GENUINE COAL DIAMONDS

Just as some sorts of wood are better than others so certain varieties of coal burn more slowly yet give out more heat than others. Our coal is always "good coal" because it's our stock-in-trade. It's possible to get this highest grade coal elsewhere, but you're SURE to get it here. It's the only kind we sell. We charge no more for it. We get it from the mines by being "cranky"—knowing it when you see it, and insisting on getting it. YOU won't have to insist to get it.

A postal or telephone brings you coal that cannot be surpassed.

ABLE MEN WILL DIFFER.

Mr. Bourassa has printed correspondence to show that he enjoyed the confidence of Goldwin Smith. Mr. Smith complimented him on his stand with reference to the war. The sage of Toronto was not in accord with any one who favoured the participation of Canada in the South African trouble, and though it appealed to the patriotism of some, to send troops to the support of Britain's cause, Mr. Smith did not recede from his position.

Mr. Bourassa was of his mind on that subject, and of course they exchanged views and found in them great comfort. But there were other subjects on which these men did not agree. Mr. Bourassa has not, in his paper, produced anything which could show that Mr. Smith approved of the narrow creed he preached and dignified at times with the title of "nationalist."

Mr. Smith had large views respecting Canada's outlook, and he certainly did not share the opinion of any one who was contracted in his vision. Mr. Bourassa, like all who are intellectually able and alert, is continually falling foul with some one, and his special opponents are the premiers of Canada and Quebec. They do not see eye to eye with him, and they are repudiated in turn.

His experience with the liberal leader is not peculiar. It is not improbable that, with circumstances changed, he would strongly differ from the men with whom he fraternizes in federal and provincial politics, and as a mere matter of convenience.

THE CANTEN A MENACE.

The canteen in the past was regarded as an indispensable accompaniment of the military camp. It was deemed impossible to have a large muster of men anywhere, in the country's service, without erecting in some convenient place the shack which covered a supply of spirits. The women really made this appointment unpopular, and especially the members of the W.C.T.U.

They argued that it was not necessary that the young men, who generally constituted the camp, should be tempted into dissipation by the canteen and the consumption of liquors which it suggested. They had to fight desperately for the cause, but the women were mighty and they prevailed.

The defenders of the canteen died hard. Some of them were officers who had to do with the management of camps. They said that the canteens kept the men in camp, and they drank less accordingly. When they had to go to the town or city adjacent they imbibed too much.

The experience of the Hughes' camp is most instructive. The canteen was missing and the drinking which it encouraged. The men came to the city daily. Those who wanted their beer obtained it, but there has been a remarkable and most commendable absence of intoxication. The commandant of the camp let it be known early that he expected the troops to be well conducted and a credit to themselves and the militia department, and what he desired has come to pass.

The camp, now nearing a close, has been a good one. It has been particularly noted for the sobriety of the men who have been identified with it, and they are to be congratulated.

LOWER TARIFF DEMANDED.

The Canadian Courier recalls the criticism of Sir Richard Cartwright, many years ago, because the federal government was collecting $35,000,000 annually and spending it, while the present government last year collected over $100,000,000. Conditions have changed. There is not only another government in office, but there is a boom in the development of the country. The population is larger, and its wants are pressing.

gencies of the hour. The present minister of commerce, whom our contemporary reproaches, is a free trader who could not set aside the product of protection suddenly without dislocating business connections. There is in Canada, as there is in the United States, a manifest desire to get away from a high tariff. Under the Laurier government there has been a lowering of the customs duties, and they can be lower still, though in the meantime the money raised in excess of ordinary requirements can be devoted to necessary public works.

In the United States the signs of the times are clear. A lower tariff will be the slogan in the next national election, and the party that is pledged to it will surely win. That party may be the republican, in which case the high rates of the senate will not be able to defeat in the house, as they were last year, the legislation which the people demand.

THE MILLENIUM AT HAND.

The leader of the opposition has got the start of the leader of the government in one respect. He has begun his summer campaign the sooner, and has had less enthusiasm than he expected, and smaller audiences in some instances, though that is no fault of his. The East Toronto and Long Branch meetings have been described by a conservative writer in the Telegram as failures. That at the branch "was a corpse, cold and lifeless," thanks to the blundering of the machine, or the men who control political events from the Albany Club.

The feature of the conservative meetings has been the friendliness of the liberal electors. At certain places there were half holidays, by civic proclamations, and the mayors read addresses in which kindly greetings were offered to the visitors. Time was when a liberal was not expected to attend a conservative meeting. In this city a Whig representative, who inaugurated the plan of reporting all meetings as a matter of information, was treated as a spy. Thank goodness that time has passed.

Presently our gifted leader, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, will set out upon his western tour, beginning at Fort William and extending across the continent. He will address meetings in Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia, and the Canadian Courier is quite correct in assuming that he will meet "many who never voted for his candidates and never intend to." They will reciprocate the favour the liberals of Ontario are showing Mr. Borden, and there is no doubt, as our contemporary remarks, that they will "add to the measure of the success which will be his on this occasion."

