TO MEET KING

Roosevelt Will See Him On Monday Next

ON REACHING LONDON

AMBASSADOR REID WILL MAKE THE ARRANGEMENTS.

The Ex-President Will Remain Quietly at Dorchester House Until After King Edward's Funeral—Late News From London.

London, May 14.—Mr. Roosevelt will be presented to King George soon after his arrival in London early next Monday morning. Arrangements to this end have been made at the wish of his majesty, who expressed the desire through Ambassador Reid to greet the former president at the earliest opportunity.

Mr. Roosevelt, upon his arrival here, will proceed to Dorchester House where he will remain quietly until after the funeral of King Edward. It is expected that he will spend the week-end at West Park, although invitations to meet Mr. Roosevelt at that place, which have been issued by Mr. Reid, have been cancelled.

One of the last acts of King Edward was to approve the arrangements for the dinner which was to have been given for the Roosevelt family at Buckingham Palace on May 20th, the day subsequently selected for the monarch's funeral. King Edward and Queen Alexandra, as well as all members of the royal family were to have been present at the dinner and King Edward had expressed the wish that not only Mr. Roosevelt and Mrs. Roosevelt should be guests but that the children, Ethel and Kermit, should attend. All of the arrangements had been completed for a banquet such as is given to visiting monarchs.

Solemn Splendor.

London, May 14.—King Edward's funeral promises to surpass in solemn splendor all former funerals in our annals, or, indeed, in annals of any other amongst the great monarchs of Europe. Seven reigning sovereigns, headed by the German emperor, will ride behind King George as he follows his father's coffin from Westminster through the streets of the capital, and each of them in personally taking part in mourning for King Edward will have the satisfaction of knowing he is doing an act as grateful to the feelings of English subjects as to his own. With them will be the representative of a mighty nation, whose kinship with ourselves ever makes their sympathy with our sorrows as valuable as our joys exceptionally dear and valuable, and the United States' greatest president since Lincoln, and who in the most prominent position of the statesman in American life, will bear official witness by his presence to the sincerity and earnestness with which the citizens of the great Anglo-Saxon nation beyond the Atlantic join in the grief of the mother nation at home.

To Prepare Historical Work.

London, May 14.—The Athenaeum says that last year King Edward gave his consent to the preparation of an historical work, dealing with his own personality and the period covered by his lifetime. The editor is Sir Bernard Holmes, who has written the official life of Queen Victoria and has been for thirty-six years librarian at Windsor Castle. At the time of the king's lamented death, the work which was entitled, "King Edward, the VII, His Life and Times," was almost completed.

The procession to Westminster Hall, Tuesday, for the lying-in-state will be on almost as great a scale as the funeral procession. The cortege will include King George and all the foreign sovereigns on horse back and the queen mother and royal ladies in carriages. The body will be received by the members of the House of Lords and House of Commons, while the choir of Westminster Abbey and the Chapel Royal and the band of the Coldstream Guards will take part in the musical services.

King George's uncle, the Duke of Connaught, accompanied by the Duchess of Connaught and Princess Patricia, arrived in London, 18th evening, from their African trip. They were met at the station by the king and Queen Mary and the royal party immediately drove to Buckingham Palace, where the body of the late monarch lies. King Edward's coffin was temporarily opened to give his brother a last view of the body.

The casket rests in the centre of the throne room, which presents the appearance of a richly-adorned private chapel. The chairs of state from which past sovereigns witnessed so many brilliant scenes have been removed and an altar has been erected on a dais beneath a canopy beneath which white flowers are banded. Only the members of the royal household, the diplomatic corps and intimate friends of the late sovereign will be admitted to this private lying-in-state.

Friday morning, the coffin will be finally closed. The funeral procession from Westminster Hall to Paddington station will likely start at 10 o'clock Friday morning, arriving at Windsor.

Holiday in Canada.

Ottawa, May 14.—The cabinet, having received official notification that the funeral of King Edward has been fixed for Friday, 20th, has approved of a proclamation which will be issued forthwith, calling upon the people of Canada to observe Friday, 20th of May, as a general holiday and a day of mourning. This will mean that all business will be suspended on that day. It will be a bank holiday and it is expected that all sporting events or other occasions of amusement will be cancelled for that day. Memorial services will be held in all the churches.

CAN LEAVE IT OFF.

Catholic Women Will be Interested in Announcement.

Milwaukee, May 14.—Catholic women who wish to wear décolleté gowns need not allow their enrollment in the scapular to interfere. Pope Pius has issued an edict that in such cases it is not necessary for women to wear the scapulars around their necks.

