IN MARINE CIRCLES

QUITE A FEW HEAVY GALES THIS SEASON.

Vessels Have Been Held Up, But There Has Been No Serious Damage—The Movement of Vessels Around the Harbor.

Although not resulting in very serious damage, marine men say that there have been quite an unusual number of heavy gales on the lake so early in the season. Along in the fall a number of early storms are always looked for, but in the best of the season, say in June, July and August, very little is expected in the way of a tie-up, but already this season quite a number of heavy gales have been experienced. However, although the weather man has been a little severe, local vessels have escaped disaster, and luckily there has been no loss of life.

Marine men say that some of the big vessels, as well as some of the smaller ones, have had to tie up as a result of storms. "That storm we had last Friday night was a corker," remarked one captain to the Whig, "and the big vessels, as well as the smaller ones, were forced to go into shelter. A number of Kingston people who went up the bay on an excursion on this day have good reason to remember their trip, as they were very sick as a result of the squall. About three hundred people were on board the steamer, and one who was there stated that nearly everybody on board had a lige of sickness."

Marine Paragraphs.

MADE OFF WITH $50.

Sneak Thief Was Busy Again on Monday Afternoon.

The sneak thief was busy again, on Monday afternoon, and as a result of his operations, David Evans, a well-known Kingstonian, lost $50, the amount including a $20 gold piece. Mr. Evans has a room at the Congress hotel, and had his money locked up in a book case. Late in the afternoon he went to the case and found that the door had been pried open, and looking into a box, he found that the money was missing. He reported the matter to the police. It was around five o'clock when he missed the money. It could be a very nice matter for a thief to make his way up the stairs and go into the bedrooms, and not be noticed by the roomer there. The breaking open of the book case was a very easy matter.

HARD ON THE VAGRANTS.

They Had Better Keep Clear of the Police.

The police are out with a big stick after vagrants. They had better keep clear of the constables these days, or here will be trouble. This morning, Constables Mullinger and Arnold placed under arrest a man named David Connors, on a charge of vagrancy, and he will be arraigned at the police court on Wednesday morning. The accused was engaged in conversation with a man on Brock street, near the market, when the constables appeared on the scene and cut the little talk rather short.

WILL NOT CALL MEETING

Civic Finance Committee Until Figures are Ready.

Mayor Cooper says he will not call a meeting of the civic finance committee regarding the question of increased public school accommodation until he hears from the chairmen of the board of education. The civic committee must have before it a statement of the exact amount of money required for the remodeling of the schools before it can have a by-law prepared for submission to the council. The board of education will likely be able to tell the committee exactly what it will require in a short time.

Looks Very Bad.

A local doctor who was twelve miles below Washburn, on Sunday, says things have a very dried up appearance. Grass, leaves and even sunshades are withered. Buckwheat has grown up about a foot and stopped for want of rain. He says things have a much better appearance here than there.

At the Police Court.

There was only one case at the police court, on Tuesday morning. A citizen was charged with neglecting to make the sanitary improvements called for by the board of health, but as it was shown that he had taken out a permit for the work, the case was enlarged so that time can be given for the carrying on of the work.

Y., who have been motoring through New York state and Ontario. Mr. Ivan is well known both in sport and business in the states, and like many Canadians, has made a fortune in Uncle Sam's dominions.

A KINGSTON SHOW MAN.

J. H. Grohe, Who is at Lake Ontario Park.

J. H. Grohe, with his family, who is giving exhibitions at Lake Ontario Park, is an old Kingston boy. His father, the late W. Grohe, kept a fur and leather store on the corner of Brock and Wellington streets, now occupied by R. Waldron, and in later years he occupied the premises where Corbett's hardware store is at present. Mr. Grohe married a Kingston girl. He was educated in the public schools of Kingston, and remembers many of his old schoolmates. He has now been in the show business twenty-seven years. He can only find one man in business now that was in the same place when he was a boy, W. Allen, shoe maker, Brock street. The greater number of his old companions have passed away.

WORKING AGAIN.

This morning, the local livemen were warned by one of their number to be on the lookout for a certain man who wanted to hire a horse and buggy. The man, called at McLaughlin's livery, but could not be accommodated, and perhaps luckily for the proprietor, for it is only three years ago since the fellow hired a horse from the same place and traded it at Moscow, and then sold the horse to the police, and on being tried was sentenced to a term in prison. He was recognized at McLaughlin's and the owners of other livers were notified to be on the lookout. It is feared that he called at a couple of other places to try and get a rig, but failed.

YOUTH BROKE JAIL

HAD BEEN SENTENCED TO TERM IN PEN.

Police on the look-out for John Roberts, Who Admitted Being Burglar—Escaped When Awaiting Removal to Kingston.

The local police have received word of a sensational escape, made from the jail, at London, Ont., by John Roberts, a twenty-year-old youth, and although the last heard of him, he was heading towards the east, he is believed to have given Kingston and vicinity, the go-by. One good reason for believing this to be the case, is the fact that he had been sentenced to three years in the penitentiary for theft, and he succeeded in making his escape, while awaiting his removal to the big prison. However, the police have been notified in the various cities and towns, to keep their weather eye open for him, and to nab him, if he happens to come this way.

