

EAT ANYTHING

When Far Away From Civilization.

LIVED ON LEATHER

NEW YORK SCIENTISTS SUFFER HARDSHIPS IN ARCTIC.

Poor Luck in Hunting—Party Travelled 400 Miles East of Mouth of the Mackenzie River.

New York, Sept. 22.—That even shoestrings look good to men hungry in the far north, with their food caches raided and ruined by bears and wolverines, is shown in letters written to Hermon C. Bumpus, director of the Museum of Natural History, by Dr. Radojoh Anderson and Vilhjalmur Stefansson, who left New York for the Arctic zone in May, 1908. The scientists, who are making extended ethnological and zoological collections on the shores of Arctic America for the museum, have travelled four hundred miles east of the mouth of the Mackenzie river.

The last news from Mr. Stefansson was dated March 13th, 1910. In his letter the explorer tells of a trying journey up the Horton river, which started on November 25th, 1909. Six persons were in the party and they carried two dogs provisions. During the one trip, which took fifteen days, hunting was bad. Each bank of the river was hunted, but not a single animal was found.

The party ate whale tongue, which, owing to its fibrous nature and to the presence of sea salt, was very sickening. When the tongue was gone the men ate seal skins, deer skins—which they used for sole leather—and the tough skin laces used for their snowshoes. There was sufficient seal oil with the expedition. The oil, about a teaspoonful a day, was consumed to keep away the ravages of hunger. It was taken with deer skin or feathers, as few of the men could take it "straight."

Dr. Anderson wrote from Fort MacPherson, in Arctic America, on July 15th. He tells of the hardship encountered by the party and of finding a partly eaten caribou or caribou which supplied enough meat for three or four meals. When it was gone the men lived on "whitfish," which they took "straight" and a spoonful each of portions of the animal's stomach taken with oil at each meal.

The travellers made camp one day at a time when the nights of every one were low. Dr. Anderson asked "Jimmy," one of the Eskimau boys what was the name of the district. The boy knew of no name, but he suggested that it be called Kakewilik, the "place of no food."

The two scientists have made interesting observations on the native fauna and geography of the region through which they are travelling. They joined forces on November 20th, 1909. In September Mr. Stefansson, with two Eskimaus, landed at Cape Parry, Arctic America, from the whaling vessel, Rook II. He spent the winter in the vicinity of Franklin Bay.

Dr. Anderson pushed forward by sledges from Toker Point along the coast to Franklin Bay, where he joined his colleagues, about fifteen miles northwest of Horton river. On March 14th, Dr. Anderson left Cape Parry.

WAS AN IDLE FEAR

THE CANADIAN COIN WAS NOT COUNTERFEIT.

New Quarter Dollars Have Figure Upside Down on One Side, But Are Found to Be Sound Currency.

Watertown, N.Y., Sept. 22.—Because the figure on one side happens to be upside down, hundreds of shiny Canadian quarter dollars are giving trouble about town and at the same time creating a lot of interest in the new coins. Many believe them counterfeit and refuse them in change.

A restaurant keeper found seven or eight in his till the other night and proceeded to get rid of them in a quiet way, and has since been keeping a sharp look-out for the coins. Chief of Police Baxter has heard of the suspicion the new coin is arousing. More than one resident of Watertown gained the idea that a gang of counterfeiters were at work flooding Northern New York. The coin is a good one, according to Chief of Police Baxter and others.

In looking at the coin some one noticed that the two sides, did not "head up" as they had previously, this was apparently reversed. It was enough to start the story that counterfeit money was coming from Canada and was being made near here. The fact that the coin was perfect in make and design seemed to cut no figure in allaying suspicion.

It is no uncommon sight now to see a man carefully examining his change to see if he possesses one of the new quarters, and if he does a crowd is sure to gather around him to see wherein the coin differs from the others.

