to place your money where it will be safe and in an investment that is going to have a steady, rapid, natural increase in value.

Keeping cash scattered about the house or in a bank, where it earns little or no interest, is not putting your "talents" to the best possible use.

Safety and proper earning capacity for your savings means investing them in Kingston realty. Then you can sleep soundly in the knowledge that your money is not only secure, but that it is placed to the best possible advantage.

A MOST HAPPY CHOICE

In Selecting Archbishop Gauthier for See of Ottawa.

The New Freeman, of St. John, N.B., of Saturday, September 17th, says: "During the week a cable from Rome confirmed the rumors and general sentiments of the Canadian people, that the Most Rev. Charles Hugh Gauthier, archbishop of Kingston, was transferred to the important see of Ottawa, vacant since a year ago last June. The news will be hailed with satisfaction, even joy, by all except the priests and people of Kingston, for those will be called upon to part with their illustrious and much loved archbishop."

"It lacks but a few days of twelve years since his grace was consecrated at Kingston, and during that time he has endeared himself to priests and people by the charm of his character, the splendor of his work and the success of his administration. Great, therefore, will be Kingston's loss, but equally great will be the gain to Ottawa, and consequently to the dominion, of which Ottawa is the capital."

"The time-honored wisdom of the holy see is again brightly illustrated by the present appointment. As the capital of the dominion, there is no more important diocese in Canada than that of Ottawa, and it has grave subjects which will require the best of men to deal with. Looking over the whole Canadian hierarchy, everyone will admit that no happier choice could be made. The New Freeman wishes long life, health and happiness to Ottawa's new archbishop. Ad multos annos!"

Sunday School Baseball Banquet.

An event looked forward to with interest is the banquet to be held in Bethel lecture hall Tuesday evening. One of the features of the affair is the presenting of junior and senior cups of the Sunday school baseball league to the winning teams. Representatives of each team in the league will be present, as well as the executive. A good time is looked forward to by all those who have invitations.

SOME OF THE ADDITIONS

To Queen's Staff—Dean Ellis' Assistant Here.

The commencement of the seventeenth session at Queen's will see several splendid additions to the already able professorial staff of the university. W. L. Grant, son of the late illustrious Principal Grant, comes as professor of colonial and Canadian history. Kingstonsians are already well acquainted with him, the distinguished scholar of Prof. Grant, and his association with Oxford University as lecturer in colonial history. R. Davis, another graduate of Oxford, will act as assistant professor in French. Mr. Davis comes to Queen's highly recommended, and carrying with him the distinguished French diploma of Sorbonne. Rev. W. H. Greaves will don the mantle relinquished by Dr. MacNeill, and will carry on the work in the department of oratory and public speaking. Mr. Greaves comes from Carleton College, Ottawa. John Dall, M.A., B. D., of St. Andrew's University, Scotland, will lecture to the theological students in church history. Mr. Dall brings with him an enviable reputation both as preacher and professor. He was at one time assistant pastor of St. Catharines, Edinburgh.

As has already been announced, W. S. Ellis will act as dean of the faculty of education. Sinclair Laird, M.A., who will be associated with Dean Ellis, has already arrived in the city, and together with Mrs. Laird, are guests at the principal's house.

REOPENING OF CHURCH.

Special Services at St. John's, Pittsburg.

Sunday marked the opening of St. John's church, Pittsburg, which has been closed for some time past for a general overhauling. Altogether about $1,000 has been expended on interior decorating and reseating the church. The Ladies' Aid, of which Mrs. Reede is president, undertook the responsibility of the work, and they have the hearty thanks of the congregation for their untiring efforts. Both the Methodist and Presbyterian, withdrew their services, so that those who wished to could attend. Rev. Mr. McConnell, of the Methodist church, spoke briefly in the morning, commending both Mr. and Mrs. Reede for the splendid work they had carried through. The interior of the church is exceedingly pretty. Miss Reede, soloist of St. Andrew's church, of this city, spent the day with her parents, and assisted singing, morning and evening.

PASSED AWAY SUDDENLY.

Henry Dunn Died at Montreal on Saturday.

A telegram received in the city, conveyed the sad intelligence of the death of Henry Dunn, December 1st, at the home of Mrs. M. J. McCammon, of Queen street, and was sixty-five years of age. He was in Kingston, about ten days ago, on a visit, and had been in his usual good health. Saturday morning he was about to go down town, when he was stricken. Heart trouble was the cause. He is survived by two daughters and one son.

A Strong Company.