Roberts' pleaded guilty to breaking into the large wholesale dry goods store of McMahon & Granger's, in London, and also admitted having had a hand in a daring robbery in the coal and wood yard of John Green, also in that city. He was given three years on each charge, the sentence to run concurrently.

Roberts and another man, who was serving a term in the jail, made their escape, at the same time. While their guard was away in another part of the yard for a few minutes looking after some other prisoners, they succeeded in climbing over a twenty-foot wall, and so far as can be learned, have not yet been recaptured, although the police have been hot on their trail. They were traced as far as Ingersoll and Woodstock, but managed to keep clear of the police. It is reported that at Ingersoll, the two men appeared on the main streets, and engaged in conversation with some acquaintances.

It is claimed that both men are armed, and that they will put up a warm fight before they will submit to capture.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

The Positions Reversed.

Kingston, Aug. 9.—(To the Editor): I noticed in your issue of the 6th inst., a statement made by the Town Watchman concerning the comparative results of the public and separate school, candidates at the present high school entrance examinations. After quoting the percentage of successful separate school candidates as seventy-eight per cent, and successful public school candidates as sixty-six per cent, the Watchman attributes the cause of the greater separate school percentage to the fact that in the separate school of the city the classes are smaller and, therefore, the teachers can give more individual attention. I beg to inform the Watchman that he has the actual situation precisely reversed. The total number of separate school teachers in this city is thirteen and over 700 students are enrolled in these schools. In St. Mary's school there are only six teachers and the average number of pupils per teacher is 45. Through overcrowding, the principal of this school is compelled to teach in a separate fourth class combined, totalling fifty students and hence he cannot devote much more than sixty per cent. of the school day to the entrance class. In St. Vincent's Academy, similar to this, there are only four teachers and the senior teacher is handicapped also with a junior fourth, in the same form with the seniors. Does the Watchman consider that these separate schools have small forms and that the teachers can give more individual attention than those of public schools?

I am informed that the public schools in the city have ten teachers, and that in every public school in the city the average class is in a separate form by itself so that the entrance teachers can devote the entire day to them. Moreover, in only one of these schools, this year, did the attendance fail to give more than ninety per cent. of the entire day to the entrance class. In Victoria and Central schools, there were slightly over thirty students. The Watchman will require to search some other avenue for the cause of the higher percentage of successful separate school candidates.—A Separate School Representative.

MARRIED AT ST. MARY'S.

Miss Bennett Becomes Bride of R. J. Flint.
A very pretty wedding occurred this morning at 8:30 a.m. in St. Mary's chapel, when Miss Myrtle, daughter of C. Bennett, University Avenue, was united in marriage to R. J. Flint. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Hanley, in the presence of a few invited guests. The bride, supported by her sister, Miss Grace Bennett, was becomingly dressed in allover embroidery muslin, with a hat of cream mohair, with white ostrich plume. She wore the groom's gift, a beautiful gold watch and fob, and carried a shower bouquet of white roses, sweet peas and pretty fern. The groom was supported by his brother, Thomas Flint.
After the ceremony the party repaired to the home of the bride's father, where a sumptuous wedding breakfast was partaken of. The decorations were pink and white. The groom's gift to the bride was a beautiful signet ring, and to the bride, the groomman a stick pin.
The happy couple will leave on the five o'clock boat for Rochester and Auburn, N.Y., before returning to their home in the city.
A large number of the best and most respectful signs, the esteem and respect in which both bride and groom are held, and the best wishes of a host of friends go with them to their new home.
Among the out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. John Emb, Mr. and Mrs. Levi F. Lewis, Leo and Eva Fish, of Napawan; James McGinty, of Gananoque; Mr. and Mrs. Saunders and Mr. and Mrs. Tidale, Barrie; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Flint, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. David Hanna, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Flint, Jr., Miss Mary Miller, Miss Mary Brown, and Frank Saunders, of the city.

What shall we do to be saved? was the title of one of Robt. Ingersoll's lectures. People of faith and people of no faith flocked to hear it. Thousands are asking, "What shall I do to get rid of dandruff?" The answer is, "Kill the germ that causes dandruff, falling hair and finally baldness; and the only thing that will do it, is Newbro's Herpicide. That is the very latest discovery of the laboratory, and it is the only preparation that claims to, or that will kill the pestiferous dandruff germ. It also is a delightful hair-dressing, free from oil or grease or sticky substances. Try it and be convinced of its actual merit.

Large Crowds Attend This Popular Amusement Place.

Ever since the new Orpheum Theatre has been taken over by the Griffin management, there has been no question as to its success. Every night this large auditorium is packed with 700 is filled during the early part of the evening. The clean, attractive bill, which can always be seen here, has been the means of drawing people to the house, who have never been there before. Last night's show was no exception to the rule. Three big films of moving pictures, "Bear Up, Ye Another's Burden," "Hearts in Union" and the "Irony of Fate," pleased the large audience present. And two illustrated songs by Hal Morgan, "Down Our Way" and "Have You Got Another Girl at Home Like Mary" were sung in his natural attractive way.