DAILY MEMORANDUM

Stylish furs fall. Campbell's the noblest of them all. "His" Grand Opera House, 8:15 p.m. Grand meeting. Cooke's church, 9 p.m. Be sure and read Cromley's adv. tonight. Limestone Lodge No. 51, A.O.U.W. meets Thursday evening, 8 o'clock. Matinee for ladies only Grand Opera House, Friday, 2:30 p.m. Ask for "Bliss"—A Life for a Life. "Woman With a Gun." "The Duck Farm." Miss Henderson sings.

Yes; the Merchant Who Advertisises Can Afford to Sell for Less

No matter what the article is, unless it should be something whose selling price is as fixed as that of a postage stamp, the merchant who is an advertiser is sure to sell for less than the merchant who does not advertise, says the Ottawa Free Press.

Right—For he is enabled to count his profits on a large aggregate of sales—not compelled to secure them from a FEW SALES, for he would then be taxing a small number of customers with the entire support of his business.

A store that makes a net profit of $100 in a day from sales to three hundred customers, is sure to sell to each of those customers on a closer margin of profit than is the non-advertising store that is COMPELLED to make enough to cover a daily expense of $50 out of sales made to fifty customers.

If you are one of the 300 daily customers of the merchant who advertises, you are paying but one three hundredth part of his store profits on the days you buy; if you are one of the fifty daily customers of the non-advertising merchant, you are paying one fifth of his profits.

THIEVES WERE THOROUGH.

Toronto Man Robbed in N.Y. Central Station at Buffalo.

Buffalo, N.Y., Sept. 22.—It cost H. A. McMann, of Toronto, Ont., all he had held the clothing on his back to take a nap in the New York Central railway station, and he had considerable. It was the most daring robbery that has been perpetrated in this city in a long time, and the police declare that it must have been the work of more than one clever pickpocket.

Third by travel and on his way home, Mr. McMann fell asleep on a bench in the station. When he awoke his gold watch and chain, his baggage checks and $210.50 were gone.

The thieves had even taken one of the checks to the baggage room and secured his suit case containing considerable wearing apparel. No arrests have been made, but the police are still working on the case.

HOBBLE FREAK DOOMED.

Skirts are Widening Out, Say Dressmaking Experts.

Chicago, Sept. 22.—The beginning of the end of the hobble skirt is noted by certain of the dressmakers gathered here in convention. It is stated that skirts are already widening out.

A plan to establish a dressmaking institution in connection with Chicago's public school system will come up at a dinner of the dressmakers next Friday. Superintendent of Schools Ella F. Young, representatives of the Chicago Association of Commerce and other well known dressmakers. It is said that dressmaking schools in Boston and New York have proved successful in providing much needed expert assistance to the makers of women's apparel.

WAS AN IDLE FEAR

THE CANADIAN COIN WAS NOT COUNTERFEIT.

New Quarter Dollars Have Figure Upside Down on One Side, But Are Found to Be Sound Currency.

Watertown, N.Y., Sept. 22.—Because the figure on one side happens to be upside down, hundreds of shiny Canadian quarter dollars are giving trouble about town and at the same time creating a lot of interest in the new coins. Many believe them counterfeit and refuse them in change.

A restaurant keeper found seven or eight in his till the other night and proceeded to get rid of them in a quiet way, and has since been keeping a sharp look-out for the coins. Chief of Police Baxter has heard of the suspicion the new coin is arousing. More than one resident of Watertown gained the idea that a gang of counterfeiters were at work flooding Northern New York. The coin is a good one, according to Chief of Police Baxter and others.

In looking at the coin some one noticed that the two sides, did not "head up" as they had previously, this was apparently reversed. It was enough to start the story that counterfeit money was coming from Canada and was being made near here. The fact that the coin was perfect in make and design seemed to cut no figure in allaying suspicion.

It is no uncommon sight now to see a man carefully examining his change to see if he possesses one of the new quarters, and if he does a crowd is sure to gather around him to see wherein the coin differs from the others.

