assed a Resolution Respecting the Late E. J. B. Pense. At a special meeting of the Bog Al of Education, on Tuesday afternoon, the following resolution was adopted, on notion of R. Meek, seconded by We deeply lament the sudden and untimely death of E. J. B. Pense, a former trustee of the high and public schools. He gave to the educational ffairs of the city his closest attention and helped to lay the founda tion for many reforms, the advantages of which have continued unti this day. He was a zealous and untiring worker, and enjoyed the fullest ence of all his associatee. When he acted as a trustee, education in Ontario was not as popularly regarded as it is to-day. It had dawned upon people that their schools should receive a larger measure of their support, but the advocates of advanced measures realized that they required great faith and patience in order to accomplish their purpose.

at 1838 and 1889. His name is imperishof ably connected with those who have served the city most faithfully, and can never be forgotten.

The city owes much to the men who have labored for their schools and prought them to the position which they occupy to-day, and not the least among them is the late Mr. Pense. Resolved : That we put on record our sense of the great loss Kingston has sustained through the death of dr. Pense, and that we convey to his pereaved wife and family our sincere ondolences and the assurance of our biding sympathy.
