A BUSY BURGLAR

HE WENT THROUGH HOUSES
ABOUT CITY PARK.

In One Case He Got Some Silverware
—In Another Case He Evidently Received a Big Fright.

A well-known house, in the residential park section, of the city, suffered a loss as the result of the visit of a burglar, or perhaps burglars, on Friday night. While the loss is not very heavy, there was a sum of money carried off, and evidence that a good search of the house had been made. The police are working on the case, and a number of clues have been found which, it is believed, will be the means of getting hold of the guilty parties.

Another house, further northward, was also visited. The burglar took off his boots, ransacked the lower part of the house, then went upstairs. He was crawling into the bedroom of the couple sleeping therein, when the wife heard a noise, saw the crawling dog, as she thought, but as the man raised his head she saw the fellow and she called out. Her husband chased the man downstairs, but he escaped through a parlor window. The police found one of his boots, and it belonged to a good pair. Nothing was taken from the house.
Other houses about the park have also been entered within the past few nights.

A Pleasant Evening.
The delegates to the Presbyterian Women's Foreign Missionary Society and their hostesses closed the series of successful meetings by a delightful hour at the Y.W.C.A. on Friday night. Mrs. Edwin J. McLellan was responsible for the invitation and she and the other workers as the Y.W.C.A. were cordially thanked by all present for their thoughtfulness. During the evening Mrs. B. J. McLellan played a Chopin impromptu very beautifully, and refreshments were served before pleasant gathering broke up.

MISSIONARY WORK

SESSIONS OF W. F. M. S. AT COOKE'S CHURCH.

Miss Herdman Gave An Address
Dealing With the Work in India—
Matters Taken up at the Meetings on Friday.

Missionary work, as carried on in Central India was referred to in a very interesting address, given by Miss Herdman, at Cooke's church, on Friday evening, at the public service in connection with the meeting of the Kingston Presbyterian Women's Foreign Missionary Society. Mrs. Herdman has been engaged in the work for several years, and the story of her work was listened to with keen interest by all her hearers. Attired in part of the native dress Miss Herdman explained how the work was carried on and one point which she emphasized was that of the earnestness of the people to hear the gospel. It was, however, very hard to make some of them understand that the gospel was for them. There were cases in which people walked many miles in order that they might hear the gospel. Here, in Canada, it was quite common for a person to spend nearly all of the Sabbath day out in an automobile. It taking up the subject of missions the speaker could not understand why any person would be opposed to work in the foreign field. So many arguments were put forth against the carrying on of the work in the foreign fields.
Rev. Dr. MacTavish presided at the meeting and read the scripture lesson dealing with passages referring to mission work. The argument put forth by some was that we should not send our very best men away to the foreign fields, that they should be kept at home. It was right that the best men that could be produced should be sent to do the work in the foreign field and for this reason, that in the far-off lands the missionaries would meet with all the men, who are heathen, and would have to be ready to meet all these arguments, and it would be necessary that they should be the very best men. The best educated men were needed to meet all the arguments put forth against Christianity. Another objection raised was that we had enough heathen at home, and that no missionaries should be sent to the foreign field until all were converted at home.
Mrs. Clark Hamilton, who for twenty-three years has been treasurer for the society, has resigned, and with the regret of all the members, as she has been a much-valued officer, and it is with the deep regret of all the ladies that she is leaving office. Mrs. G. Fenwick has been elected to fill the position.

HOTELKEEPER WAS FINED.
Sold Liquor to Man on "Prohibited List."

A fine of $25 and costs, was imposed upon James N. Carey, proprietor of the Albion hotel, corner Queen and Montreal streets, in police court, Saturday, the magistrate finding him guilty of selling liquor to one of Rowland J. Lye, a member of the "prohibited list." Lye appeared on behalf of the accused, and entered a plea of "not guilty."
Lye was placed in the box by C. E. Webster, who conducted the prosecution, and he said that he had been served with liquor at the Albion hotel, on several occasions. Lye said that he was served by the bartender, and that at the hotel, he went under the name of J. Davis.
Mr. Carey said that he knew Lye as "Jack" Davis, and had his name on his book as such. Lye had been served with liquor from time to time, and would pay for the same every other week. A few days ago, when he came aware that the man's right name was Lye, and that he was on the "prohibited list," he ordered him out of the hotel.