DAILY MEMORANDUM

Stylish furs fall. Campbell's the noblest of them all. "His" Grand Opera House, 8:15 p.m. Grand meeting. Cooke's church, 9 p.m. Be sure and read Cromley's adv. tonight. Limestone Lodge No. 51, A.O.U.W. meets Thursday evening, 8 o'clock. Matinee for ladies only Grand Opera House, Friday, 2:30 p.m. Ask for "Bliss"—A Life for a Life. "Woman With a Gun." "The Duck Farm." Miss Henderson sings.

Yes; the Merchant Who Advertisises Can Afford to Sell for Less

No matter what the article is, unless it should be something whose selling price is as fixed as that of a postage stamp, the merchant who is an advertiser is sure to sell for less than the merchant who does not advertise, says the Ottawa Free Press.

Right—For he is enabled to count his profits on a large aggregate of sales—not compelled to secure them from a FEW SALES, for he would then be taxing a small number of customers with the entire support of his business.

A store that makes a net profit of $100 in a day from sales to three hundred customers, is sure to sell to each of those customers on a closer margin of profit than is the non-advertising store that is COMPELLED to make enough to cover a daily expense of $50 out of sales made to fifty customers.

If you are one of the 300 daily customers of the merchant who advertises, you are paying but one three hundredth part of his store profits on the days you buy; if you are one of the fifty daily customers of the non-advertising merchant, you are paying one fifth of his profits.

FORTY KILLED

Others Fatally or Badly Injured In Collision.

HIT A T SHORT CURVE

ONE TROLLEY CAR WAS HEAVILY LADEN.

With People Who Were En Route to the County Fair at Fort Wayne, Ind.—Those Who Were Not Badly Hurt Gave Help to Those In Distress.

Fort Wayne, Ind., Sept. 22.—Forty persons were killed and twenty or more fatally injured in a collision of trolley cars, on the Wabash valley line, near Singland, yesterday about noon. The collision was between a north-bound limited and a south-bound local car, and occurred on a short curve. Hardly any of the passengers in the two cars escaped injury, but less seriously hurt gave what assistance they could, and within a few moments twenty-six bodies, horribly mutilated, were carried to the roadside and laid along the track. Others were pinned in the debris that they could not be reached till wrecking crews arrived on the scene.

The north-bound car was loaded with people coming to the county fair here, and among them were many women and children.

What led to the accident is not known, but it is supposed there was a misunderstanding of orders. The car, carrying the people to the fair, was an extra, and it is believed its position on the road was not definitely known, and the limited, running on its own time, was not apprised of its approach.

The curve where the wreck occurred is one of the shortest on the Wabash Valley line and there was hardly a moment after the local car was sighted before the crash came. Even the motorman on the two cars had not time to jump.

The scenes following the wreck were peculiarly pathetic, as mothers and fathers saw the mangled forms of children taken from the wreckage and a husband saw wife, or a wife saw a husband taken out so mangled that identification could not be made only from the clothes.

Physicians and nurses were rushed to the scene of the wreck from this city and other places on the line and many of the injured are now in hospitals. Some of them died before medical attention could be given, and two died while being conveyed to the hospital.

That the cars were running at a very fast rate is demonstrated by a view of the wrecked cars. The iron and wood of one could not be distinguished from iron and wood of the other.

Though the wreck occurred about noon, it was after four o'clock when the last body was got out of the wreckage. Only thirty-six of the dead were identified; eighteen of them were from Bluffton and many of them were among the most wealthy class. They were going to see the races at the Fort Wayne fair and just as the two cars met many of them were engaged in singing comic songs and cracking jokes at each other's expense.

THIEVES BUSY IN HOTELS.

Travellers Have Lost $100,000 in Canada This Summer.

