to the Discipline of Their Leaders -The Struggle is Within London, Sept. 19.—The various la-bor troubles have now reached a de-cisive crisis in Great Britain. The oiler-makers' lockout, probably, will entinue until the whole ship building dustry is paralyzed, for there is no gn that the men will submit to the scipline of their leaders. The Trades Union Congress, last week, did not dare to deal with the situation or to scuss it except academically. The chief leaders dwelt with emphasis on the inviolability of agreement and the necessity of discipline.

It has become clearer, to general

blic opinion, that what is involved s a grave crisis in trades unionism and not a struggle between employers
