Think of Last Summer--

You can remember days when the heat inside your kitchen was so great you could hardly bear it. With the right stove you would have made a better hostess. Save your health. Don't put up with the drudgery of a coal range. You can have a clean, cool, pleasant kitchen. The does away with all drudgery of cooking. Why should you be a slave to a coal range when you can have an Oil Cook-stove that is cheaper than coal, cleaner than coal, doesn't "smell," doesn't smoke, lights instantly, can be put out instantly, leaves no ashes, and doesn't heat the kitchen. With one of these stoves you can boil, bake or roast the most elaborate dinner. You can change from a slow to a quick fire, or the other way about, by simply turning a wick. Apply a match, and instantly the heat from an intense blue flame shoots upward through the turquoise-blue enamel chimney to the bottom of pot, kettle or oven—but nowhere else. The stove has every convenience that can be thought of: Cabinet Top with shelf for keeping food and dishes hot, drop shelves to hold coffee or teapots, towel rack; in fact every convenience possible.

Cautionary Note: Be sure you get this stove—see that the name plate reads "New Perfection."

Made with 1, 2 and 3 burners; the 2 and 3 burner stoves can be had with or without Cabinet.
Every dealer everywhere. If not at yours, write for Descriptive Circular to the nearest agency of the Queen City Oil Company, Limited, Toronto.

POOL ROOMS BAD

UNDER DISCUSSION AT THE ONTARIO SYNOD.

Looked Upon as Menace to Public Morals—Earlier Closing Asked For—Clergy Urged to Work For Hotel License Reduction.

The divinity students' funds, which was taken up at the Ontario synod, on Wednesday morning, brought about much discussion, at the afternoon session.

Rev. W. F. Fitzgerald said that he hoped the members would be ready to welcome all men to the ministry, no matter to what college they identified themselves.

Dean Bidwell said that every step possible should be taken, to secure men for the ministry. Although not intentionally, he believed that parents had a great deal to do with keeping young men out of the work. He believed there should be more encouragement, on the part of the parents, to have young men take up the work. If there was some spirit of this kind shown, much good could be done.

Dudley Hill referred to the fact that every conference, with the exception of one, had been reporting a scarcity of men for the ministry. Something must be done for this, and it must be done by the laity. In pleading for men for the work, he believed that the members had not arrived at the reason. It was a matter that should be given earnest consideration. Nowadays, the parish priest, as well as his wife, had to stand for a great deal of criticism. He believed that they should get back to the olden days, when the parish priests were looked up to more than at present. The speaker said that he read a good article, in a Toronto paper, recently, on the scarcity of men for the ministry, and that these reasons were put forth: First, financial; second, the scope of the work not appearing encouraging. Much could be accomplished through the influence of the home. It could not be accomplished through sermons. The parish priest should talk with the young men.

Rev. R. C. Blagrove said that he believed that the clergy had endeavored to secure men for the ministry. He himself spoke on the subject once a month.

Rev. W. F. Fitzgerald said that as he had mentioned in St. Paul's church he was ready to prepare any young man who desired to go into the work of the ministry.

Bishop Mille said that it would appear as if an effort had been made to secure money for a particular college, and not to help men to go to the ministry. If a student desired to go to Trinity, the money was forthcoming, otherwise the money was not forthcoming. This was wrong. The speaker was opposed to giving funds to a college. He would like to have every congregation contribute, and not ask which college a man would attend.

It was more for the man than the college. It had been stated that Wycliffe college was not under the church. Whether it was under the church or not the speaker would say that Wycliffe college was second to none. At present the college had 115 divinity students and there was a crowd knocking at the door unable to be taken in. The speaker objected to the principle that the committee should decide where a man should attend college and say as to whether they would give funds. Was it right that the synod should keep on in this way? The speaker would not like to keep a man out of the ministry in this way.

The report on the divinity students was passed after some further discussion.

On Mission Board.