Vancouver, B.C., Sept. 22.—That one of the cleverest and boldest gangs of train and hotel thieves that ever gathered together has been operating at great profit between Ashcroft and Montreal, was the statement made, today, by a man whose business it is to watch the doings of members of the underworld. He further said that during the tourist season now drawing to a close, tourists at Canadian hotels at different points across the dominion and travellers on transcontinental railways had been robbed of upwards of a $100,000 in cash and valuables by this same gang of crooks, who are estimated to be the choice pickings of the cleverest criminal ring on the American continent.

DAILY MEMORANDUM

Stylish furs fall. Campbell's the noblest of them all. "His" Grand Opera House, 8:15 p.m. Grand meeting. Cooke's church, 9 p.m. Be sure and read Cromley's adv. tonight. Limestone Lodge No. 51, A.O.U.W. meets Thursday evening, 8 o'clock. Matinee for ladies only Grand Opera House, Friday, 2:30 p.m. Ask for "Bliss"—A Life for a Life. "Woman With a Gun." "The Duck Farm." Miss Henderson sings.

Yes; the Merchant Who Advertisises Can Afford to Sell for Less

No matter what the article is, unless it should be something whose selling price is as fixed as that of a postage stamp, the merchant who is an advertiser is sure to sell for less than the merchant who does not advertise, says the Ottawa Free Press.

Right—For he is enabled to count his profits on a large aggregate of sales—not compelled to secure them from a FEW SALES, for he would then be taxing a small number of customers with the entire support of his business.

A store that makes a net profit of $100 in a day from sales to three hundred customers, is sure to sell to each of those customers on a closer margin of profit than is the non-advertising store that is COMPELLED to make enough to cover a daily expense of $50 out of sales made to fifty customers.

If you are one of the 300 daily customers of the merchant who advertises, you are paying but one three hundredth part of his store profits on the days you buy; if you are one of the fifty daily customers of the non-advertising merchant, you are paying one fifth of his profits.

A NEW LAND BOOM.

Started by Provincial Government's Purchase.

Winnipeg, Sept. 22.—Joseph Bernier, M.P.P. for St. Boniface, admitted he held options on large pieces of property adjoining that recently purchased near Winnipeg by the provincial government for the new agricultural college. It is expected he will make a big profit out of his deals, as there is a great boom throughout the entire district. Much of the property is being held at double the price prevailing before the purchase by the government was announced. The roads throughout the whole district for several miles out of Winnipeg are swarming with rigs and automobiles of speculators and real estate men looking for a quick clean-up.

ACQUITTED OF BIGAMY.

Seven Years Without Knowing Wife Was Alive.

Colongue, Ont., Sept. 22.—A. Speirs, Port Hope, was tried on a charge of bigamy. In February, 1873, he married his first wife in New York, and deserted her, leaving seven children. Ten years ago he again married in Colongue.

Speirs was acquitted on the ground that he had lived seven years without knowing his first wife was still alive.

A CITY OF EXAMPLE

KINGSTON IN LIMELIGHT AT TEMPERANCE CONVENTION.

Good Templars Cautioned to Watch Refreshment Shops for Liquors Were Sold in Cordial and Chocolate Drops.

Special to the Whig.

Montreal, Sept. 22.—Kingston was held up as a city of example to the thirty-sixth annual convention of the Good Templars, last night. Rev. J. A. Smith, national grand chief temperance, cautioned refreshment shops to have an eye on refreshment shops that sold chocolate cordial and chocolate drops for many of them contained cups of brandy which was cultivating a taste for strong drink in the young. Such dealers should be prosecuted for selling liquor without a license as was done in Kingston, where the judge held that the law did not define the nature of the vessel, whether sugar or glass and fined each culprit.

DAILY MEMORANDUM

Stylish furs fall. Campbell's the noblest of them all. "His" Grand Opera House, 8:15 p.m. Grand meeting. Cooke's church, 9 p.m. Be sure and read Cromley's adv. tonight. Limestone Lodge No. 51, A.O.U.W. meets Thursday evening, 8 o'clock. Matinee for ladies only Grand Opera House, Friday, 2:30 p.m. Ask for "Bliss"—A Life for a Life. "Woman With a Gun." "The Duck Farm." Miss Henderson sings.