There are two things on which some people differ to the point of breaking friendship, namely, religion and politics. The followers of the Ideal Man, and calling themselves Christians, will sometimes act as if they were bereft of His spirit, and the politicians, who should be able to differ on public questions without losing their heads, are sometimes capable of very great meanness. Wonderful, isn't it? If, as a result of the meetings which Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Mr. Borden will address, men can regard each other with becoming respect the first step will be taken towards the political millennium.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

J. J. Hill, the great railway man, warns the working classes to economize, that another period of depression will come again, and in due time, and next time it will last longer. Mr. Hill is usually a wise old man, and his advice is worth taking.

Governor Hughes has summoned the legislature of New York for an extra session, and in order to pass necessary legislation. He is a political martinet, whose absence will be felt. It is too bad that he is passing out of public life, but he will be a power on the bench.

The preachers everywhere are declaiming against the street walking in which so many young people indulge. There is a menace in it of which some parents appear to be unaware. They had better wake up. That which the preachers see any one can see if he is really anxious.

Kingston is too small, we suppose, to call for the work of a board of control. But it pays to have three or five men who are working for the city all the while, who are on the job every day. The most of our ablemen have not the time to serve the people.

The governor of New York has vetoed various bills passed by the legislature and providing for an expenditure of about $5,000,000. What a pity Canada's system does not permit of the veto of its governor? He could occasionally run a blue pencil through items of expenditure and save the public treasury.

The board of health should not be composed of members of the council. When it is thus constituted it is not in a position to protest against the council's action under certain circumstances. The abandonment of the garbage question is a serious matter,

Stage Driver Will Sue For Damages.

Battersea, June 21.—The funeral of the late John Chapman took place on the 15th. Services were conducted in the Methodist church by Rev. Mr. Bishop, pastor of the Holiness Movement church here, assisted by Rev. W. K. Shortt. A very large cortege followed the remains to the Sand Hill vault. The sidewalk committee is extending the new cement walks through the main streets of the village; the property owners are responding most willingly and liberally. The two summer hotels are now in the running. Several parties of United States tourists have already registered and quite a number are booked ahead for the near future.

L. vanLaven and Sons have just completed the erection of the largest and finest boat livery in these parts. Contractor Joseph Ducette had charge of the work. The next picnic conducted by the S. W. committee should be a hummer. A matched road race resulting from the late contest and a spirited game of ball are two of the features.

Rev. W. W. Anglin, stationed in the Owen Sound district, is home on a visit, accompanied by three of his children. Entrance examinations will be conducted here, beginning to-morrow. School will be discontinued until it is over. It is not known yet who the presiding examiner will be. Robert Dixon, north of the village lately suffered the loss of a fine mare and colt. W. Hartley and W. H. Jamieson each lost a cow lately. The latter in a peculiar manner. It was knocked into the water trough on its back by another cow, from which position it could not extricate itself.

C. Hanley, stage driver, who recently met with a serious accident while en route from the city, as a result of being run into the ditch by a reckless motor-car owner of the city, entered an action for several hundred dollars against the latter. The large car which comes out on Sunday always drives very fast any may do harm yet. Dr. Lake motors carefully around in his Ford each day.

Student Under Arrest—Wife and Child Lost.

Lancaster, Pa., June 22.—J. C. Grice, a member of the senior class of the Millersville Normal School and a resident of Sharpsburg, Md., has been placed under arrest here in connection with the disappearance of his wife and two-week-old baby. Grice is twenty-two years of age, and his wife, who was Miss Ellen Dorsey, also of Sharpsburg, is twenty years old.

The couple have been boarding in this city, and last Thursday evening he hired a carriage, stating he was going to take his wife to the railway station to send her to her home. A storm was raging at the time, and neighbors expostulated against taking the woman out in such weather. Grice said what he did was none of their business.

His actions aroused the suspicions of the neighbors and the police were notified. An investigation disclosed that the woman did not arrive at her home. The police say they found that no one answering her description got on the train and no tickets were sold that night to Hagerstown or Antietam, the points from which she could reach her home.

Grice is reticent, and all the police can get out of him, they say, is that he put his wife and child on the train and sent them home. The police claim they have some circumstantial evidence which they refuse to disclose at the present time.

Bajus' XXX porter, ale and lager is put up in kegs and bottles, especially for family use. Delivered to any part of the city.

FOR SKIN DISEASES.

A Treatment That Costs Nothing Unless It Provides Satisfactory Relief.

We have a grayish-white ointment with a pleasant odor that is clean to use, which we believe is the best known remedy for the relief of skin diseases. It is especially efficacious for overcoming eczema in all its various forms, ring worm, acne, pimples, blotches, insect bites, tetter, certain forms of ulcers, sores, and wounds. It is strongly antiseptic, cleansing, soothing and healing. It stops all itching and burning caused by skin eruptions.

We are so positive this ointment is unequalled that we offer it with the distinct understanding that if after having given it a reasonable trial, you are not satisfied with the results, you have only got to tell us and we will, without quibbling, return every cent paid us for it. We exact no promises or obligations whatever.

We want you to try Rexall Eczema Ointment. The first application gives a refreshing sense of relief, and because of its germ destroying power, it eradicates the germ or parasite which causes eczema and many other eruptions. It quickly allays the inflammation, gives protection to the inflamed surfaces, and helps restore healthy living skin elements peculiar to children. You certainly cannot lose anything by trying it. We would not dare make this over except we are positive Rexall Eczema Ointment will satisfactorily benefit you. Two sizes, 50c. and $1.00. Remember, you can only obtain it at our store—The Rexall Store, G. W. Malwood.
