While it was in the Lachine Canal—Capt. Siddell Took Prominent Part in his Rescue—Believed to be of Unsound Mind.

Capt. Robert Siddell, of the barge Quebec, of the Montreal Transportation company, saved a man from drowning in the Lachine canal, a couple of days ago. According to the report received in Kingston, the man, whose name is Andrés Hanberg, a Swede, fell into the canal, between the wharf and the barge. He was rescued by some of the deck hands, and it is alleged that he then jumped off the barge, and was again rescued, this time by Capt. Siddell. It is believed that Hanberg is of unsound mind. ENGINE BACKED FIRE

THE NEWS OF WORLD WIDOW WEDDED

AND A SERIOUS ACCIDENT NARROWLY AVERTED.

Sparks Set Fire to Some Waste on the Yacht of F. W. Bliss, of New York While at Yacht Club Wharf—Blaze Was Put Out in Nick of Time—Had 150 Gallons of Gasoline on Board. What might have turned out to be a very serious accident, occurred at the yacht club, about 5 o'clock, on Friday afternoon. The handsome yacht Emerald, with Mr. F. W. Bliss, of the Mutual Life, New York, Mrs. Bliss and Dr. C. O'Reilly, of Toronto, on board, was at the wharf, and was about to leave for a trip among the Thousand Islands, when the motor-engine backed fire, and sparks set fire to some waste and rags, lying on the floor of the yacht. This caused a quick explosion. Mrs. Bliss noticed the fire first and with in less time than it takes to tell it, the men on board put out one of their small fire extinguishers, used it to good advantage, and the blaze was put out before very serious damage was done. It was handled so well, however, that there was no smoke whatever, and it was not even necessary, to send in an alarm to the firemen. It was indeed fortunate that the mishap occurred when it did, as had it occurred after the yacht had left the wharf, and while it was on the way to the islands, the result, no doubt, would have been far more serious. There was on board, 150 gallons of gasoline, and had this caught fire, there it would have caused very serious trouble. As a result of the accident, the trip had to be cancelled, and the party is now staying over in Kingston until the necessary repairs are made. The Emerald, which is owned by Mr. Bliss, is fifty-five feet over all, and is run with forty-five horse-power. Hon. William Hart and Judge O'Reilly, of Cornwall, were on the wharf at the time of the accident, and had come down to say good-bye to the party. They both rendered able assistance in making things right.

Incidents of the Day.

Equilibrists and Comedy Juggling. A splendid bill is booked for next week at Lake Ontario Park. The programme includes Charles Chester and company, apto-cists, novelty equilibrist, demonstrating the limit of physical endurance, and performing wonderful balancing feats, using the finest wardrobe and stage settings in vanderbilt. Gallan, a comedy and novelty juggler, who promises to keep the audience in roars of laughter. Three thousand feet of new moving pictures and the latest illustrated songs will complete a first-class attraction, that should please all who enjoy clean amusement.

Question of Taxation.

Toronto Globe. Taxing the people is one of the responsibilities of government. A tax that carries special protection beyond the requirements of government revenue is and must always be a matter for free discussion and free action on the part of any free people concerned with the practice of self-government. The tariff never can be taken out of politics.

Boys Scouts Home.

The Boy Scouts came home this morning from Brophy's, voting the whole week a huge success. There has not been an accident nor a case of sickness. None of the medicine bottles were uncorked, nor surgical supplies called on. The deluge of Thursday was forgotten in Friday's sunshine, and last night made a grand wind-up to all things. A party of friends went away with a supply of bananas, etc., and sports were put on for their amusement, and a midnight attack wound up the fun. The Napanee boys, all splendid fellows, were given a great send-off on the train by the Kingston comrades, in town this morning.

BARONESS VAUGHAN FAILED TO KEEP SECRET.

Pair Target for Cameras—Photographers Lay in Ambush and Church Was Packed With Curious Spectators.

Paris, Aug. 26.—The marriage of Baroness Vaughan, widow of King Leopold, to Emmanuel Barieux, took place, Thursday morning, at Arronville, near Bainscourt, the residence of the baroness. The early hour did not save the couple from the photographers, who were ambushed in the Marais, where the civil ceremony took place, and who nearly filled the church where the religious function immediately followed. The baroness wore a black dress, purple hat and a thick veil. She and M. Barieux tried to baffle the cameras by holding handkerchiefs to their faces. They were intensely annoyed to find that their attempts at secrecy had failed. Both ceremonies were cut as short as possible and were completed in fifteen minutes. M. Barieux donated $100 to the poor.

The Main Reason. London Normanton used to be a member of the Bachelor's Club, and he tells the following story of a wedding breakfast at which all his fellow members who were present were asked to give a reason for their bachelorhood. "I am like 'the frog in the well,'" said one, "who, though he loved the water, would not jump into the well because he knew he could not jump out again." "I am too selfish," answered another, "and I am honest enough to admit it." "I prefer," said a third, "liberty, refreshing sleep, the cozy, midnight supper, quiet seclusion, dreamy cigars a bank account, and club to cold meat, baby-linen, soothing syrup, rocking-horses, bread-mudding, and empty pockets." "And I have a twin brother," said the last, "and we have never had a secret from one another. He is married."