Yes; the Merchant Who Advertisises Can Afford to Sell for Less

No matter what the article is, unless it should be something whose selling price is as fixed as that of a postage stamp, the merchant who is an advertiser is sure to sell for less than the merchant who does not advertise, says the Ottawa Free Press.

Right—For he is enabled to count his profits on a large aggregate of sales—not compelled to secure them from a FEW SALES, for he would then be taxing a small number of customers with the entire support of his business.

A store that makes a net profit of $100 in a day from sales to three hundred customers, is sure to sell to each of those customers on a closer margin of profit than is the non-advertising store that is COMPELLED to make enough to cover a daily expense of $50 out of sales made to fifty customers.

If you are one of the 300 daily customers of the merchant who advertises, you are paying but one three hundredth part of his store profits on the days you buy; if you are one of the fifty daily customers of the non-advertising merchant, you are paying one fifth of his profits.

OCTOBER 10TH

Is Date For The Laurier Demonstration.

TO BE GREAT AFFAIR

BIGGEST EVER CARRIED OUT IN CHIEFTAIN'S HONOR.

To Signalize the Tour of the Canadian West—A Wealthy Woman Took Her Life in the Corona Hotel—Many Cases Were Dismissed.

Montreal, Sept. 22.—The demonstration to be held in this city, in honor of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, to signalize the tour of the Canadian west, has been fixed for October 10th at the Monument National. The plans of the promoters are to make it one of the greatest affairs this city has ever carried out in honor of the liberal chieftain.

At the coroner's inquiry into the death of a woman who hanged herself at the Corona hotel, it transpired that she was Mrs. Mary E. Mumford, wife of B. K. Mumford, Westminster hotel, Boston. She was an heir to property valued at $3,100, and the reason for her self-destruction is a mystery. The verdict was suicide.

Judge Bazin, this morning, dismissed thirty cases, in which action was taken by the Dominion Alliance against liquor license holders. The reason for the dismissal was the failure of witnesses of the alliance to appear. The judge issued warrants for the arrest of the witnesses. In giving his decision Judge Bazin declared that private associations should not engage in public prosecutions.

A QUADRUPLE MURDER.

Woman, Daughters and Young Son Slain.

Westchester, Pa., Sept. 22.—Search is being made by the police of all towns in this vicinity for a man who is suspected of murdering Mrs. John Saus, her two small daughters, and a young son at their home at Byers, Pa., twelve miles from here. The suspect formerly boarded at the Saus home, and it is believed robbery was the motive for the terrible deed, and that the "four victims" were killed in the charge of extortion. It is believed that the woman and her children had been crushed in as though by an axe or heavy club.

The bodies were discovered by the husband and father upon his return from work.

News From Westport.

Westport, Sept. 19.—C. J. Spengler, contractor, has the contract of building a dynamite factory at Sand Point, Ont. He left on Monday with a number of men to commence the work. Messrs. Charles W. Robinson, George McIntosh, Miss Adella F. McIntosh and Miss Mary McGregor, of Bloomington, Illinois, are spending a few weeks in town. Messrs. Lambert B. Garvin and Walter E. Whelan left on Wednesday for St. Michael's College, Toronto. The former was successful in passing his senior matriculation examinations. Clarence E. Saunders, seriously hurt by a kicking horse, is able to around again. Messrs. J. J. Lynette, L. McCann, R. Kane and D. Hecht were visitors in Montreal over Sunday. Miss Stella Russell has received a twenty-five dollar gold watch, one of the prizes awarded by the Recorder, in the recent contest.

