PRESSMEN AT GALT A COMPANY FORMED

FOR MANUFACTURE OF CANS IN THE CITY.

The Pressmen Had a Very Fine Time at Their Gathering Last Week—Were Well Treated—Did Some Business, However.

During the past two summers the members of the daily newspaper section have held their annual meetings in the eastern part of the province, and it was fitting that Western Ontario should be selected this year. The invitation of the Galt brothers was heartily accepted, and last Thursday and Friday the members of the craft flocked to that charming little city where every resident is proud to call it the "Manchester of Canada." And, indeed, the title is no idle boast, for the city is living up to the name. New industries are springing up like mushrooms at Galt, Preston and Hespeler—wide-awake towns which lie close to one another.

Among the newspaper men present were: J. F. McKay, Toronto Globe; F. H. Pollock, Review, and president of the Daily Section; L. H. Dingman, St. Thomas Times; W. J. Elliott, Ingersoll Chronicle; Leman A. Guild, Kingston Whig; W. R. Givens, Kingston Standard; Allan Gillies, Lindsay Post; W. H. Glover, Peterboro Examiner; W. H. Burgoine, St. Catharines Standard; J. B. Blaine, Stratford Beacon; John A. McKay, Windsor Record; W. J. Taylor, Woodstock Sentinel-Review; D. B. Taylor, of Rod and Gun, secretary of the daily section; A. A. Eby, Berlin Telegraph; J. P. Jaffrey, Galt Reporter, and Robert Sutherland, Galt Reporter. Business meetings were held in the town hall, but if the good citizens of Galt had their way there wouldn't have been much time left for business. Even Mayor Hahn, of Berlin, wired an official invitation to visit that town, but it had to be politely declined.

On Thursday afternoon the Galt newspaper men, accompanied by Mayor McLellan, entertained the visitors to a drive about the charming town, during which a visit was made to that noble veteran of the craft, Hon. James Taylor, at his beautiful residence. After viewing the several well-kept parks of the town, the party was conveyed to Croickerton Park Farm, the home of Miss Wilkes, one of the most enthusiastic horsewomen in the world. Here the visitors were entertained by Superintendent James Wetherald, and were given an opportunity to inspect the stables and see such well-known horses as Oro Boy, Black Princess, Bingen Pilot, Mogezia, etc. From 150 to 200 pure-blooded animals belong to these stables, including various breeds. It was a rare treat for any lover of the horse. The palatial hall is filled with trophies of the race track and jockey stand. It crowns a lofty elevation overlooking a wide expanse of country, and is the centre of an estate of 16,000 acres. In the evening the party was driven to the Waterloo Golf and Country Club, where they were the guests of the directors at dinner.

On Friday afternoon Galt, Preston and Hespeler Railway company, took the visitors in charge, and under the genial guidance of President Martin Todd, were shown over the line, visiting Preston, Hespeler, Waterloo and Berlin. At Hespeler the party was welcomed by Mayor Graybill, who reminded his guests that here was the birthplace of Canada and a place known to the world over. At Berlin, the program's "S. S." Refreshments were served at Waterloo Park, one of the most beautiful of spots. Mr. Heveron, proprietor of the Waterloo Sentinel, presented each visiting craftsman with a handsome souvenir folder, while the Galt Board of Trade presented a large souvenir edition of Pictorial and Industrial Galt. The one and only Galt Ham, of the C.P.R., came up from Montreal to fraternize with his friends of the press and to shed the light of his countenance upon them. No meeting would be complete without George—it would be a wedding without the bridegroom, a world without a flower.

During the business sessions a conference was held with the Advertising Agents' Association, represented by E. Desbats, Montreal; C. C. Norris, Toronto; J. J. Gibbons, Toronto; and J. E. McConnell, London. A most illuminative address on "Cost Systems," was given by John M. Imrie, editor of Printer and Publisher.

The visitors were most favorably impressed with Galt, the hospitality of whose citizens was unbounded. Substantial growth was evidenced on every hand. Old industries are enlarging their plants, and new enterprises are being continually established. The town is a busy, bustling one, and every citizen is a boomer. The easterner goes home with the impression that they do things differently in the west, and that they do those things well.

Stricken With Paralysis.
Joseph Pettengill, Wellington, a highly respected resident, while at his berth, on Tuesday morning, was stricken with paralysis and died about ten o'clock. He leaves a wife and four children, Dr. Harry, of New York; George, Chicago; Ella Maud, Wellington, and Lily, of Port Huron.