At this stage the result of the mission board vote, taken at noon, was announced. The following were elected: Lay—J. K. Dargavel, B. S. O'Loughlin, W. B. Carroll, Dr. R. Preston, Dr. R. Gardiner, Judge Reynolds, Dudley Hill and Dr. Rogers. Clerical—Rural Dean Dibb, Rural Dean Patton, Rural Dean Armstrong, Rural Dean Beamish, Rev. F. D. Woodcock, Rev. J. W. Jones, Rev. T. J. O'Connor Fenton and Rev. O. G. Hobbs.

Mission Board Report.

Dean Bidwell presented the report of the mission report, which was carried. The board reports voluntary giving of $7,729, an increase of $764 on the amount contributed last year. Parochial collections, however, show a falling off of $85 as compared with last year. Advent and Trinity collections of $41, and missionary meeting of $68, its increase being due to the larger amount under heading "bishop's visit" which amounts to $318 more than shown last year, and to the special offerings, which totalled $667 as against $70 of the previous year. The W. A. thankoffering produced $629 of this amount, and their generous gift is highly appreciated by the board and the diocese as a whole. It is a matter for regret that in spite of the moving appeal issued on behalf of this fund by the bishop the parochial contribution should amount to less than last year, and it is earnestly hoped that next year's receipts will show a substantial increase. The total receipts from offerings and endowments were $9,027, and the expenditure $8,310, and the year also began with a debit balance of $218.

The committee recommends that wherever possible the duplex envelope system should be adopted, though each parish is left perfectly free to enjoy the method best suited to its circumstances. Though the prospect seems hopeful, yet it is clear that the most strenuous effort will be needed to carry the new scheme to a successful issue, particularly in view of the fact that the very urgent appeal for the diocesan mission fund met with such a disappointing result in the past year.

In concluding this report your board desires to place on record its earnest appreciation of the services of the late Rev. W. W. Burton, so unselfishly and devotedly given for the cause which he had so much at heart, and for which he laboured with untiring zeal and considerable success, and when his deep sense of loss caused by the sudden removal by the hand of death of his vice-president, the late

J. B. Pense. He took the profoundest interest in the work of this board. It was the moving spirit in launching the new scheme of missionary living now adopted. He gave up considerable time in his already over-busy life to working out the details of it, and to speaking upon the subject in various parts of the diocese. His loss at the very inception of the scheme of which he was the originator is a heavy blow, but your board can only record their heartfelt gratitude for the work that he was permitted to do in the past and trust that a similar spirit may animate all its members. The dean has been appointed vice-chairman in his place.

Dean Bidwell referred in fitting terms, to the late J. B. Pense, and said that his death was a severe blow to the committee, as he had always been a hard worker on the committee.

The report on memorials, was read by the chancellor, all the members of synod standing for the reading.

The report of the committee, on Sunday schools, was submitted by the chairman, Dudley L. Hill, and was adopted with only one slight change. Progress was noted all along the line, and Mr. Hill took objection to the part of the report of the state of the work of the church, which stated that there was a falling off in the Sunday school work. The figures for this report, he claimed, had not been taken from a correct source. He would say that the work of the Sunday school, in the diocese, was increasing every day.

On Moral Reform.

Dean Bidwell presented the report of the committee on moral and social reform. It recommended the clergy "to do all in their power, to assist in the movement for bringing the pool rooms, which are becoming a serious menace to public morals in cities and university towns, under proper supervision, especially with a view to compelling them to close not later than twelve o'clock (midnight)."

The committee also recommended action on part of clergy "in furthering cause of temperance, by making for the removal of such temptations to intemperance as are found in the modern treating system, and for the reduction of the number of licenses for hotels."

In the last clause, with reference to the movement for "local option," the committee recommended that the clergy be governed by local conditions, in the selection of candidates. The committee also took opportunity of endorsing the work of Rev. Mr. Patterson, in the town of Athens, which has been marked with such signal success.