Pope Pius' edict is contained in a letter to Archbishop Messner of Milwaukee which will be read in all Milwaukee churches on Sunday. The letter in part says: "The holy father, always interested in the affairs of his children, is desirous that Catholic women who take an active part in social affairs be not restricted in the dress proper for social requirements by any open insignia of their faith and therefore dispenses them from wearing their scapulars where they will be conspicuous doing away with them altogether if they desire."

EIGHT DROWNED.

Pleasure Party of Students Ends in Tragedy.

Wilkesbarre, May 14.—High school students, six girls and two boys, lost their lives while boating on what is known as the Old Paper Mill Dam at Huntington Mills, about twenty miles below this city.

Twelve students of the Huntington High School secured two boats at the noon hour, and started for a row on the dam. The dam is nearly half a mile in width, and when the craft had reached the center it was noticed that one of them had sprung a leak.

An effort was made to transfer the girls from the leaky boat to the safer craft. The last one of the party had scarcely set foot in the boat when it began to sink, owing to the combined weight of the party.

Health Improved.

Canes, France, May 14.—Joseph Chamberlain, the British statesman, appears to be much improved in health. He may be seen almost daily promading the boulevards.

Mr. Chamberlain, who has been in ill-health for a long time, came here on February 21st to recuperate.

FOR ADJUSTMENT

OF CONSTITUTIONAL ISSUES, IT IS BELIEVED.

Prolongation of Parliamentary Vacation is Indication That Conditions are Favorable for Settlement—A New Precedent by Both Houses.

New York, May 14.—The London correspondent of the Tribune cables: "The adjournment of parliament until Tuesday is a sign that another new precedent will be set by both houses. They will receive the body of King Edward at Westminster Hall when it is carried there in solemn state from Buckingham Palace. This was not done in 1760, when the body of George II was carried from Kensington Palace by torchlight to the Princess' chamber adjoining St. Stephen's. That was the last occasion when a British monarch lay in state when it was only for a few hours before the final obsequies in the abbey. Westminster Hall is associated with coronation feasts, historic trials like those of Charles I, Warren Hastings and the seven bishops, and memorable events like the proclamation at Cromwell's Protector, but not with the burial of kings. The new precedent for the lying in state of the dead monarch was inspired by the public homage paid to William Ewart Gladstone.

The prolongation of the parliamentary vacation until June 8th is a fresh indication that the present session will be filled out with controversial matters and that the crisis in the relations of the two houses will be deferred until the coronation year, and possibly be avoided altogether by a timely compromise. Conditions favor not only the modification of the intoleration accession declaration but also a statesmanlike adjustment of the constitutional issues.

Pestilence And Death Reign In Camps

KILLING SURVIVORS

VOLCANOES IN COSTA RICA IN ERUPTION.

And Are Adding Terror and Danger to the People—A Peculiar Feature Connected With the Quake is the Many Births Occurring.

San Jose, May 14.—Slight earthquake shocks have again been felt throughout Costa Rica, adding to the terror of the survivors of the stricken city of Cartago and others of the Paraiso district. The volcanoes of Peas and Erasa are in eruption, and volcanic dust is rapidly settling over most of the country, while pestilence and disease reign in the camps established for the survivors of the quake. Many have died during the last three days, and new camps are to be established in the hope of saving the patients.

One of the most peculiar features connected with the quake last week was the great number of babies born during the time the earth was rocking and demolishing Cartago. It attracted the attention of President Jimenez and he appointed an accouchement squad for all refugee camps. Martial law is still enforced throughout the republic. In spite of this, however, many of the quake victims have been robbed and their wrecked homes looted. Orders have been issued to shoot down anyone found engaged in this work.

TRUMB BADLY JAMMED.

Accident to a Gananoque Employee on Friday.

Gananoque, May 14.—John Nelson, an employee in W. J. Gibson's harness works, had his thumb badly jammed while operating a press there, yesterday forenoon. Dr. Bird dressed the injuries, which necessitated amputation at the first joint.

MADE A MUSEUM.

The Former Home of Popes in France.

Washington, May 14.—Catholics and others all over the world are deeply interested in the semi-official dispatches from Paris stating the stately papal palace at Avignon is to be remodelled and turned into a national museum. Recent researches draw attention again to the common error that the Vatican was the only official seat of the papal state. The palace at Avignon once was occupied by Clement VI, and was erected under the reigns of the Popes Benedict XII and Gregory XI (1313-1378). All through the nineteenth century it was used as a barracks. It was only five years ago that the military administration finally vacated the palace.