Band Concert.
A fair-sized crowd gathered at Victoria Park, last evening, to listen to the Kilbuck band. The band rendered a delightful programme of music, thoroughly enjoyed by everyone present. A great many people in the vicinity of the park sat on the veranda and listened to the concert.

Fell From Boat and Drowned.
Garfield Zachariah, a young Indian, of Wellington, Ont., about seventeen years old, while out rowing on Tuesday morning, fell from his boat and was drowned. A good deal of effort has been made to recover the body, but they have not been successful.

Canadian Fire Insurance Pays.
In 1909 the fire insurance companies in Canada received $17,858,843 in premiums and suffered losses amounting to $8,265,384, a gross profit of nearly fifty per cent. The amount at risk in 1909 was $1,862,459,522, an increase of $162,751,250 over 1908.

WEDDED AND AWAY

MISS DUNLOP MARRIED A FORT WILLIAM MAN.

The Ceremony Was Performed at Noon at the Bride's Home—It Was a Very Pretty Wedding.

One of Kingston's fairest young ladies was carried away by a Fort William young man, when Miss Florence, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dunlop, was united in marriage to J. T. McOrmond, Fort William. The ceremony was performed at the residence of the bride's parents, 196 Colborne street, at 12:30 o'clock, by the Rev. Dr. Mackie, in the presence of the immediate relatives and friends of the bride.

The bride was becomingly attired in a gown of Esorial lace over duchesse satin and wore the regulation veil and orange blossoms, and carried a shower bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley. The young couple were unattended, save for the presence of little Miss Marguerite Dunlop, Sydenham, cousin of the bride, who acted as flower girl. She also wore a basketful of sweet peas, in which the ring was hidden. The wedding march was played by Miss Mabelle Townsend, Sydenham. The drawing room was very prettily decorated with ferns and white flowers. After the ceremony everyone repaired to the prettily decorated dining room and partook of the sumptuous repast laid there.

The bride's going-away gown was of navy blue Venetian cloth, with checked French tulle waist to match. She also wore a black chip hat with fringe flowers to match. The happy couple left on the steamer Kingston for Niagara Falls, Toronto and St. Mary's, and will then return to Kingston before leaving for their new home in Port Arthur.

Before taking up house they will camp for two weeks about 150 miles from Fort William. The young couple carry with them the good wishes of a host of friends as Miss Dunlop is well-known here, she having graduated from Queen's University.

The other out-of-town guests were Miss Mabelle Townsend, Sydenham; Mrs. Robinson, Sunbury; J. McOrmond, Fort William, father of the groom; Mr. Pinel, Chrysler, and Miss Marguerite Dunlop, Sydenham.

Among the many beautiful and costly presents which they received were a cheque from the bride's father, a range from the groom's father and a silver tea and coffee service from the groom's mother.

The groom's gift to the flower girl was a gold locket, to the pianist a signet ring and to the bride a diamond. The guests wished a host of Kingston and Fort William friends go with them to their new home.

Purchased an Island.
The Isle of Pines has been sold to J. Whitman. This island property is one of the most attractive on the river, being located just opposite Smith Island, the property of W. J. Green, Utica, N.Y., and facing up the river, commanding a fine view of T. I. Park Hotel, Hotel Frontenac and all the beautiful islands of this river section.

Saturday's Special Features.
The Whig will, in Saturday's issue publish two important articles, both finely illustrated. One is on the coming Eucharistic Congress at Montreal and the other on the Bicentenary Celebration of the Anglican church at Halifax. Look out for these special features.

Of Prime Importance.
Rev. Father Hartigan, pastor of St. Vincent de Paul's church, Deseronto, has, of all the subjects that will be read and discussed, at the Eucharistic Congress, one that is of prime importance, "Assistance at the Sunday Mass."

Samuel Coy, Oswego, N.Y., is dead aged sixty-six years. He suffered from diabetes. James and William, Margaret and Mary Coy, Acton, are his brothers and sisters.

FALL CAUSED DEATH

LITTLE GEORGE BEARDSSELL DIED TUESDAY NIGHT.

Fell Out of a Third Storey Window at His Home on Clarence Street—He Received Terrible Injuries—How Accident Happened.