DAILY MEMORANDUM

Stylish furs fall. Campbell's the noblest of them all. "His" Grand Opera House, 8:15 p.m. Grand meeting. Cooke's church, 9 p.m. Be sure and read Cromley's adv. tonight. Limestone Lodge No. 51, A.O.U.W. meets Thursday evening, 8 o'clock. Matinee for ladies only Grand Opera House, Friday, 2:30 p.m. Ask for "Bliss"—A Life for a Life. "Woman With a Gun." "The Duck Farm." Miss Henderson sings.

Yes; the Merchant Who Advertisises Can Afford to Sell for Less

No matter what the article is, unless it should be something whose selling price is as fixed as that of a postage stamp, the merchant who is an advertiser is sure to sell for less than the merchant who does not advertise, says the Ottawa Free Press.

Right—For he is enabled to count his profits on a large aggregate of sales—not compelled to secure them from a FEW SALES, for he would then be taxing a small number of customers with the entire support of his business.

A store that makes a net profit of $100 in a day from sales to three hundred customers, is sure to sell to each of those customers on a closer margin of profit than is the non-advertising store that is COMPELLED to make enough to cover a daily expense of $50 out of sales made to fifty customers.

If you are one of the 300 daily customers of the merchant who advertises, you are paying but one three hundredth part of his store profits on the days you buy; if you are one of the fifty daily customers of the non-advertising merchant, you are paying one fifth of his profits.

ATLANTA DOCTOR KILLED.

Patient Shot His Physician and Attempted Suicide.

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 22.—Driven desperate by chronic illness, which his physician had promised to cure, William M. Cox, yesterday, shot and killed Dr. J. Robert Sewell in his office and then sent a bullet into his own head.

Dr. Sewell was one of the best known physicians in the city. Dr. Cox was known in Austell, Ga. Dr. Sewell had just received his patient and was taking him to the operating room for treatment when the fatal shot was fired.

From evidence adduced at the coroner's inquest it would seem that the physician was shot down while his back was turned.

Cox was rushed to a hospital, where it is stated that he has a chance to recover.

Baby Dead in Arms of Mother.

Poughkeepsie, Sept. 22.—A pathetic sight in the day coach of a Central New England railroad passenger train which arrived yesterday, was a mother tenderly carrying in her arms the dead body of her two-year-old infant. On arrival here she walked through the streets to her home, where a physician, who had been summoned, pronounced that the baby had been dead for some time. The mother, Mrs. Louis Gelsen, believing the child was merely asleep, is almost distracted from grief.

Hunter Killed by Guide.

Hudson, Sept. 22.—William H. Vandecarr, Boston, was accidentally shot and killed, yesterday, by a guide with whom he was hunting. Vandecarr, twenty-seven years old, was camping with his sister and friends in Stockport, his former home. He went duck shooting on the Hudson river with Charles Moffit, in the same boat as a guide. Moffit had his gun raised to fire, when just as he pulled the trigger, Vandecarr sprang up and the charge entered his head.

SHE TOLD HER STORY

"TOO MANY MEN LOVED ME," SAID FLORENCE BURNS.

Florence Was Brought Before the Public Years Ago—She Lured a Man and Then Robbed Him.

New York, Sept. 22.—Florence Burns, the once beautiful defendant in a notorious murder case, was held in $3,000 bail in Jefferson Market court on the charge of extortion. It is believed that she and two men forced Charles W. Hurlburt, a young lawyer, to pay over to them $57 in cash and to give them an order on his savings bank for $500, after she had lured Hurlburt to her apartment.

"Please don't put me down as Florence Burns," the girl begged. "The name of Burns has been heard of enough in the papers. Let me be known as Florence Wildrick, for I am still the wife of a man named Wildrick." But her request was not granted. As Florence Burns she was arrested, and as Florence Burns—the same who was charged eight years ago with the murder of young Walter Brooks in the Glen Island Hotel—she will probably be tried in this case.

When she and Edward H. Brooks, her alleged accomplices were asked if they had anything to say they replied that because they did not have counsel they would request an adjournment of the case. This was granted and they were sent back to jail.

