GIVEN THEIR LIBERTY

PROSECUTION NOT WILLING TO PRESS CHARGES.

The Case of Paul Waggoner and Joseph Clapper Was Finally Disposed of by the Magistrate—No Evidence for Court to Substantiate the Charges.

Paul Waggoner and Joseph Clapper, held by the police for a week, in connection with the case already referred to in the Whig, were given their liberty, by Magistrate Farrell, at a special session of the police court, held at noon, on Friday.

It will be remembered that Waggoner was arrested at the request of Clapper, just as he was about to leave for Cape Vincent. Both were representatives of the Independent Cloak company, of Toronto. Louis Plogold, one of the representatives of the company, charged Waggoner with securing the sum of $20 and a trunk of samples from him, under false pretences. The case was given an airing in the police court on Saturday last.

"I have decided not to hold you any longer," remarked the magistrate, "as the charges which have been made against you."

The magistrate said that the people behind the prosecution were not willing to put up funds to secure evidence which would be necessary. Both men thanked the magistrate for his decision to discharge them, and they alone were responsible for all the trouble. Waggoner had come to the city, registered under an assumed name, and also registered Clapper, his partner, under an assumed name. Then Waggoner attempted to get away to the States and leave his companion behind.

It was not for the court to say just what the scheme was, but he would say that there was enough to create a suspicion. However, there was not sufficient evidence to substantiate a charge of obtaining money under false pretences, and he would release Waggoner on this charge. He would also suspend sentence on the vagrancy charge.

IN KINGSTON TWO HOURS.

Arrested on Charge of Begging on the Street.

It did not take John McGrath, aged about forty-seven, very long to get acquainted with the police. He came to the city, from Smith's Falls, on Friday morning, and inside of two hours was locked up in the cells. Begging on the street is the charge. He was gathered in on University avenue, by Constable James Downey.

McGrath's speedy acquaintance with the officers of the law, in Kingston, led him to believe that the constables had been watching him come into the city. Complaints were received about the man begging on Alfred street, and Constable Downey, who was given the case, made quick work in rounding him up. The accused is a real "knight of the road," when he was searched, it was found that he had in his possession, needle and thread and a package of tea. All the regular knights of the road carry these goods.

McGrath will be given a chance to tell his story before the magistrate in the police court, on Saturday morning.

Lady Douglas fought with the officers, and scratched the face of Police Captain Miles. She was sent to jail for thirty days.

"I want to go back to my husband," she said in jail to-day. "I am not a bad woman, and I can return to the life I formerly lived."

If You are Fat and Hot Read This Article

There is no necessity of fat people suffering as they do. Most fat people are in good health if they do not care how they look or how they get along during the hot weather. It is a matter of fact that in the past several years has been demonstrated that Marmola's tablets not only reduce the fat and do not tear down the body or leave fishy, fatty rolls of skin and wrinkles. This method is the famous Marmola's prescription, which is now prepared in tablet form, ready to be taken by fat people in the summer and to enable them at all times to take their fat liberally after each meal. One of these tablets taken after a meal turns that meal into good food for the blood and stops all fat-producing elements from going into the system. Marmola Tablets has an army of men and women who testify to its success, and you would tire reading their say of its virtues. Marmola tablets not only stop producing fat in the body but they reduce fat at the rate of from 12 to 15 ounces a day. They are harmless and do nothing to injure nature to give to the body the nourishment it requires. They are sold at all drug stores, price 25c. Do not be misled.