Supporting "Ita" one of the strongest vaudeville companies will appear tomorrow and week, at the Grand, and includes: The Musical Harringtons, better known as Eugene the mad musician, and daughter, Lucille. The Harringtons play over twenty instruments and they never fail to create the most favorable impression; the Ocaros, comedy jugglers; the Perrin Bros., comic dancers; Mon Denny, from Bonnie Scotland; Billy Grady, the diminutive comedian, etc. It is a "Ita" that wherever she appears she never fails to create quite a furore and this clever little exponent of mental telepathy or mind reader will, no doubt, as the Peterboro Examiner said it, "have the public going, coming and guessing."

Death of James Gordon.

James Gordon, a retired gentleman, who has resided in the city for the past two years, passed away at 9:30 o'clock Saturday evening, at his late residence, 183 Division street. Death resulted from apoplexy. Deceased formerly lived in Belleville, but about two years ago, he came to the city and resided here ever since. He was seventy-nine years of age and had been partially an invalid. The funeral services will be conducted at S. S. Corbett's undertaking parlors, to-morrow morning, and the remains will be sent to Belleville on the noon train.

The premier returns from Arthabaska, on Thursday.

HOPE FOR BIG THINGS

From Ralph Bowron, New Y.M.C.A. Physical Director.

Ralph Bowron, the Y.M.C.A. physical director, who is to come here from Ottawa, is expected to-morrow. He is being tendered a big reception in Ottawa to-night by the citizens there who regret losing such a good man. Mr. Bowron is a young man but already he has made his influence felt for good in the work in Ottawa. He comes to the city with several trophies tied to his belt, and by all accounts, he is just the man the institution here has been looking for. It will take him some time to get accustomed to the state of things here, and when he gets here working nicely, there will be a reception given him by the directors. It is expected that the affair will come off about Oct. 3rd, and this night will also mark the opening of the classes for the winter. Efforts are being made to have an annual road race started here to be run off on Thanksgiving Day if possible, but arrangements have not been completed. Everyone is looking forward with much interest to the coming of Mr. Bowron, and he is assured a royal welcome.

Guarding Canadian Interests.

Toronto News.

Again and again the electors have expressed themselves in favor of guarding Canadian industries, and thus stimulating the home market for agricultural products. The free-traders, who form an unimportant remnant of our population, are not at all backward in self-expression, but votes not words, influence the fiscal policy of the country. In the meantime President Taft is rather busy at the inside of the republican party. It will take him some time to make his diagnosis, and he must prescribe for his patient before the congressional elections in November. Presumably after that event congress will not be particularly friendly towards the executive.

JAMES HYATT LETS NETS FROM LAKE ONTARIO.

Has Saved Many Lives—Will Celebrate Golden Wedding in October—Lives at the Sand Banks.

To those who have been in the habit of spending their summer vacation in the vicinity of the celebrated "Sand Banks" of Prince Edward county, the name and sight of Mr. and Mrs. James Hyatt, who will celebrate their golden wedding in October, are very familiar.

The sturdy old sailor, who has passed his threescore-and-ten, was saving lives along the lake front in the neighborhood of his home, long before Humana Society medals had ever been thought of and is still ready and eager to extend a helping hand to any mariner in distress. He has spent his entire life in his fishing vocation, and at the age of seventy-three rows out and visits his nets daily.

Sixty years ago the steamer Ocean took fire in the course of her trip down Lake Ontario, and went to the bottom of Long Point. James Hyatt, after an unavailing attempt to save some of the survivors of the disaster, found the body of Lyman B. Fiske, a wealthy Bostonian, who had evidently jumped overboard.

Fiske's partner, a man named Humphrey, came over from Cleveland as soon as he had learned the news, and offered Hyatt a reward of $100 for the possession of the body. The latter readily complied, and signed away his right to claim any of the dead man's personal effects. Thereupon Humphrey extracted from Fiske's pocket 36 one thousand dollar bills, and transferred them to his own wallet.

Mr. Hyatt affirms that, according to the law at the time, he was entitled to half of the money found on the dead man, $18,000. But he had signed away his claim, and the wealth that had been within his grasp was now the possession of another.

One of the old fishermen's most heroic acts was the saving of six lives from the schooner International, driven ashore on the "Banks," in a terrific storm, thirty years ago. Despite the fact that a tremendous sea was rolling, Hyatt fearlessly launched his way out, raising and to the rapidly sinking wreck, brought the survivors ashore.

On another occasion Mr. Hyatt saved the lives of four fishermen who had run aground during the night, and were in an unconscious condition when he had managed, after nearly capsizing a dozen times, to reach them.

Mr. Hyatt has become a veritable landmark in the Long Point district, and it is the sincere wish of his friends on the lake and ashore that he may have many more milestones before "crossing the bar."
