Melfort, Sask., July 30 .- "It was appy inspiration that made us visit the town of Melfort," said Sir Wilfrid Laurier to a gathering in the home town of W. W. Ruttan, M.P. for Prince Albert. The district here is newly set-tled, the town being only five years old, and the prime minister addressed himself to those who have recently come to the country. He pointed ou that British institutions were th best to be found. There were in their some Germans, who had come ncross the seas. "They are welcome, no matter what religion they profess; we do not stop to enquire what is a man's creed or religion; we accept him on his personal merits."

Hon. George P. Graham said the do ninion was spending more money, as a government, upon railways than any ther country in the world,

Responding to enquiries about Hud-son Bay railway, he said that the rail-way was the smallest part of the pro-ject, for in addition to the line it would be necessary to provide har-bors, elevators, wharves and a steam-boat line to Liverpool. He had spok-en to transportation men about that feature, and they regard it somewhat as an experiment. "The government has undertaken the work, and intends to complete it, and I hope to stay in office long enough to take a trip over the Hudson Bay route myself," Canada had an ambition to be a nation and the greatest empire of the world. He wanted the people of the west to join in that ambition, become citizens of the country and share its ambition and responsibility.

On the return to Saskatoon Sir Wilfrid stopped off at Rosthern and Duck Lake, which is historic as the scene where the Riel rebellion started.

The place is now an Indian reserve and has an Indian school for the training of children.
