GLAD IT'S OVER

A Strange Story Told By A Woman

HER UNHAPPY LIFE

AFTER THE UNFORTUNATE MARRIAGE TO CLERIC.

A Marriage Story That Reads Very Strangely—Both Glad to be Rid of the Tie—They Decided They Did Not Love Each Other.

New York, Sept. 1.—With a strange similarity to Robert Henshaw's "Garden of Allah," Miss Katherine Johnson has related her extraordinary romance, her marriage on May 28th at Atlantic City, with Alphonse M. Consolazio, a former Catholic priest of Princeton, N.J., and finally the death of the illusion they called love.

Miss Johnson said the marriage was annulled two weeks ago, she being only sixteen. The last chapter in this strange romance was written when Consolazio sailed for Rome last week. Like the hero of Robert Henshaw's fancy, who knocks for repentance at the big iron doors of the monastery, the young ex-clergyman is now bringing family pressure to bear in seeking forgiveness and admission to the monastic brotherhood.

It was said by some of his clerical friends in Trenton, who did not desert him in his trouble, and to whom he confided his remorse, that he would shortly enter upon a long period of penance and prayer to expiate the sin of disobedience to the laws of the church.

Miss Johnson is not penitent, but glad that the marriage has been annulled. "It was all a dreadful mistake," said Miss Johnson. "No marriage like this could possibly be a happy one. A woman wrote me the roughest letters from Pittsburgh. She said she felt so sorry for me. She had fallen in love with a bishop in Washington. It was a romance just like mine. She said they were unhappy afterward, and in a few weeks they parted. She got a divorce. He went to Canada to join some brotherhood, and she married a Pittsburgh millionaire. So I know of at least two such marriages that were failures.

"When the realization dawned upon me how wrong it was for him to have left the church I was very miserable. My mother came to Atlantic City and took me home after we were married. He came back with us and stayed here a couple of weeks and then went to New York. He told me nothing of his business in New York. Finally neither of us could stand it any longer. We were both unhappy.

DAILY MEMORANDUM.

Trades and Labor Council, 8 p.m. Bijou—The House Party. The Barrel Jumper. Under Both Flags. There will be a grand ball in the programme at Lake Ontario Park this evening.

Slowly we came to realize we did not love each other so much as we thought we did, when we hurried away to marry. After about six weeks we were quite convinced that the romance had ended. And we felt glad to get out of it the best way we could. I do not know where he is now, and I shall never see him again."

LEAD IN HIS LUNG.

Bullet Soldier Carried for Forty-Six Years Located.

Daville, Pa., Sept. 1.—A rebel bullet, which Joseph W. Miller has carried in his left lung ever since the battle of Spotsylvania, forty-six years ago, has been definitely located by means of the X-ray. An attempt to remove it would be dangerous, and Mr. Miller will continue to carry about with him the leaden compliment so rudely handed him long ago.

When first wounded Mr. Miller's recovery seemed out of the question. For seven years after he was wounded he was prostrated, but later he recovered from all ill-effects. For nearly forty years he was in the best of health, but recently began to suffer ill-effects. He is conscious of the presence of the bullet, and experiences at times a nervous sensation, which he can scarcely endure.

NEED OF BOYS

To Be Met By The Scout Movement

BADEN POWELL SURE

OF THE SUCCESS OF MOVEMENT IN CANADA.

It Will Give Better Training Than Cadet Drilling—Dominion Police Prosecuted Illicit Liquor Sellers at Lattuce.

Ottawa, Sept. 1.—Gen. Baden-Powell arrived in Ottawa, this morning. He will address a mass meeting at the Y.M.C.A. building, and the Canadian Club to-morrow. He is assured of the success of the Boy Scout movement in Canada. It is better advanced, he says, in the west than in the east, with the exception of Toronto. He believes that the Canadian boys need the training, which they will receive as a Boy Scout, as much as the British boys do. The Canadian boys need training in discipline, in being courteous, etc. They are mainly boys to begin with, he said. He emphasized, in an interview, that this was not a military organization, although it was a better training for future soldiers than cadet drilling was. There was no formal reception here, the general being met at the train by Lord Lansborough and Col. Sherwood, C.M.G.

The dominion police, sent to Lattuce to suppress illicit liquor selling on the N.T.R., have returned. There were five convictions, and sentences were suspended on the parties agreeing to leave the district.

The immigration department has announced the immigration figures for the month of May. The total arrivals for that month were 47,869, made up of 33,385 via ocean ports and 14,484 from the United States, or an increase of sixty-four per cent over the corresponding month of the previous year. There was an increase of 15,472 arrivals via ocean ports, and an increase of 3,087 from the United States for April and May. The first two months of the present fiscal year, the total immigration has been 95,771, against 53,367 for the same two months of 1909-10, or an increase of eighty per cent. For the two months, the ocean ports immigration more than doubled, increasing from 29,561 to 63,214. The States immigration for the same two months increased from 23,716 to 34,557, or an increase of forty-six per cent.

