"WARMER" RELIGION

ADVOCATES LEAVING PULPITS AND GOING TO THEATRES.

His "Frozen Piety"—Rev. Walter E. Bentley Says Clergymen Have Been "Jollying"—Other Methods Re- quired.

New York, May 14.—Abandoning pulpits of fashionable churches and transferring their energy to the theatres, halls and streets was advocated at the third clerical conference, held under the auspices of the Federation of Churches.

"We all feel that Protestantism is on its last legs," was a statement made by Rev. Walter E. Bentley, Brooklyn. This made the 125 clergy- men present give strict attention.

"There is a coming Catholicism" con- tinued Mr. Bentley, "and perhaps this federation is aiding it. Let us find some way we can stand by each other in a Catholic plan, or the old apostolic plan, which was all to be to- gether in one place and of one accord."

"To use a slang expression, we have been sort of 'jolly' the people along. We have been saying, 'Please come; won't you come to Jesus and be saved?' We need to get the horse be- fore the cart.

"Could we not give up some of our poorly attended evening services, com- bine forces and hold meetings in theatres or some other places not used and thus get away from our frozen piety?

"If we go to a theatre let's be very frank about it. The theatre appeals to the eye as well as to the ear. Get some scenery and make it represent a church. Have all the brass band you like. Have all the ritual and cere- mony and church dress you like, for it will not be your black coat of re- spectability that will unfreeze your audience."

"The presence of the Jews in New York is Christianity's greatest privi- lege," said Dr. Lauder. "I don't be- lieve Simon Peter could have passed an examination in New York presby- tery. We have as much theology as Peter had. I think we have got to get down in the lower east side neigh- borhoods and found church settle- ments. Perhaps we ought to leave our pulpits to do this. A foot-washing set would not be too much for us to per- form for the Jews who have been so wronged on the other side. I think it would be well to call the energies of the Fifth avenue churches into these downtown districts."

Rev. Dr. Robert F. Y. Pierce, of the Second Avenue Baptist church, said he wished the time would come when "our churches would be turned inside out." He explained his method of preaching every Sunday evening sev- eral months of the year on the steps to his church to between one thou- sand and two thousand five hundred persons through a megaphone. If Jews were in his audience, he said, he did not want to convert them, but to make them better Jews. If Catholics stood and listened, he told them he wanted them to go away better Catho- lics.

Stole Poor Box.
A mean theft was committed at the Y.M.C.A., when some person ran off with the Salvation Army poor box, and all its contents. There was not a large amount of money in the box, but it was sufficient to do quite a bit of good. Secretary Trimble has been doing some detective work on the case, and his suspicions are well founded. It would be well for the guilty party to return the box and the money and save further trouble.

Confirmation Postponed.
The confirmation service to have been held in St. Mary's cathedral to- morrow, has been postponed for a week, on account of the absence of Archbishop Gauthier. His grace has not been very well, and has been resting at the springs at Mount Clemens, Mich., for the past ten days. His physician has ordered him to re- main there another week.

The Civic Committees.
As the city council will not transact any regular business on Monday last, the civic committee will have nothing to do next week. No waterworks meeting has been called for Monday. The council will meet again on the 23rd.

Everything is going along finely with the Victoria day celebration peo- ple. Nearly all the advertising matter has been placed out by Secretary Mar- tin, and things look very bright for a big day. Many enquiries have been received about the horse races, and some fast ones are expected. The lat- est from the American troops is that the men are eagerly awaiting the time when they will come over and take part in the celebration.

Had to Pay a Fine.
Daniel Pyron, a member of the "prohibited list," had to pay a fine of $15 and costs, in the police court, on Saturday morning, for being under the influence of liquor. The option was one month in jail. His story was that he met two strange men, on Clergy street, and that they gave him some liquor. This story, however, did not go with the magistrate.

A PECULIAR DEATH.

Gimblet Bit Pierced His Heart While on Boat.

Special to the Whig.
Rockport, Ont., May 14.—Richard Adams, a well known and highly re- spected resident of this place, was this morning, accidentally killed while working at "Wyltwick" Point, near here. He was engaged in eas- ily repairing a boat.

From Alexandria Bay, in repairing a gasoline engine, and while descend- ing a small ladder going into the boat the ladder slipped and he fell for- ward again a gimblet bit which Mr. Furnace had in his hand, and which pierced his side in the region of his heart, and he fell back without utter- ing a sound and died in about three minutes. Dr. Shaw, the coroner, was at once notified, and it is understood an inquest is unnecessary, as his death was purely accidental.

Deceased was about fifty-five years of age and a highly respected resi- dent, and his untimely death has cast a gloom over this locality, where he was so well and favorably known.

Deceased was formerly a resident of Mallorytown. He leaves a widow and two grown-up children: Mrs. Thurston, Alexandria Bay, and Fred- erick Adams, an engineer, also of Alexandria Bay.

Has Been Asked to Act.
On Saturday Dr. Geo. W. Bell re- ceived a request from Dr. J. O. Orr, manager of the Canadian National Exhibition, Toronto, to act as one of the judges in the speed trials through- out the meet next September. There will be associated with him as judges J. W. Holman and Dr. Black, both of Toronto.

Dr. Bell has accepted the offer. No better selection could have been made, for Dr. Bell will see fair- ness and justice prevail. Besides being an enthusiastic and well-in- formed horseman, he has had a wide experience in track work. The ap- pointment is a very happy one, and Dr. Bell is to be heartily congratulat- ed.

Smelting Directors Meeting.
A meeting of the directors of the North American Smelting Company was called for Saturday afternoon in the city, the following directors being in attendance:—Samuel L. Barnhart, New York; John C. Casper, Massena, N.Y.; John A. Seeley, Odgensburg, N.Y.; Orlando L. Cushman, New York City; W. G. Craig, Robert E. Cushman, president, and David Mur- ray, secretary-treasurer. The direc- tors were to meet members of the city property and industries com- mittees in regards to the smelter site. The visiting directors will likely visit the mine before returning home.

Gave Him a Gift.
A pleasant event took place, on Saturday, at the office of the Na- tional Drug and Chemical Co. when the employees of that firm gathered and presented Kenneth N. H. Mc- Cullagh with a gold stick pin set with pearls upon the eve of his leaving that firm to accept a position with another wholesale house. George F. Woodrow made the presentation, ac- companied by a very touching speech, to which Mr. McCullagh responded in his usual able manner.

ARCH THAT CAUSED TROUBLE IN 1860

The above is from a photograph of the Orange men's arch on Princess street, which caused the late Duke of Newcastle to prohibit the late King Edward (then the Prince of Wales) landing at Kingston on September 3rd, 1860. The arch was situated between the present residence of Hon. Dr. Sullivan and the Bank of Com- merce, at the corner of Princess and King streets. The buildings in that ancient vicinity, allowing for mod- ern improvements, are the same now as they were fifty years ago. The view shows how elaborately the people of Kingston in those far-off days decorated the streets for a fête day. As will be seen, the arch contains Orange emblems, including a picture of King William III, on the left corner. The motto across the arch is "Our God, Our Country and Our Queen, 1690." In the distance is seen the harbor, a tug and another small boat lying in the slip. The picture is from a plate found by F. G. Armstrong in the old photographic gallery of Sheldon, in the old Whig building on King street. Its publication at this time is particularly interesting. The people can see what caused the unfortunate event of half a century ago, when the eldest son of Queen Victoria was prevented from accepting the hospitality of the citizens of Kingston.