Injuries, received in a fall from a third storey window, at his home, caused the death, at the general hospital, Tuesday night, at 6:15 o'clock, of George Beardsell, aged two years, son of Henry Beardsell, 35 Clarence street.

The accident occurred at 3:30 o'clock. The lad was rushed to the general hospital, and everything possible was done for him, but from the very start his case was hopeless. He suffered terrible injuries. He fell on the sidewalk and his skull was fractured. His body was also badly lacerated.

At the Beardsell home Tuesday night the Whig learned that the child went to the window unknown to the mother. It was stated that it was usual for the child to go to sleep in the afternoon. He went to sleep on Tuesday afternoon, and the mother was engaged in some work in the kitchen, at the far end of the flat. The child went from the bed to the window and the first the mother knew of the accident was when the child was picked up off the sidewalk. It is believed that the youngster dropped some little toy out of the window and that in his eagerness to see where it went he got out too far, lost his balance and fell. There was some light wire netting on the window, but this was pushed aside by the child. In falling he struck some of the wires and the force of the fall was broken to some extent.

The accident occurred right above the cab stand, and the men who were in front of the office were given quite a shock when they noticed the lad on the walk. They were the first to reach him, call for a doctor and an ambulance. Dr. Nyks hurried to the general hospital. The lad was picked up unconscious, and never regained consciousness. With the parents four sons and three daughters survive. The child was very smart, and the family will have the sympathy of a large circle of friends in their sad bereavement.

Dr. ELKINGTON SORROWS.
He Was With Florence Nightingale at Scutari.

Dr. Elkington, resident at Plevna, was much distressed to hear of the death of the "beloved friend," Miss Florence Nightingale, as he had intimate professional relations with that lady during the Crimean war. At that time Dr. Elkington held her majesty's commission as surgeon and during the early summer of 1855 had charge of a number of wounded at the great military hospital at Scutari until ordered away with a large expeditionary force to the sea of Azov, Katchaba, northeast of Sebastopol. As all this happened considerably more than half a century ago there cannot be many of those veterans left.

Married in Ottawa.
The marriage took place in Ottawa of Miss Effie May Bradshaw, only daughter of Mr. M. J. Bradshaw, of Ottawa, formerly of Nanapanee, to George Archibald Cothell, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Cothell. The ceremony was performed by Rev. B. W. Thompson.

The bride was gowned in white Indian mull, and wore a large picture hat, and carried a bouquet of phlox and asters. Her only ornament was the groom's gift, a true lover's knot of gold set with pearls. Miss Flora Storr, cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid. She wore white muslin, and carried pink sweet peas. Henry Richardson was best man. The groom's gift to the bride was a stick pin and to the bridesmaid a brooch. The bride travelled in a suit of navy blue Venetian cloth and a mohair hat. Mr. and Mrs. Cothell left for Smith's Falls, Brockville, Toronto, and other points, and will reside in Ottawa on their return.

Have You Remembered It?
When packing for the country, cottage don't forget your box of Zam-Buk. Blisters, sunburn, scratches, insect stings, etc., if not immediately attended to are likely to spoil your pleasure. Zam-Buk ensures you against trouble from these. Take Zam-Buk instead of "taking chances." Zam-Buk is antiseptic; kills all poison in wounds, whether from barbed wire cuts, or insect stings. Soothes itching feet and blistered hands; heals baby's chafed places; cools those sunburn patches, and prevents freckles. No mother should be without it. Purely herbal in its composition, Zam-Buk is always superior to the ordinary ointments containing animal oils and fats, and mineral coloring matter. All druggists and stores sell Zam-Buk, but avoid harmful substitutes.

Sir Wilfrid Optimistic.
Ottawa Press Press.
The optimists of the west have to yield the palm to the east. E. M. Macdonald, M.P., predicted at Calgary that the day would soon come when Western Canada would have a population of 25,000,000, and Sir Wilfrid went him twice better by doubling the estimate. Is it any wonder that the Laurier party has captured the hearts of the people on the plains?

He's a Back Number.
The Hon. Richard McBride has destroyed all prospect of ever becoming the political hero of the West. He has been praising Sir Wilfrid Laurier as the greatest Canadian.

Owing to the R.C.H.A. band being at Pictou to-morrow, the band concert will take place in Macdonald Park on Friday night.

The entertainment for the new House of Providence, St. Mary's-on-the-Lake, will be on Wednesday, August 31st.