It is announced that 8,000 men are required for taking the dominion census next June. This is somewhat less than were employed for the census last time.

Dozens of applications are in for the vacancies at the printing bureau, the offices of superintendent of printing and superintendent of stationery, the date for receiving which closed, to-day. The appointments will not be made by the cabinet for some weeks.

THE NUNS ARE ALARMED. Montreal Rumor That Hotel Dieu is to Be Blown Up.

Montreal, Sept. 1.—A story was circulated here to the effect that the Hotel Dieu was to be blown up when the sacrament was deposited there. The nuns at the Hotel Dieu, alarmed by these rumors, communicated them to the police, and a strict watch will be kept by private detectives on the hospital while the repository is guarded during the night.

To Keep Out Cholera. New York, Sept. 1.—Because of the recent spread of Asiatic cholera in Europe, and the recent outbreak of the plague in a suburb of Berlin, Dr. Doty, the health officer of the port, is making a most drastic investigation in the case of every ship arriving at quarantine from Germany or the Mediterranean.

SWEEPING RESOLUTION

Adopted Regarding Disarmament—Roosevelt Criticized.

Copenhagen, Sept. 1.—The anti-militarist committee of the International Socialist congress, yesterday, adopted a resolution, declaring it to be the duty of all social democrats to resist militarism, to refuse to vote money in parliament for military purposes and unceasingly to demand disarmament until this object has been reached. The resolution also declared that limitation of naval armaments and the repeal of the prize law must be demanded, the negotiations of secret treaties abolished and those now existing published.

James Keir Hardie, on behalf of English socialists, objected to the resolution as not being comprehensive enough. The resolution, he declared, ought to contain a declaration in favor of a general international strike in the event of a war breaking out, thus rendering hostilities impossible.

Herr Ledebor, of the German Reichstag, during the meeting made a vigorous attack on Col. Roosevelt for his military tendencies and also because of his meddling in the Egyptian question, and support of British rule. Herr Ledebor declared Roosevelt's action was incomprehensible, inasmuch as the former president of the United States belonged to a nation which came into existence by virtue of a revolution. Herr Ledebor closed by dubbing Col. Roosevelt "a political proberpreter," namely "a drummer."

Act of Bad Boys. St. Catharines, Sept. 1.—Two lads, Harry Holman and Claude Fillingham, were committed for trial by Police Magistrate Campbell, in police court this morning, charged with releasing brakes on a freight car, standing on the Wellandvale Mfg. Co.'s siding. The car ran down a steep grade and did considerable damage to the buildings, and was itself badly crippled.

TIED IN KINGSTON. CLAYTON YOUNG MAN GIVES FRIENDS SURPRISE.

Acquaintances Formed at a Ball Last Winter Culminate in Marriage of James A. Kelley and Miss Eva J. Hill.

Clayton, N.Y., Sept. 1.—A pretty romance starting at a ball given at Depauville last winter, which culminated in the marriage of James A. Kelley and Miss Eva J. Hill, at Kingston, Thursday, came as a surprise to Clayton's younger set.

Mr. Kelley is a popular young mechanic of this place, but the village belle never took him seriously, as he was considered a "homespun sort of fellow," who could reel off a coltillon or a polka tolerably well, but when it came to a two-step or waltz had no time. To pretty, rosy cheeked Miss Hill, over in the adjoining village of Depauville, it was different, and Jim was just the best partner that ever graced the ball room floor.

In speaking of the courtship and marriage, Mrs. Kelley told a reporter that while their engagement was not long, both were of the same mind. Wednesday night, when Jim proposed, marriage preliminaries arranged, the next day they skipped away from their friends to Kingston, where Rev. T. E. Bourke tied the knot.

ANDREW DARLING DEAD. A Prominent Toronto Wholesale Merchant Passes Away.

Toronto, Sept. 1.—Andrew Darling, head of the Andrew Darling company, and one of Toronto's most prominent wholesalers, dropped dead, this morning, at his home, in Sussex Court. Apoplexy is believed to have been the cause of death. Mr. Darling, who was for many years associated with the old wholesale firm of Wyld-Darling, and who this firm, after the big fire of five or six years ago, sold its assets and goods, and retired, he went into the wholesale cloth and clothing business. Mr. Darling, who was of Scotch descent and was born in Montreal, in 1852, leaves a widow, but no family. A brother, William Darling, lives in Montreal.

ISSUE AT NEXT ELECTIONS. Will Go to Country on Georgian Bay Canal Proposal.

Montreal, Sept. 1.—Gerald V. White, M.P. for North Brantford, states at the Windsor, that there was every prospect of the approaching session of parliament being not only lengthy, but a prolonged trial of strength between the two parties. Mr. White is one of the foremost champions in the house of the Georgian Bay canal, and he is of the opinion that Sir Wilfrid Laurier will appeal to the people at the next general elections on the platform of the immediate construction of this large undertaking. Mr. White left for Pembroke last night, and will leave for a trip to British Columbia shortly.
