old companies have been constructed and developed under the direction of Mr. Hedley Shaw, late General Manager of The Hedley Shaw Milling Company, Limited, and of The Maple Leaf Flour Mills Company, Limited, and Mr. D. C. Cameron, late President of The Maple Leaf Flour Mills Company, Limited. Both these gentlemen will retain large interests in the new Company, besides being actively identified with it. Mr. Hedley Shaw will occupy the position of Managing Director of the new Company, thus giving to it the full benefit of his long practical experience.

FAVORABLE LOCATION OF NEW LARGE MILLS.

The location of the new large mill at Port Colborne is without exception the best there is in Canada. This mill when completed, in addition to having the large capacity mentioned, will have one of the most modern equipments in the world. The Company at all times will be able to keep it well supplied with wheat. In addition to its own 1,000,000 bushel elevator, which will be situated just alongside of the mill, the Company will be able to make arrangements to have the last steamers, coming down from the West at the end of the season of navigation, tie up for the winter months at the elevator and in this way afford additional storage capacity without any necessity of any capital outlay for it. Should at any time the Company find it advisable to do so, it will also be able to draw from the Government elevator, which will be situated on the same pier as its Port Colborne mill.

The location of the Company's mills is such as to provide a ready market for the bye-products of each. The greater part of the milling capacity will be in Ontario, where, as Government statistics show, a smaller amount of wheat is being grown each year as the farmers go in more and more for stock-raising. This means a brisk demand for the bye-products of the mills for feed.

A complete report on the advantages of the Port Colborne site, prepared by Mr. Hedley Shaw, will be found in the prospectus. Prospectuses and forms of application may be obtained at any branch of the Imperial Bank of Canada or The Royal Bank of Canada, from Guardian Trust Company, Limited, Toronto, and from Cawthra Mullock and Company, Toronto.

APPLICATIONS FOR SHARES SHOULD BE MADE UPON THE FORM ACCOMPANYING THE PROSPECTUS AND SHOULD BE SENT TOGETHER WITH THE REMITTANCE DUE ON APPLICATION TO:
