A PRETTY FROCK FOR SUMMER RESTAURANT WEAR.

Dozens of cool and inviting roof garden and palm garden restaurants make New York a very delightful place in which to dine on a warm summer evening. Some very elaborate costumes are seen, and always the beautiful frock is matched by a stunning hat. This graceful dress of pale salmon-pink crepe is embroidered in Chantecler red motifs and the big Leghorn hat is faced with the same deep shade, the aigrette showing a faint touch of pink. The silk gloves are of pale pink, with embroideries a shade deeper. These embroidered silk gloves are cool and dainty, and when the fingers wear out new hands may be added by means of a "brack let" of hemstitching at the wrist.