Objection was raised to this clause, however, and it was withdrawn from the report. The only other change in the report was to change the hour of the closing of the pool rooms from twelve o'clock to eleven o'clock.

Regarding the clause re local option, Rev. R. D. Woodcock opposed it, saying he was opposed to local option, and held that synod had no right to endorse something which was an open question.

Dean Bidwell pointed out that the clause had not been brought in to force opinion.

Rev. Mr. Patterson desired to have the "local option" clause removed. He doubted if it was workable in a town, but would say it was a sure success in some rural districts.

As regards the pool rooms, the synod agreed that they were a menace, and that steps be taken to regulate them.

Rev. F. D. Woodcock presented the report of the committee on the Lord's day. It read:

"The committee cannot express too forcibly upon the church in this diocese, the importance of the sacredness and holiness of the Lord's day, and the great danger, at this time, of its being desecrated and abused. While supporting the Lord's Day Alliance if its good work, we must remember that its great object is that of one day of rest in each week, being given to all employees of labor, and of the keeping of the law and the order of the law, and not rest satisfied with that, but remember that as ambassadors of the great head of the church, we must teach and set an example as to the keeping of the Lord's day holy."

Thursday Morning Session.

The synod continued its session at ten o'clock, and at the opening, on motion of W. B. Carroll, R. W. Allin, representative of the Laymen's Missionary Movement, who delivered such an able address at the missionary meeting, on Wednesday night, was invited to a seat upon the platform.

The bishop appointed a committee, composed of Rev. R. D. Woodcock, Rev. W. L. Armitage, Chancellor Judge McDonald, Dr. R. V. Rogers, Col. McGill, Dudley Hill, and H. J. Carson, to take up the question of investing the trust funds, in a trust company, and to report at the next meeting of synod.

J. B. Walkem, the solicitor, presented his report. The legacy of $500 to the mission fund, from the late Miss Gildersleeve, has been paid over by the executors, to the clerical secretary. The case known as Re Sprague, in which this diocese is interested as a legatee, to the amount of $500, has been argued in the court of appeal, and a decision given in favor of the diocese. The case has been further appealed by the petitioners, in the action to the supreme court, and it is expected to be heard at the fall sittings.

FATALLY HURT BY AUTOMOBILE.

Boy Ran Down in Main Street, Rochester.

Rochester, N.Y., June 16.—Myron Andrew Petrie, twelve-year-old son of Frank Petrie, was struck and run over by a trolley car in Main street, and fatally hurt. He died at the Homeopathic hospital in less than an hour. The boy and his parents came to Rochester from Carthage, N.Y., but a short time ago. His parents went to the Buffalo Bill show. Myron didn't care to go and remained at home with playmates. A man gave him a cent and he started to cross the street to get an ice cream cone. He avoided a trolley car but stepped in front of an automobile running at thirty miles speed.

The Globe.

TORONTO

As A Newspaper

In the newspaper world as in any other line of legitimate business in these days of keen competition, thoroughness and modernness are essential. It does not follow that a newspaper must constantly be on the search for "sensations"; newspapers that cater to the craze for the sensational or morbid, do not reach the class who carry the most weight in the community.

The Globe aims to meet the requirements of the readers who "count" without departing in the least from its determination to remain Canada's National Newspaper. There is no newspaper in Canada that combines with a fine all-round news service so many special features of merit and interest.

The Gas Meter

You have all heard the story about the Government official who lost his job because his eyes went wrong. The trouble was this way: Everything he looked at he saw double. Some of his friends were sympathizing with him over his misfortune when he informed them that he was only out of work for a single day; in fact, he had a better job with more money—the Gas Company had employed him to read their meters.

That's a good one alright, but Confessors of gas should bear in mind that it is the duty of every household to learn to read his meter. This matter is a very simple one, and there is no mystery whatever about it. We aim to conduct our business along the lines of equitable treatment to all our patrons and to give them full value for what they pay and at the same time maintain a record for satisfactory service and prompt attention to your wants.
