

DRIVEN OUT

Jewish People Are Ordered to Leave

THERE ILLEGALLY

THE ACTION OF THE RUSSIAN GOVERNMENT.

Czar, in Fear of Their Growing Influence in Commercial and Political Affairs, Orders Them to the "Pale."

Kiev, Russia, May 16.—The expulsion of Jews residing illegally in Kiev has been resumed. In some instances a delay has been granted to permit a settlement of their affairs, but all of those marked for expulsion must leave this city now.

The order of expulsion was issued as a result of an agitation which began in the duma, and originally provided that the expulsion should take place on April 28th last. Subsequently the order was suspended.

The Jews remaining in Kiev will be allowed to occupy summer villas outside the city only through special permission granted in individual cases.

Entire Empire Included.

The order of expulsion just made effective will apply not only to Kiev, but to the entire section of the empire constituting Great Russia, and which comprises all the central provinces. From time immemorial the Jews have been rigorously excluded from this territory.

Nevertheless, through relaxation of government surveillance, through bribery of minor officials and through abuses of certain individual privileges, the Jews have been able to establish colonies in the forbidden territory, particularly in Moscow, Kiev, Nijni-Novgorod, St. Petersburg and Tiflis, have seen large colonies of Jews grow and develop within their borders.

The government recently took alarm at the growth in commercial and political influence of those scattered settlements and decided upon strict enforcement of the original segregation law, which restricts the territory habitable by Jews to the Polish provinces and the Ukraine, or Little Russia.

The number of Jews within this pale is estimated at five million. The number without the pale is said to be less than 100,000. Of these at least 25,000 will be compelled to abandon the residence illicitly maintained in the prohibited section. The others will be permitted to remain through certain dispensations.

Students, undergoing training at the different universities, for instance, are exempt from expulsion from the restricted zone. Parents of students benefit from the same exemption, as do established merchants in Russia, or one of the great industrial guilds.

Descendants of soldiers having served under Nicholas I also enjoy this freedom of residence, as do members of learned societies and Jews of other than Russian nationality.

The restrictive measures adopted in Russia have had their counterpart in the earlier laws existing in practically every European country. In France, Germany, Italy, Spain and the Netherlands the Jews were long subjected to as strict measures as now obtain in Russia. The term Ghetto, which has now come to mean a section, or quarter of town, where Jews congregate from choice and preference, originally applied to the stockade or pale within which the Jews were herded by law.

In other countries what was particularly feared was the commercial ability of the Jews. Today in Russia, the alarm of the government, it is frequently asserted, is more of the political ascendancy which the Jews have come to have.

AN EX-GOVERNOR'S DILEMMA.

He and Family Are Accused of Smuggling.

New York, May 16.—Frank W. Rollins, former governor of New Hampshire, and now a banker with Boston offices; his wife, Catherine and his son, Douglas, were charged to-day in the sworn complaint of a customs inspector, "with conspiring to smuggle into the United States wearing apparel and jewelry and souvenirs without paying or accounting for the duties legally due thereon."

Mr. Rollins and his son were arraigned before a federal commissioner and released in $2,000 bail. Neither would talk for publication. Mrs. Rollins was so prostrated that she took to her bed in an hotel immediately on landing from the Louisiana, and her presence was not required to-day, before the commissioner. She will answer to the charge against her as soon as she has recovered.

INDIANS WON'T RACE.

British Columbia Redskins Refuse to Participate.

Victoria, B.C., May 16.—All possibility of holding the Victoria day celebration was abolished when the Songhoes and Quamichan Indians declined to take part in the canoe race because of the death of King Edward. The feature of the yearly celebration has always been the Indian war canoe races, for which cash prizes are offered, the Indians training for the event for three months in advance.

The king was our best friend, he is buried on the 20th. We cannot race on the 24th," said Chief Cooper, of the Songhoes tribe, to the committee.

ACTS STRANGELY

DIRECTOR BROOKS NOTES REMARKABLE CHANGES IN COMET.

Magnifying Glass Reveals Evidence of Violent Tidal Action—Head Distorted and Broader on Side Nearest Sun.

Geneva, N.Y., May 16.—Dr. William R. Brooks, director of the Smith Observatory, who has been carefully observing Halley's comet, believes that there is a very little cyanogen in the tail of the comet and that the comet is perfectly harmless as far as its effect upon the earth is concerned.