"Too many men loved me," Florence Burns explained. "Brooks wanted to marry me and became jealous of Hurlburt, who came to see me. All his trouble is between them only and I have no part in it. I saw no robbery and saw no money."

In the possession of Brooks was found the document whereby Hurlburt signed over $500 to "Mrs. Florence Wildrick" in exchange for clothing and accepted. Another hearing will be held.

DAILY MEMORANDUM

Stylish furs fall. Campbell's the noblest of them all. "His" Grand Opera House, 8:15 p.m. Grand meeting. Cooke's church, 9 p.m. Be sure and read Cromley's adv. tonight. Limestone Lodge No. 51, A.O.U.W. meets Thursday evening, 8 o'clock. Matinee for ladies only Grand Opera House, Friday, 2:30 p.m. Ask for "Bliss"—A Life for a Life. "Woman With a Gun." "The Duck Farm." Miss Henderson sings.

Yes; the Merchant Who Advertisises Can Afford to Sell for Less

No matter what the article is, unless it should be something whose selling price is as fixed as that of a postage stamp, the merchant who is an advertiser is sure to sell for less than the merchant who does not advertise, says the Ottawa Free Press.

Right—For he is enabled to count his profits on a large aggregate of sales—not compelled to secure them from a FEW SALES, for he would then be taxing a small number of customers with the entire support of his business.

A store that makes a net profit of $100 in a day from sales to three hundred customers, is sure to sell to each of those customers on a closer margin of profit than is the non-advertising store that is COMPELLED to make enough to cover a daily expense of $50 out of sales made to fifty customers.

If you are one of the 300 daily customers of the merchant who advertises, you are paying but one three hundredth part of his store profits on the days you buy; if you are one of the fifty daily customers of the non-advertising merchant, you are paying one fifth of his profits.

WEATHER PROBABILITIES.

Toronto, Ont., Sept. 22, 10 a.m.—Ottawa Valley and Upper St. Lawrence—Fine and cool. Light local frosts tonight. Friday a little higher temperature.

Sensational Values

A Complete Showing OF Smart Tailored Suits

Although our showing of New Fall Suits includes the most attractive models we have ever shown, yet we wish to draw your attention especially to those of moderate price.

These Garments

are tailored carefully, are made of excellent materials, and show the most attractive designing of the season.

LADIES' TAILORED SUITS

From $10 to $45.

AT STEACY'S

DEPARTING. SMITH—In Kingston, on Sept. 22nd. George Smith, 43 Front Street, died at 1:30 p.m. after a long illness. Burial at Cataract Cemetery.

ROBERT J. REID, The Leading Undertaker. Phone 877. 250 Princess Street.

JAMES REID, The Old Firm of Undertakers. 254 and 256 PRINCESS STREET, Phone 147 for Ambulance.

TAKE NOTICE. Just got in a lot of different kinds of furniture, especially in Dressers, at reasonable prices. TRICK, Phone 708.

Pickling Season

We have all kinds of Whole and Ground

SPICES

Malt, Older and White Wine

VINEGARS

GUARANTEED PURE.

Jas. Redden & Co.

IMPORTERS OF FINE GROCERIES.

Co-eds Talk Too Much.

St. Paul, Sept. 22.—Co-eds at the University of Minnesota talk too much so the removal of telephones from Alice Shevlin hall has been ordered. Where five telephones heretofore have been too small a number for the co-eds to tell their secrets to their sweethearts, relatives and friends, they now will have to struggle along with one and that one is to be a nickel in the slot machine.

Water Should be Boiled.

Brantford, Sept. 22.—On account of the prevalence of typhoid and the unfavorable analysis of the water, Medical Health Officer Pearson has advised the people to boil the water used for drinking purposes.

No Cause for Anger.

"See here! Did you tell Von Glayber I was the worst liar you ever met?" "Not much, old chap—I told him you were the best."—Detroit News.

James Stafford, aged eighty, died in Huron County. He was brought up in Lewis County and was a brother of William Stafford, of Lya.