An Electric Joke at The Bijou.
A queer electric joke was played by the wires at The Bijou theatre last night, by which the management and about 150 people suffered.

It was shortly after eight o'clock, when the pressure of the electric current in the picture machine doubled and the operator forced to suspend the show for fear of destroying the machine. An expert electrician was called in and worked for over an hour but the electrical mystery was too deep for him to solve and it was necessary to dismiss the audience and refund their money. The electricians worked until midnight and began at seven this morning, but it was not until nearly ten that the cause of the trouble became apparent. It then appeared that one of the big exhaust fans which carry the foul air out at the rear of the building had come in contact with the metal exhaust pipe transmitting 110 volts of electricity through the metal ceiling of the building from back to front. This current then passed through the metal lining of the operating room and entered the machine adding its 110 volts to the 110 volts already in use and making the current so strong that the machine was unworkable. Once discovered the trouble was remedied in a few minutes.

The worst thing about wisdom is it can only be had on the installment plan. Once in a great while a man's self-respect keeps him from enjoying life. Shake, brother. Another week is here, and the comet hasn't got us yet.

Tendered a Reception to Visitors at Masonic Hall.

There was a royal time at Masonic hall, Friday evening, on the occasion of a reception tendered to the grand first principal of the Grand Chapter of Canada, George Moore, of Hamilton, and Dr. W. C. Davy, of Morrisburg, grand superintendent of the St. Lawrence district, No. 12, by the officers and companions of Ancient Frontenac and Catarqui. The distinguished visitors arrived at noon, and were escorted to the Frontenac hotel, by Dr. A. W. Winnett. At 6:30 o'clock, a dinner was given by Dr. Winnett, at the Frontenac Club, and at 8:30 they proceeded to the chapter rooms, and received a royal welcome.
The Holy Royal Arch degree was then conferred by the officers, in a manner which won praise from the grand first principal.

Saw the Island in Mirage.
St. Catharines, Ont., May 28.—Passengers on a street car coming here from Niagara Falls last night had the privilege of witnessing a fine mirage in the sky off to the south-west. It was a very distinct picture of a large island, and part of another island just beside it could be seen. Upon the island could be discerned houses and trees very distinctly. Apparently the mirage was a reflection of Hanlan's Island at Toronto.

Death by Cat and Fly.
New York, May 28.—Edward H. Pratt, Jersey City, a few days ago reached under his office chair to stroke a kitten and received a scratch. That same night he caught a fly, whose buzzing at the window annoyed him, and crushed it in the same hand which had been lacerated. The following morning the hand was swelled to an abnormal size and the trouble was diagnosed as septic poisoning. He went to the hospital and his hand was amputated, but the trouble had gone too far and yesterday he died.

INSPECTION OF 14TH

BY COLONEL BENSON AND
LIEUT.-COL. HEMMING.

Part of the Inspection Took Place on the Cricket Field and Part in the Armouries—Regiment Did Well.

The 14th Regiment, P.W.O. Rifles, was inspected on Friday evening by Col. Benson, officer commanding Eastern Ontario command, and never was the regiment given a more thorough inspection as on this occasion. Col. Benson was accompanied on his inspection by Lieut.-Col. Hemming, D.C., and Lieut.-Col. Young, B.A.A.G. The regiment paraded at the armouries at 7:30 o'clock, the dress being drill order, and paraded to the cricket field, arriving there shortly before eight o'clock, both bands being in attendance, and in the ranks were 236 officers and men.
When the regiment arrived at the cricket field, the men were drawn up for the general salute, after which Col. Benson inspected the ranks. After about ten minutes' manoeuvring, the regiment was marched back to the armouries and the real work of inspection started. Each company was put through the manual by the captain and lieutenants and each section was drilled by the sergeants. This took up some time, but was most successfully carried through, officers and men covering themselves with glory, and bringing words of praise from the officer inspecting. After the company inspection, Col. Benson went over the company books and papers.
After all the work was completed the officers gathered in the ante-room where refreshments were served. Everyone was pleased with the inspection and the gallant old Fourteenth once more came to the front as a crack regiment.