Dr. Brooks believes that the most noticeable effect when the earth passes through the comet's tail will perhaps be some atmospheric disturbances. Remarkable changes in the comet were noted, however, at the observatory this morning. According to Dr. Brooks the nucleus, the brightest portion of the head of the comet was much larger and brighter. That part of the comet surrounding the nucleus and forming the head was distorted and much broader on the side nearest the sun. There was evidence of violent tidal action as closely observed under high magnifying powers.

A dark streak stretches backward immediately behind the nucleus and to a long distance, ten millions of miles, through the tail dividing the latter into two distinct branches. The comet is now rapidly approaching the earth and will come nearest on May 18th, when the head will be twelve millions of miles distant. Dr. Brooks states that the tail of the comet is undoubtedly composed of some kind of gas, but that whether the gas is poisonous or not is not known, but that even if it is poisonous it is so thin that there is absolutely no danger. The only phenomena to be expected when the earth passes through the comet's tail will be a phosphorescent effect and the possibility of a shower of small meteors.

Dr. Brooks declares that the present is the best time to view the comet.

Finds Cyanogen Absent.

Washington, May 16.—Cyanogen is now practically absent from the tail of Halley's comet, according to a dispatch received by Georgetown University from the Lowell observatory at Flagstaff, Arizona. The dispatch added that the cyanogen bands appeared strongest in the head of the comet.

The United States is advised that Cuba will interpose no objection to the removal of the wreck of the Maine from Havana harbor.

THE FUNERAL

The Arrangements Are Now Completed

THE MINUTE GUNS

WILL BE FIRED AT EVERY CANADIAN CENTRE.

Awkward Rencontre Between Queen Alexandra and Mrs. George Keppel, Who Was Known as "Arbiter of the King's Set."

London, May 16.—Military and municipal officers, working at high pressure for the past few days, have completed the details of the arrangements for the king's funeral ceremonies. The preliminary observances began Saturday when the king's body, after the Duke of Connaught, took his farewell look, was removed from the simple death room to the splendid throne room of the palace, which has been converted into a chapel, where it will lie privately in state. To-morrow, it will be removed with professional pomp, to Westminster hall, where it will lie in public state till Friday. Upon the arrival of the body at Westminster hall, at noon, Tuesday, there will be a brief religious service, conducted by the Archbishop of Canterbury and the Bishop of London. The services will be attended by the members of the House of Lords and House of Commons. The Hall will not be draped and the ceremonial will be of magnificent simplicity. The coffin will rest upon a draped catafalque. The only sign of decoration in the ancient hall will be a purple cloth, covering the platform of the catafalque and the trappings of the bier. The king and queen, the queen mother, the other royal mourners, will be grouped about the catafalque during the brief services.

The king, queen, queen mother and other members of the royal family, officials and servants of the palace will attend a special devotional service before the body is removed to Westminster Hall, to-morrow. The participation of the public in the observances will commence to-morrow noon with the public lying-in-state. From then till the departure of the cortege from Paddington station, for Windsor castle, Friday, the inhabitants of London and visitors will witness a succession of solemn and impressive services.

The funeral of Queen Victoria touched London only in its trip from our railway station to another. In King Edward's funeral the people will be able to see the transit of the coffin from the palace to Westminster Hall, the two days lying-in-state and the final military pageant, Friday, when the cortege will traverse three miles of the streets of London. An army of spectators are flocking to town from the provinces and from the continent and during the four mournful days the people will pay a tribute to the royal dead, possibly greater than any such tribute was ever paid before.

To Fire Minute Guns.

Ottawa, May 15.—Minute guns will be fired on the day of the king's funeral, at every point in Canada, where there is a permanent force, and every available officer and man must appear on parade.

Corbett Thinks He Will be in Charge.

San Francisco, May 16.—When "Jim" Corbett arrives at the end of the month at Jeffries' camp at Rowardentan, who will be the ex-champion's training boss, reports says Corbett expects to assume charge. What about Sam Berger, who is supposed to be Jeffries' manager and to have final word? Truth is, however, Farmer Burns is the only one with anything to say about the big fellow's conditioning. Choynski has run things in print only. Does Corbett's coming mean trouble, Tex. Rickard is still worrying over the selection of a referee. As to Jeffries' condition, Berger says, "Ready to fight any time. Has rounded into shape faster than expected. If the fights were scheduled for June 4th no meanness here."