PRINCESS RECOVERED.

Queen Wilhelmina Takes Babe Out For Drive.

Amsterdam, May 14.—Princess Juliana is perfectly well. The reports published in Paris and elsewhere, yesterday, that the little princess was seriously ill are without any foundation in fact.

It will be recalled that when Mr. Roosevelt visited Holland he was not able to see Juliana for the reason that she had been vaccinated recently and had not fully recovered from the effects. Since then she has been restored to her normal health.

On Tuesday, Queen Wilhelmina took the princess for a long drive in an open carriage.

Woodruff closed his business yesterday to the highest bidder. He made money until the price of milk and ice rose. Then he was compelled to raise the price of sandwiches one cent. His business declined right away.

THE GREAT RUSH

TO THE COAL FIELDS SINCE OPENING OF NAVIGATION.

Despatch From New Ontario Says That Real Coal Underlies the Lignite Deposits—People are Pouring In.

North Bay, Ont., May 14.—Since the opening of navigation it is reported that the coal fields along the Mattagama river, north-west of Cochrane, have been visited by a number of exploring parties, and the reports coming out are very encouraging.

E. G. Burrows, who took a party in for a New Lignite syndicate, has just returned with excellent samples of canal coal, and staked ten claims adjoining the T. and N. O. railway commission claims. The members of the syndicate are highly elated over the success of the expedition and a few days in town at his residence, on Main street. Leonard Lee, Melville street, spending the past few weeks at his home, here, has returned to his duties at North Bay.

Miss Lulu Boerman, King street, spending the past week with Brockville friends, returned home, last evening. Arthur Nott, a young Englishman, located here for the past year, left recently to take a situation in Peterboro. Mrs. R. M. Stevens, Alexandria Bay, N.Y., spending the past few weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. De Wolfe, Sydenham street, has returned home.

The Mattagama Coal Mining company, comprised of North Bay boatmen, have eight coal claims and are very optimistic as to results. Foster Shields, of Sudbury, representing a syndicate having coal and iron claims in the new district, left for the north-to-day to arrange for active mining operations. This syndicate claims to have stripped iron deposits showing an almost unlimited tonnage of metal.

Oil prospects are very encouraging, as along the banks of the Mattagama River has been found a dark greasy substance flowing into the river, which floats on the surface and has every indication of being petroleum. There is splendid water-power on the Mattagama with falls 150 feet high, while there is an expanse of river just above of twelve hundred feet.

The fine samples of coal brought out have caused considerable excitement among mining men, and it is confidently expected that large coal deposits will be uncovered of great commercial value in the Mattagama districts, besides iron and oil.

TO READ PROCLAMATION

Of King George's Accession Next Friday Afternoon.

The proclamation telling of the accession of George V as king of Great Britain and Ireland, will be read by Lieut.-Col. Hemming, D.O.C., after the memorial service in St. George's cathedral next Friday afternoon. All the military units in Kingston will be called out and drawn up to hear the proclamation. It has not yet been decided where the proclamation will be read. It is possible that the troops will be paraded on the Market Square or the cricket field. When the proclamation concerning King Edward's accession was read in 1901 it was given by Col. Drury, A.D.C., from the steps of St. George's cathedral. In view of the different weather conditions now it is possible that the troops will be paraded elsewhere.

SOBBED AT SIGHT

TWO INNOCENT MEN HANGED FOR MURDER.

Reinforcement of Their Remains Marked by Great Procession and Celebration.

London, May 14.—Headed by fifty clergy, a procession of 10,000 people, 500 jaunting cars and twenty bands of music, escorted from Newgate jail for reinment at Longmore, County Tipperary, yesterday, the exhumed remains of William and Daniel McCormack, who were executed together in Newgate jail on May 11, 1858, for a crime of which it is stated they have since proved innocent. The crime for which the McCormacks were hanged was the murder of an estate steward named Ellis, who became an object of hatred through ordering a number of evictions. He was shot from behind a hedge on October 22nd, 1857. A man named Michael Gleeson, one of the evicted tenants, whose son was present at the funeral yesterday, confessed to the crime. The judge who sentenced the McCormacks committed suicide. The occasion of the reinment was made a holiday in the district. All the shops were shut the blinds were drawn and everyone was dressed in black or wore crepe armbands tied with green ribbons. Many old persons sobbed as the hearse passed.
